INCREASE IN MILK PRICE IS PROBABLE

Dairymen Notify Creameries of 162-3 Per Cent Rise, to Go Into Effect June 20.

WINTER PRICE TO BE HIGH

Establishment of Milk Depots in Various Sections, With Consumer Making Own Delivery, Impracticable.

Increased prices for milk and cream to the consumers will probably follow the increase of the dairy commodities from the producers to the distributors The Oregon Dairymen's League, through its president, Alma D. Katz announced Thursday that the price of milk would be increased 16 2-3 per cent beginning June 20. This organization represents farmers supplying about 40 per cent of the milk used by Portland creameries. It has not yet been learned if other producers will follow the lead of the league and in-crease prices, but the general belief among the dairymen is that general increases will be the rule.

Distributors Make No Profit. The distributors have not yet de-termined how the increased price will affect the present price of milk to con-sumers, but plan an early meeting to discuss this situation. The present price of milk, they say, is barely pay-ing the expenses and the majority feel that any increase of the cost of milk from the producer will naturally re-

The city milk commission is now working to ascertain the cost of producing milk, handling it and delivering it to the consumer, with a view of recommending a definite with a view of recommending and recommending a view of view o recommending a definite price to pre-vail at all times,

This was an error, Mr. Katz states; the distributors' quoted price for plain cream is 60 cents a quart, whipped cream 80 cents a quart. In his statement, Mr. Katz quoted the plain cream price. In addition to this, according to Mr. Katz, the creamerymen receive the price of 50 cents a quart for plain cream in Fortland and 50 cents a quart for whipped cream, but they sell a great deal of cream in bulk, for which they receive 30 cents a pound butterfat. The cost of milk from producer to consumer beginning June 20 will in-crease from $3 to $3.50 a hundred pounds and cream from 60 to 70 cents

Perjury in the filling out of his questionnaire is charged against J. W. Den-ton, arrested yesterday by police of-ficers as he was apparently at the point of sailing for San Diego, Cal.

It is alleged against Denton that he posed as having a wife and two children dependent in him. The information which led to his arrest was given into hands of Federal officials by the woman who avers that Denton obliged her to now as his wife. She said the her to pose as his wife. She said the man had no more use for her after he had been placed in class 4 of the draft. The plan of establishing milk depots in various sections of the city and allowing the milk users to make their own deliveries is not looked upon with favor by Mr. Brewster. Such a plan, he states, will not result in any saving in the cost of handling milk, because the grocery stores are now handling milk and the people as a rule are not inclined to secure their milk from the various sicres, and allowing the delivery of all milk could be worked out satisfactorily, such a plan would not be successful, he added, and such a plan would hardly be practicable. In his original announcement of the increase of prices, published in The Oregonian Friday, Mr. Katz made an error in the cost and selling price of cream. His statement was to the effect that the distributors were paying 60 cents a pound butterfat for sweet cream and selling it to the ultimate consumer at approximately $1.50 a pound butterfat.

What Portland women really want to show their patriotism? Here is a test suggested by the Secretary of Labor: Go out on a farm and help some farmer's wife with her canning and housework during the busy days. It is a real test. Some good women have done it. Will others follow their lead? Don't go in high-heeled shoes and crepe de chine gowns.
