OREGON CITY, Or., July 10.—(Special.)—With both daily attendance and advance sale of season tickets eclipsing those of past seasons, the 25th annual assembly of the big Chautauqua, which opened yesterday, bids fair to be the greatest ever experienced. Truly the programmes offered the patron of the great meet are better than ever, for they carry with them the new spirit of patriotic endeavor. Whether it be lecture or musician, the great theme of win-the-war is entwined with their subject, and the great host of robbing topic before the civilized world today is portrayed in graphic manner.
Without reservation, the lecture this afternoon by Dr. A. D. Carpenter, went on record as being the most concise, complete and interesting account of scientific phenomena ever presented at Chautauqua audience. Dr. Carpenter has the faculty of holding his listeners in the firm grip of his oratory. With such a deep and marvelous subject as astronomy as an open book to him, he is able to cast the spell of the infinitude of the universe over his audience, and especially at this time, when the whole world paused in their daily walks of life to watch the solar eclipse of last month, does a lecture such as Dr. Carpenter presents appeal to the laity.

Many Phenomena Explained.

In non-technical terms he described today the why and the wherefore of many phenomena. Mixed with his lecture, ordinarily a discourse of interest only to the learned, the speaker kept up a running fire of humor, each application, however, bringing out a point he wished to discuss. Illustrating his lecture, he had with him astronomical apparatus which clearly indicated the abstruse points uncertain in the minds of the ordinary observer.
On the afternoon programme with Dr. Carpenter appeared the Monona Vienna's Royal Hawaiian Quartette, in vocal and native costume. The quartet The troupe, three men and a girl, are interpreters of island music of rare talent, and their numbers were heartily received.

In the evening, one of the best crowd-getters of the season was the appearance of Dr. W. A. Evans, who spoke on "What America Means to Me." Dr. Evans is the nephew of Lloyd George, and is constantly in close touch with foreign diplomatic situations. His appeal to the people of America to bend every effort toward a united support of the allied armies was an inspiring address.

Yankee Soldier High Type.

In masterful oratory he described war conditions as they are in England and on the continent, and drew graphic comparisons between the situation faced by America and the Allies. He gave the Americans and the American Army great credit for their war-time activity and for their firm stand for justice and liberty on the battle front.
The Yankee soldier to Dr. Evans is one of the highest types in the trenches, and when the big offensive of the allied armies commences, he looks for the Americans to acquit themselves with glory. A good evening crowd was out to hear Dr. Evans, many coming from Portland and the nearby places for the lecture.

The Mother Goose Chautauqua, in the forenoon, and a great appeal to the many kiddies at the park, and Miss Caroline Silverthorn, in charge of this work, got well acquainted with the happy youngsters. More than ever, Gladstone Park is the mecca for the vacationist, and the families with children are taking advantage of the opportunity for an outing combined with the attractions of the assembly.
The forum hour, each morning at 11 o'clock, promises to be one of the well-attended features, and this morning was under the direction of Mrs. Frances Swope, state president of the W. C.
T. U.

DELIVERY RULES OUT

CARRY PARCELS HOME WHERE POSSIBLE, IS REQUEST.

Next Monday and Continuing at Least Until War Ends, There'll Be Only One Delivery Daily in Portland.

Beginning next Monday and continuing until the war ends, patrons of Portland's stores will be asked to be satisfied with one delivery a day.
This request has been made by the War Industries Board and the Oregon State Council of Defense as an economical measure in saving man and mechanical power. In a bulletin issued yesterday the State Council of Defense said:

All thoughtful people, who are worthy of American citizenship, will co-operate with the Oregon State Council of Defense and the merchants of Portland, in seeing that this important measure is carried out. People should carry packages home whenever possible, but if the purchase is bulky, they should be patient, for one delivery a day merely means that purchases anticipated their needs, request no special deliveries, except for medicinal or sick-room requirements and conform to the rules of the War Industries Board and the Oregon State Council of Defense. The people of Portland may be of material assistance to the State Council of Defense by reporting any merchant who does not live up to the rules.

Patrons of stores are requested to select only what they want and thus avoid the necessity of returning articles for credit or exchange; in other words, as much as possible, all are requested to make their purchase, carry it home and keep it, and by so doing they will save unnecessary work, will perform a patriotic duty and will assist in eliminating waste.

The following rules will govern the one-delivery-a-day plan:
1. No free special deliveries, except for medicinal and sick-room requirements, transient hotel trade, stations and docks, will special deliveries, except as herein noted, shall be charged to the purchaser at pre-valuing messenger rates.
2. Not more than one delivery per route per day, or in any part of the city, except laundry, hotel and transient trade, also cases requiring the pick-up of articles and their subsequent delivery in the same territory; also excepting one or more deliveries required to make a single purchase, and also excepting such articles which cannot be handled by the regular delivery systems.
3. The return of merchandise for credit or exchange be limited to three days from date of delivery.
4. That as much as possible, purchasers be requested to pay for and carry away merchandise purchased.
5. That purchasers be requested to anticipate their future needs.

RAY TEMPLETON BURIED

TEXT FUNERAL SERMON MARKED PASSAGE IN LITTLE TESTAMENT.

Body of Brownsville Aviator Brought Back to Oregon and Laid to Rest Near Old Home Farm.

BROWNVILLE, Or., July 10.—(Special.)—Impressive funeral services were held Sunday for Lieutenant Raymond

Lieutenant Raymond Templeton.

