Good Teeth Start With Infancy

GOOD teeth, well taken care of, add a charm to any face. A child with a deformed mouth enters the race of life with a big handicap. There is nothing that detracts more from a person's appearance than unsightly or irregular teeth.

irregular teeth. — a perfectly shaped mouth — restvery largely with mother's care in infancy. Few realize the danger likely to result from allowing young children to form the habit of sucking their thumbs or fingers. This tends to force out the upper front teeth and law, and to push back the lower front teeth and jaw. A deformed face is the result.

This deformity causes the

This deformity causes the teeth to come in irregularly. Deformed jaws help to cause adenoids and mouth-breathing, and mental development is retarded by displacement of the bones of the jaws and face.

Do not neglect the temporary teeth. They represent the structure on which the permanent teeth are built. If lost by decay before their time, the jaws fail to expand properly, and the incoming permanent teeth will be crowded and irregular. A child's temporary molars are not fully replaced by the per-manent teeth until the tenth or twelfth year after birth.
