6 MILLIONS NEEDED

City to Raise War Stamp Quota in Two Weeks.

JUNE 28 IS VICTORY DAY

State Campaign to Be Waged With School Districts as Unit—Entire Oregon Allotment Is $17,500,000.

Did you ever try to raise $6,000,000 in two weeks? This is the task which confronts the organization formed to absorb Portland's quota of war savings stamps on June 28.

It required long and careful planning to make a successful drive for such an immense sum. The money is not raised spontaneously, but rather through a series of small contributions.

Every Section to Be Visited.—The territory must be divided into sections, the work being done by officers in charge of each sector, with companies of solicitors and captains.

Before the big day, as many pledges of large amounts must be obtained as possible. There must be a campaign of promotion through the written and spoken word.

Workers Will Number 15,000.—Such is the machinery which is now being built for the drive to pledge Oregon's quota of $17,500,000 of the $2,000,000,000 of war savings stamps.

Protests against the 25 per cent freight rate increase, effective June 25, were placed yesterday with the Portland district freight traffic committee.

Both declared at fault.—Howe contested divorce suit dismissed by court.

Many fines imposed.—Municipal Judge Rossman has busy day with speeders.

thereafter he fell into the hands of a family named Brittan, who treated him as a son, he says, and with whom he remained until a few years ago.

Italy asks for bread.—The letter has been referred to Dr. George Parrish, City Health Officer, and an effort will be made to trace available records which may throw some light on who the boy's mother is and where she can be found.

ITALY ASKS FOR BREAD

NATION FAITHFUL BUT IN NEED, SAYS MADAME ANGELINI.—Visitor Makes Touching Appeal for Country in Address to Business College Students.

Addressing the students of the Behnke-Walker Business College yesterday, Madame Arabella Angelini, a visitor from Italy, whose husband is an officer in the Italian army, made a touching plea for aid to Italy—aid in money, clothing, etc.—which can be sent to the church house of the First Presbyterian.

"If Italy had obeyed the wishes of the triple alliance—that of Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy—at the outbreak of the war, the nations would have sent its troops to attack the French on the latter's southern front.

"Italy is holding her frontier with 4,000,000 soldiers. Clothing, especially for the winter, is in great demand. It is a poor nation, with no coal, and much of her food has to be imported.

RAIL RATE IS PROTESTED.—Producers Declare 25 Per Cent Increase Is Almost Prohibitive and Will Greatly Curtail Shipments.