Templeton, Brownsville boy who, after making an instructor record as an aviator and an instructor in the aeroplane service, fell to his death June 28 at Mount Clemens, Mich. The body of the fallen flyer was brought here by Leighton Templeton, of Prosser, a brother of Raymond, who was at the Oak Grove Cemtery, near the old home farm, where Raymond was born and raised and near the schoolhouse where he received his education.
The funeral service was preached by Rev. McClain Davis, of the Presbyterian Church, of which Mr. Templeton was a member. The service was given military impressiveness by the presence of the Lebanon Home Guard.
The text was, in a way, one of the fallen flyer's own choosing, for it was one of the passages which Mr. Templeton had marked and underlined in a little Testament which he carried with him at all times.
"Fear not them that kill the body," read the preacher, and then letters from the Eastern military camps were read showing that in the prosecution of his duty Lieutenant Templeton was without fear for himself and utterly unselfish.

CANNING WORK EXPLAINED

Ad Club Hears Talk by Mrs. Alice Beach at Luncheon.

Some of the more important phases of the work of the National League for Women's Service were told in a brief talk by Mrs. Alice Benson Beach at the Ad Club luncheon at the Hotel Benson yesterday noon. How the workers have canned 3000 quarts of cherries in the last four weeks and are still at it and how they are collecting old kid gloves and making them over for the aviators was explained.

About 40 women were in attendance at the last ladies' day before the vacation season. Prizes ranging from a ten-pound sack of barley flour to a collection of toilet accessories were distributed to them under the direction of A. G. Clark, of the home industries department of the Chamber of Commerce.
Advertising from the professional man's point of view was discussed briefly by Dr. John H. Boyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church; John H.
Stevenson, ex-Municipal Judge, and Dr.
William House. The danger of over-playing a man's personality in advertising was the point stressed by all three speakers.

The American Ladies' Orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. Zulma Brown, furnished music for the occasion.

BLASTS DAMAGE DWELLING

Dynamite Exploded in Home of Railway Official at Butte, Mont.

BUTTE, Mont., July 10.—Two charges of dynamite, exploded shortly after o'clock this morning, partly wrecked the home of Mr. Barrett, assistant general superintendent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, on Caledonia street. No one was injured.
An interval of half a minute elapsed between the blasts. A downstairs room usually occupied by the maid, who was not in the house last night, was wrecked, and the walls of the house damaged. The windows of the residence and of homes in the vicinity were shattered. The family were sleeping on the second floor at a point farthest away from the explosion when it occurred. Mr. Barrett is out of the city.

Montana Miners Rescued.

BUTTE, Mont., July 10.—All men entombled yesterday morning in the Jackknife or Redemption mine, of the Phillipsburg district, were rescued today at 2:30 P. M., none the worse for their experience.

STORES CLOSE AT 9

Oregon Druggists Make Radical Change in Hours.

CONSERVATION IS PURPOSE

Establishment of Pharmacy Corps in Army Supported; Shortage of Clarks Leads to Suggestion of Women Taking Up Work.

Druggists, who have always been noted as night owls, have decided that hereafter they will quit rolling pills and dispensing hair tonic and soda water by 9 o'clock every night, except Saturdays, when they will not lock up before 10. This is the substance of a resolution adopted by the Oregon State Pharmaceutical Association at the Multnomah Hotel yesterday.
The resolution, which was introduced by Ross M. Plummer, reads: In the interests of conservation of manpower as well as fuel and light, it is advisable for druggists to close earlier in the evening, as well as at least part of every Sunday. The president of this association is hereby directed to call upon all Oregon druggists to adopt closing hours not later than 9 P. M. on week nights and 10 P. M. on Saturdays, with one-fifth of their usual hours on Sundays during the months between October and April, inclusive.

H. F. Brandon Elected President.

The annual election resulted: H. F.
Brandon, Portland, president; J. C.
Perry, Salem, first vice-president; E. A.
Robinson, Portland, second vice-president; N. F. Reed, Bend, third vice-president; A. W. Allen, Portland, secretary; E. F. Jones, Portland, treasurer.
The retiring president is W. Hal Mc-Nail. The new officers were elected from the old list with the exception of Mr. Reed.

Today the druggists will picnic at the Oaks and every store in the city will send its representatives to the gala event. Most of the stores will close for the afternoon. There will all kinds of contests, speeches by Mayor Baker, W. P. Woodward, W. K. Newell, of the Food Administration, and A. G.
Clarke, of the Home Industries League.
Special cars and autos will transport the druggists to the Oaks and the convention badge will admit all members to the park.

Limited Deliveries Approved.

The proposal of the National Council of Defense that deliveries be limited to one per day except in case of necessity occasioned by illness was approved by the association.

Other measures relating to the war situation was the elimination of fees for membership for the members of the association who are in the Army and Navy. The State Board of Pharmacists has adopted similar rulings.

All druggists united in urging the support of the Edmonds bill, now in the House of Representatives, which provides for the establishment of a pharmacy corps in the Army. This corps is an important part of the French army and other European armies. It is said that since pharmacists require years of special training for qualified service, their knowledge should be used in the work in which they are skilled. Pharmacists may rise no higher than sergeants in the Army at present. The Edmonds bill, if passed, will allow them to be raised to the rank of commissioned officers.
At present they are being used in branches of the service other than the medical department.

Pharmaceutical Combine Indorsed.

Resolutions indorsing the combination of the 10 pharmaceutical associations in this country into a common organization to work for the advancement of the profession were adopted yesterday.

Milton A. Miller, internal revenue collector, told the association that they will not have to pay an internal revenue tax on medicine containing alcoh-hol. Lester Leland, John M. A. Laue, J. W. Donnelly and M. A. Lyons were appointed as a committee to co-operate with the war service committee of the National Retail Druggists' Association.

The shortage of drug clerks was emphasized at the morning session, and it was suggested that women might well take up the pharmaceutical courses to prepare themselves for this work.
