

NORMAN ROSS TO ENTER BIG SWIM

Holder of Many World's Records Will Try 220-Yard Event in New York.

OLYMPIC CLUB WILL PAY

Aviation Lieutenant to Have Hawaiian Duke and Perry McGillivray for Competitors in Gotham Plunge.

BY JAMES J. RICHARDSON.

Lieutenant Norman Ross, swimmer extraordinary and holder of many world's records, is going to represent the Olympic Club of San Francisco in the 220-yard event for the world's record, which exhibition will be staged in New York.

Ross, who recently attained his commission in the flying branch of the aviation service, wired Louis McLane, chairman of the Olympic Club swimming committee, asking if the Winged-D club would stand $100 to help defray his expenses for a trip to the big city to swim against Duke Kahanamoku and Perry McGillivray. McLane lost no time in wiring Ross that everything was "jake" and to make arrangements to enter the big event.

With Ross, "Duke" and McGillivray in the tank for this event Gotham followers of aquatic sport are in for a rare treat. All three have been chosen by their followers as being the greatest aggregation of swimmers that ever lived.

The 220-yard event will be a little longer for the Duke. He does his best work in the short sprints, but will give Ross and McGillivray a tussle in the quarter-mile event. Ross recently set the world's record for 500 yards by nine seconds when he swam the distance at Chicago in 5:53 3-5, surpassing Hatfield's (England) 6:02 4-10. While traveling this distance, Ross smashed the 200, 400 and 440.

The Duke's 50 and 100 are his best. They are the world's marks and others have been shooting at them for some time without equaling them. He has done the 50 in 23 seconds and the 100 in 52. McGillivray has done the 100 in 54.

But when this trio hooks up in the 220 at New York in the very near future there is going to be a tussle that will be well worth traveling miles to witness. Ross has never defeated the Duke, but there is always a "first time." It is doubtful if Ross will be in Portland to participate in the Willamette River marathon to be staged next Saturday.

Charlie Hollocher, Chicago Cub's star shortstop and former Portland Beaver, will soon be seen in action on the Pacific Coast again. Charlie has decided that, with the closing of the major league season, he will enlist in the submarine service and will be stationed at the submarine base at San Pedro, where he will have a chance to play ball when not securing the Pacific Ocean for an enemy sub.

Miss Gerard Outton, of Alameda, Cal., holder of the Pacific Coast plunge for distance record, hung up a new mark for herself at Santa Cruz the other day when she floated 46 feet 8 inches. Just a few minutes later her record went glimmering when Elise Landers, of San Francisco, plunged 47 feet 5 inches. That is a mark some of our winged mermaids might try to duplicate.

The old saying that it's never too late to do big things holds good with young Peter Jackson, the veteran colored boxer. Peter is above the 40 mark and had been acting as trainer of the Salt Lake baseball team until the Pacific Coast League disbanded. Last week he enlisted in the Navy and is on his way to battle the Kaiser any old way Bill wants to meet him.

NEW MARK IS HUNG UP

LU PRINCETON BREAKS WORLD'S RECORD FOR STALLION.

Time for Two-Heat Race Is 2:02 1/2 and 2:02 1/4—Kelly Deforest Easily Wins the 2:09 Trot.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 5.—Lu Princeton, driven by Walter Cox, today established a new world's record for a stallion by trotting miles in 2:02 1/2 and 2:02 1/4 in the 3:05 event, the feature of the opening day of the second Grand Circuit meeting of the year at North Randall track.

The previous record was set by Peter Volo in 1915, when he trotted a two-heat race in 2:02 1/2 and 2:02 1/4. Lu Princeton was an odds-on favorite and rewarded his backers by easily winning the race in straight heats. Royal Mack had no trouble in finishing second.

The 2:09 trot fell to the favorite, Kelly Deforest, which captured the race after succumbing to General Yorke, a rank outsider, after a thrilling struggle in the first heat. Yorke's time in the first heat, 2:06 1/4, was the best.

The news two-year-old trot proved easy for the entry from Ben White's stable, Brustloff and Princess Etawah, which finished first and second, respectively, in both heats. The pair was a strong choice. The best time was 2:19 1/2.

A fourth favorite won when Walters II captured the 2:05 pace from the largest field of the day. His time was 2:05 1/4 in the first heat.

BASEBALL PLAYERS SCURRY TO YARDS

Many Former Pacific Coast Stars Flock to Puget Sound League.

THREE GO FROM PORTLAND

Tom Seaton, Jerry Downs, Former San Francisco Seals, Among Latest Recruits to Join Sound Shipbuilders.

The Puget Sound Shipbuilders' League is booming along in great style and new players whose names are well known throughout the baseball world are signed daily by the various teams in the league. There are six teams in the league and they play every Sunday.

Jerry Downs, former infielder and manager of the San Francisco Seals has joined the Patterson-McDonald team and will play his first game next Sunday. Downs managed the Seals for a couple of seasons, but became disgruntled this year and quit the team ending up the season with the Los Angeles club.

The manager of the Todd team is busy lining up players and as enough had not arrived for yesterday's game against the Dutchie, he obtained permission from the officials at Camp Lewis to use Reuther, Riggs, Kibble and Altman of his team. Reuther has cast off the nickname of "Dutch" and is now known as "Scotty." Jack Kibble is well known to the Portland fans, having laid down the gauntlet to the Portland Buckaroos until he was drafted.

Harry Gardner, the Sacramento pitcher whom Gus Fisher was trying to line up for the Foundation team here last month, is with the Sloan yard and is expected to be a winner this season.

Herman Pillett, who has been pitching for the Standifer team of the Columbia-Willamette Shipbuilders' League, has left that club and is now with Billy Spear's Foundation outfit in Tacoma. Spear signed Wilson, the big outfielder just back from the Chicago White Sox, Saturday, and with the rest of the Tacoma Tigers who are with the Tacoma Foundation, Bill should put up a strong front in the Puget Sound League.

Eddie Bogart, who played with and managed the Supple-Ballin team of the first half of the Columbia-Willamette Shipbuilders' League season and afterwards joined a Pacific Coast inter-league club, is playing with the Todd team of Seattle. He is holding down his regular position at shortstop.

Tom Seaton, one of the best pitchers that the Pacific Coast League ever turned out, who wore a Portland uniform a number of seasons ago, is on his way west to join the Dutchie Club of Seattle. Seaton wired, accepting the berth offered him and said that he would be in Seattle in time to play in next Sunday's game.

Harry Daubert, the Buckaroo shortstop, is playing with the Seattle North Pacific Company team. Daubert wanted to play with the team, the Columbia-Willamette Shipbuilders' League, but could "not make the grade," because of their using against players of the Coast League. No one had Daubert joined Salt Lake than the Coast League quit, but it was long enough to bring him under the ruling.

Eddie Teck, Cornfoot outfielder, is reported as playing on one of the teams in the Puget Sound Shipbuilders' League. Teck tried out with the Bucks with the first part of the season but drew a release from the Cornfoot team and played good ball for them. Cliff Lee, Ben Marshall and Bill Daniels are also sought by managers of teams in the Puget Sound League.

Bout Will Be Held at Oakland and Big House Is Anticipated.

Mary Farrell, the clever New York middleweight, who is recognized as middleweight champion of the Pacific Coast, has accepted an offer to meet Battling Ortega in Oakland, Cal., on August 1. This looks to be a banner bout and will no doubt draw a capacity house in Oakland, where Ortega is well regarded.

Jimmy Duffy, the Oakland featherweight, who fought a number of bouts in Portland and other Northwestern cities, enlisted in the Navy Saturday and will report at Goat Island today.
