SOUTHERN PACIFIC BALKS

Regional Director Alshon Asks Construction Postponement Because of War, When Southern Pacific Lodges Protest.

SALEM, Or., June 20.—(Special).—The Public Service Commission today received word from R. H. Safety at Home Decried.—"We are enclosing a clipping from the Oregonian of today, one of the most influential and widely circulated papers in the state, which will give you some idea of the attitude of the citizens of Oregon relative to the conservation of the greatest resource which this or any other state possesses, namely, its citizenship," wrote Mr. Miller.

Programme Is Curtailed.—"In conjunction with the State Highway Commission we had planned the elimination of a considerable number of such dangerous crossings this year, particularly on hard-surfaced roads, but owing to the necessity for the conservation of man, power, materials and funds for war purposes, we now find ourselves unable to carry this programme out in full."

LA FOLLETTE HIS OPPONENT

Republican Candidate Comes Out Flatfooted Against Non-Partisan League, Which He Classes With the I. W. W.

ELLENSBURG, Wash., June 19.—(Special).—On a platform of Americanism, Austin Mires, member of the Washington constitutional convention in 1887, ex-president of the State Bar Association and first Mayor of Ellensburg, tonight agreed to make the race for the Republican nomination for Congress, in opposition to William LaFollette, present incumbent. The decision was made at a Kittitas County Republican dinner tonight, with over 100 present from all parts of the county and with several prominent Republicans present from Yakima County.

Mr. Mires comes out flatfootedly in opposition to the I. W. W. and the Non-partisan League, branding both as un-American and treasonable in doctrine.

"I am against the I. W. W., the Bolsheviki, the Non-partisan League and the profiteer. All are playing into the hands of our country's enemies," said Mr. Mires.

The disciples of Haywood and I. W. W.-ism and the disciples of Townley McMinville, C. C. C. and the Non-partisan League, both male and female, are among us and have votes and I understand some of them seek to represent you in Congress.

Teachings Are Sedition.—"Be it known that a card in the I. W. W. and the league have equal standing. In spirit they are one and the same. Now Debs has joined them. Thus the teaching of their practice and thought is un-American and seditious."

"If the votes of such people prevail in this district I will never go to Congress. I don't want their votes, because I have no desire to represent any but patriotic Americans."

Mr. Mires agreed to make the race after several prominent men from Yakima and Kittitas counties had made talks declaring him the most eligible man in the district for the nomination. In opening his speech agreeing to make the race, Mr. Mires said:

"In becoming a candidate for the nomination for Congress I now declare I know and recognize but one issue, war and its vigorous prosecution to the end. And the platform upon which I stand has one plank only—patriotism."

Political Parties Necessary.—"In times of peace the citizens of free government have different ideas as to the policies to be pursued, policies of economic, moral and political activities. I don't want their votes, because I have no desire to represent any but patriotic Americans."
