at the Liberty Temple in the war kitchen. Mrs. H. K. Davis will explain and demonstrate the use of cottage cheese. Suggestions will also be given on menus for Sunday night suppers. Mrs. H. K. Davis is representing the United States Department of Agriculture. The lecture is free and all interested are invited to attend.

WAR TOPIC OF ADDRESS

Dr. Harry Huntington Powers, of Boston, will lecture this evening in Lincoln High School auditorium on "Austria and Italy, the Problem of the Adriatic." This lecture is a part of the series on the war given by the University of Oregon Summer school. The address is open to the public.

INJURED FOLK DOING NICOLL

Mrs. S. M. Blowers, 780 Irving street, and her guest, Mrs. C. A. Benbow, of Los Angeles, Cal., who were severely injured Sunday in an auto accident near Fairview on the Columbia Highway, are reported as doing nicely at the St. Vincent's Hospital, where they were taken for treatment.

WATER SUPPLY SUFFICIENT

Hikers who tramp up the Larch Mountain trail need not fear that the water in the spring at the top of the mountain is short. The water is abundant and is being pumped to the Nelson, logging engineer, says that, contrary to former reports, there is a good supply of water there.

WORKMAN AT FOUNDRY HURT

Joe Pitti, 42 years old, 347 East Eighth street, lost two fingers of his right hand yesterday when a casting fell on him at the Smith and Watson foundry. He received first aid at Good Samaritan Hospital.

W. W. STEIGER ARRIVES SAFELY

Mrs. A. Steiger yesterday received word that her son, Franklin W. Steiger, who was stationed at Camp Devens, Mass., has gone to France and arrived safely overseas on July 17.

AMUSEMENTS

THE Americans are achieving great victories in France. Are you conserving all the food possible in order that you may keep our soldiers supplied with food—the ammunition of fighters? You cannot preserve foods without jars and they are going to be very scarce soon—owing to the enormous demand for them. We vacuum pack Monopole Steel Cut Coffee, the very best coffee in Portland, in Economy quart fruit jars, 15 oz. net, only one ounce less than a pound and sell it for 40c a jar. The coffee cannot be excelled for flavor and quality and you get the Economy quart fruit jar to use for preserving. Have you tried it? Roasted and packed by the house of Monopole, Wadhams & Kerr Bros.—Adv.

The Kuppenheimer House in Portland. MORRISON AT FOURTH

Any Oregon housewife who wants to put up jelly or preserves with the material which nature scatters so freely in the woods and meadows of the state can save domestic fruits, which she would otherwise use for her conserving operations.

The Oregonian has received requests for recipes for making the preserves from the sweet pods of the Oregon sweet briar. The recipe requested is one in which apples are mixed with the sweet briar pods. If anyone has this recipe, readers of the Oregonian will appreciate seeing it in the columns of the paper.

SHIPPERS TO BE AIDED

WESTERN FREIGHT TRAFFIC COMMITTEE TO BE REORGANIZED.

Best Interests of Three Regional Districts in the West to Be Served by New Plan.

With a view to working out freight rates on a basis of consideration for shippers that never has been known before, the traffic committees of the Railroad Administration soon are to be composed of shippers as well as traffic men.

The Western Freight Traffic committee that has jurisdiction over rates of the trans-Mississippi region, which recently was subdivided into three regions, is to be abolished soon. A new committee is to replace the one now existing, according to information being discussed in Portland, and will be made up of three traffic men, one representing each of the three regions, and two shippers, or men representative of the shippers and well informed on traffic questions.

In each of the three regional districts of the West there will be one or two shippers or their representatives added to the membership of the regional traffic committees and likewise to the district committees. It will be the aim of the Railroad Administration in forming these new committees, or in designating individuals to serve upon them, to select representatives who will be satisfactory to the diverse interests of different communities with which the committee has to deal.

This will involve no more difficult problems, perhaps, than have been presented in forming the main stems of the railroad organization that is now practically completed and extends to all sections of the United States.

What Are the Six-Year Molars?

WHEN the child is about six years of age the first permanent molars appear. There are four of them—two in the upper jaw and two in the lower. They come in after all the temporary teeth have taken their place, and appear just back of the last temporary molar on each side and in each jaw.

They are very often mistaken for temporary teeth, and folks imagine that any teeth coming in at that age must necessarily be temporary teeth. If anything goes wrong with them they let it go, thinking they will soon be replaced by Nature.

If any of the six-year molars are allowed to be lost by decay, it is a loss which cannot be replaced. Nothing can ever be done in the future which will permanently replace the lost molar after it has been removed.

These four permanent molars do most of the masticating for a period of five years. They prep the jaws apart while other teeth mature and take their several places in the jaw. Their loss is not only a disadvantage, but is avoided. No other teeth are so necessary and important as the first permanent or six-year molars.
