

BILL HENDY, CLOWN PRINCE, SHATTERED

Liberty Temple Effigies Are Overthrown With Fitting Public Ceremonies.

VARIED PROGRAMME HELD

Band Concert, Community Singing and Patriotic Addresses Speed Personification of Prussian Tyranny to Doom.

Three merry fiends from the pit danced about the prostrate figures of Kaiser Bill, Hindy and the Clown Prince last night at Liberty Temple...

Three merry fiends from the pit danced about the prostrate figures of Kaiser Bill, Hindy and the Clown Prince last night at Liberty Temple...

The programme was prepared by George W. Caldwell, chairman of the speakers' bureau. There were patriotic tunes by the Supple & Bullin band...

"We forget, friends," said Mr. Sweet, bidding his audience be of high faith in victory...

"The words I, and me, and mine," he charged, speaking of the war stamp issue, "are no longer current. It is 'mine.' Men and women, it is our bounden duty to lay our dollars down beside the men who are willing to lay their lives down for us!"

Sacrifice Spirit Exemplified. A little story of the western front served to illustrate the fiery plea for patriotic effort that ran through Mr. Whitmore's address...

"Do you catch that?" asked the speaker "that is the spirit of the soldier on the western front. He thinks about the other fellow first—how he can help him carry on!"

Oregon Apple Boosted. An unusual meeting, which featured the Oregon apple, took place last night at Liberty Temple...

"Nothing could have pleased them more," recalled Mr. Sweet, "if you all might have seen those boys as they reached for the big apples from back home. When I returned to Denver I told the folks that they must send some on their own account, lest the fame of the Oregon apple utterly supersede that of the Colorado product."

Stamp Drive to Close. (Continued From First Page.) able to invest must invest in war savings stamps.

"The call is from the Government, and Portland must answer it as ringing as she answered the liberty loan appeals. There must be no argument among men of means. The day is late, and nothing save cash and pledges talk for the loyalist."

"Progress of the campaign has demonstrated that it is next to impossible to raise the city's quota in the small amounts, many of which represent actual sacrifice. It is now the duty, as it always was, for those who can invest the maximum amount to do so. Who of those would willingly wait for confiscation, which is the right of the Government in its peril?"

"Don't argue—aid! The men who will ask you to pledge are working for you. It is your war as well as theirs. They are entitled to your instant cooperation. Come through!"

Last Day for Limits. Today is the last day on which memberships to the "Limit Club" may be purchased for $25, payable in the first and in six additional installments...

Deschutes County Leads. Deschutes County is first in announcing complete attainment of its quota—a trick that 15 districts turned, alone and unaided, with several thousand dollars to spare. Seven additional districts are yet to be heard from, and will further swell the over-subscription.

Clatsop County is second to achieve success, and predicts the pledging of more than $50,000. Its quota was $37,600. Hammond and Knappa, each with quotas of $2500, have pledged $7000 and $12,000, respectively, while Blind Slough has belied its name by several thousand in over-subscription.

Portland roused yesterday to the necessity for something other than words. All day collectors telephoned headquarters of growing success, while Liberty Temple was taxed to care for the throngs that made cash purchases at the war stamp wicket. An estimate last night placed the day's cash receipts at the temple beyond $30,000.

Late yesterday afternoon the "Limit Club" membership, with many unreported, had attained $285, which translated in cash and pledges to $285,000. Like a boulder, slow in starting, the drive is gathering impetus as it goes, and observers declare that it will be irresistible henceforth.

Employees of Olds, Wortman & King have pledged $20,000. The booth in Lead & Tilton, East, in charge of Mrs. W. C. Stone, sold $10,000 in cash and $2000 in pledges in a single day. The first 100 per cent industrial plant to report is that of Neustadter Bros., where 385 employees, of whom 95 per cent are girls, have pledged and own total of $12,375, or an average of $20.75.

Here's an odd story of timely re-remembrance: An East Side resident, who shall be nameless, was wroth at the FINAL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN COLONELS AND CAPTAINS.

The war savings drive has not been tuned high enough. Pledges are not large enough. We are not as yet over the top. At the 12 o'clock meeting Thursday all colonels and captains present were instructed to make a careful survey of the pledges in each precinct and make a canvass where it appeared the pledges were too small.

The best results can be secured by the captain of the precinct visiting the maker of the pledge himself and asserting frankly but courteously that the pro rata for each man, woman and child is $20 and endeavor to raise the pledge. Make it clear that no one is giving anything; that money invested is money saved.

Sam is the safest and best banker and pays a higher rate of interest than any bank. The more a person takes the more he saves. In case of need he can get his money any time with interest.

Results since Thursday noon are much better than previously, pledges being at least one-half higher than those taken the first two days. Turn your report to the Temple unless instructed by the colonel to deliver it elsewhere. By united effort, we can be "over the top" Saturday night.

Fellow workers, do your best. FRANK MCCRILLIS, General Commanding Portland Forces.

yellow card, refused to accept it, and told the solicitors that war savings stamps were not worth the paper they were printed on.

During the night he thought it over, and yesterday morning visited a notary public, before whom he made affidavit that he had bought liberty bonds and war savings stamps and was anxious to buy more. Forwarding this apology, he telephoned Liberty Temple that he awaited another solicitor. The solicitor refused to return. A half hour later the penitent came to the temple and made amends.

City Chairman Frank McCrillis solved a grocer's dilemma and added two memberships to the "Limit Club" at one stroke. The grocer wanted to buy $20 worth, but was loth to lose the interest on his savings account, which was due on Tuesday.

"That's easy," advised Mr. McCrillis. "Sign up for two 'Limit Club' memberships and draw the money on Tuesday."

With a comfortable savings bank balance of $6000, the grocer complied. Stamps Will Cost More. Warning is issued that those who are pledged to buy stamps in the month of June must do so today and must have them in their possession tonight, as the stamps will advance in cost one cent each beginning Monday.

The following table is compiled from returns received from various industrial plants of the city, showing war savings pledges by employees:

CLATSOP COUNTY REPORT GOOD

Several County Districts Report Sales in Excess of Quota. ASTORIA, Or., June 28.—(Special.)—This was the final day in the War Savings Stamp campaign and large amounts of stamps were either signed for or purchased during the day and at meetings held in the several schoolhouses this evening.

Deschutes County Over Its Quota. BEND, Or., June 28.—(Special.)—With reports from 15 of the 22 War Savings Stamps districts in Deschutes county today, R. E. Sawyer announced that the county had subscribed more than its quota of $100,000, with the other seven precincts to be heard from. Eight men and one firm in the city took the limit, subscribing to $1000 of the stamps.

Dufur Holds Justification Meeting. DUFUR, Or., June 28.—(Special.)—School District No. 29, Dufur, reached its quota in the War Savings Stamp drive today. This evening a meeting of ratification and justification was held in the assembly hall of the Dufur High School.
