Committees from every civic organization in Portland, from Red Cross auxiliaries and from the National League for Women's service have worked for three weeks to insure the success of the great day. In all, more than 1500 workers will participate in the events of the day. Many thousands of tickets have been sold in advance, both for the diners to be served all day by the Portland Caterers' Association and for 19 cents admissions to the Oaks.

The affair will last until midnight.

"We have done everything possible to insure the success of the day; the weather man promises fine weather; there has never been an amusement or entertainment programme prepared such as we shall offer and nothing remains, but for Portland to send out to the Oaks the greatest crowd possible," said Julius L. Meier, chairman.

MILDRED KEATS, youthful daughter of H. L. Keats, former Portland automobile man, and society lass who attracted much attention by her satirical dancing, is really to be starred in a motion picture. The New York Telegraph of July 28 devoted a considerable space to Miss Keats, presenting its readers with a two-column photograph of the Portland girl. After relating the incidents which led up to her appearance in the Annette Kellerman picture, "Queen of the Sea," following ballet lessons from Stefano Mascagno, and the organization of Mildred's own company by her father, the article concludes: "The first picture which Miss Keats will do for the Ivy Pictures Corporation, which is the name by which the new company will be known, is called 'The Love of Lady Liberty.' It is the story of a little Belgian refugee, and it was specially written for the star. There was some delay in starting, owing to the illness of a prominent member of the company, but production is now under way. The company has leased the Lincoln Studio, at Edgewood, N. Y. Miss Keats is supported by an all-star cast, under the direction of Mr. DeVonde, well known in the profession, with Walter Law, formerly a leading actor with the Fox company, assisting.

Screen Gossip. Arthur S. Kirkpatrick, former Portland efficiency expert and later manager of the Portland Mutual Film Exchange, is now assistant general manager of the Mutual Film Corporation, with headquarters in New York. Speaking of motion picture admission prices, they are building a new theater at Dime, Alaska, a new Seward Peninsula camp, where $1 will be charged patrons. Another change in name, Gustav Seyffertitz, well-known Lasky player, has taken his mother's maiden name and will be known hereafter as G. Butler Clonabough. Beadle Love, Griffith find who went from Triangle to Pathé, has been signed by Vitagraph. Beaulieu was a Portland visitor not so long ago. Buster Keaton, Patty Arbuckle's comedy pal, is now in the Army. Patty has put Buster on a sort of pension during the war. Roscoe is far too fat to fight, but he's going to help all of his boys who can. Wanda Hawley, who was with Fox as Wanda Pettit and later leading woman for "Doung" Fairbanks, is now with Bill Hart. William Faversham is dicker with several film concerns. They are talking of "The Squaw Man" and Gilbert Parker's "Right of Way" for him. Any way, if Faversham has finally succumbed to pictures, it is big news for the film public, as well as a severe blow to the holdouts from the stage. Jobyna Howland, said to be the original Gibson girl, makes her film debut in the Norma Talmadge picture, "Her Only Way." The story is said to be a surprise affair. Of course Eugene O'Brien is in the cast. George Le Guere, popular juvenile, had an ear drum broken and the ear lobe badly torn in a swimming accident at Long Beach, N. J. Julian Eltinge is preparing to make more pictures. He's going to do a war story of intrigue and spies, "Over the Rhine." He will make film versions of his stage successes, "The Fascinating Widow" and "Cousin Kate." Then will come a vaudeville act. Motion picture admission taxes have far exceeded the war revenues derived from the railroads. Gale Henry, formerly of Universal, has forked her own film producing company. Another nut note: Madge Kennedy is teaching English to her Russian wolfhound. "America's Answer" is the second of the official Government war pictures. Ostlund will report at Portland the latter part of the month for physical examination and shortly afterwards will be sent to Camp Humphrey, on the eastern coast. JAP NAVAL OFFICER HERE. Commander of Battleship Is Entertained by Local Japanese. N. Imamura, commander of the Japanese battleship which carried Prince Arthur of Connaught and his party back from a short visit to Japan to a Canadian Pacific port, arrived in Portland yesterday morning for a short visit with Portland friends and will leave this morning for Seattle to join a party of Japanese naval officers before leaving for his embarkation port. Last evening 25 members of the Japanese Association of Oregon honored the commander at a banquet at the Multnomah Hotel. M. Matsushima, president of the association, presided, and Japanese Consul Shigematsu welcomed the visiting officers. The table was decorated with Japanese flags, oriental lanterns and red and yellow flowers.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(Special.)—President Wilson's address to the President Melendez, of San Salvador, regarding Mr. Wilson's recent address to Mexican editors, were made public today by the State Department. Promising the full co-operation of his people, the Latin-American executive heartily congratulated President Wilson upon the sentiments of justice and fraternity expressed, adding: "In expounding the Monroe Doctrine, you have dispelled prejudgments and unfavorable impressions that have for many years hampered the full blossoming of principles of true cordiality which must exist between the United States and the other republics of the American continent." In reply, President Wilson said: "It is delightful to feel that a mutual understanding is being established among the nations of the Americas which promises to constitute a permanent foundation of friendship and I beg your Excellency to believe that the speech to the Mexican editors to which you so kindly refer came without premeditation from my very heart. "I wish you also to know that it expressed something very much more than my personal feeling and policy, for I believe it expressed the real attitude of the people of the United States."

TRAIN CHEF IS FINED $200. G. R. Forister Guilty of Selling Whisky to Officers. ALBANY, Or., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—For selling a pint of whisky when northbound Southern Pacific train No. 16 stopped here yesterday morning, George R. Forister, chef of the dining car, paid a fine of $200 in the Justice Court here today. When the train stopped at the depot H. C. Danlon, of the State Military Police, told the chef he wanted to buy some whisky. He bought a pint for $3. Two other officers witnessed the transaction and, board the train, arrested Forister and took from him the money paid for the bottle. U. S. Calls Instructor. OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Aug. 5.—(Special.)—D. E. Richards, instructor in animal husbandry in the Oregon Agricultural College and secretary of the Oregon Stallion Registry Board, has been ordered to report for training at Camp Fremont, Cal. He has been given leave of absence for the duration of the war. Mr. Richards was to have been superintendent of the horse division of the State Fair this year. Court Library to Cost $16,500. SALEM, Or., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—The Supreme Court library today filed its estimate for the next biennium with the State Tax Commission at $16,500. Of this $6000 is represented in salaries, $10,500 in new books. A total of $15,000 was appropriated for the present biennium. The library estimates that it will take in $1200 in fees from bar examinations.

WOOLEN MILL IS SOLD. New Owner of Marshfield Property Will Increase Capacity. MARSHFIELD, Or., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—The Bandon woolen mill, operated for the past year under direction of E. H. Tyson, as receiver, and which had run on Government contracts, has been purchased by E. N. Smith, a former resident of the county. The past activity of the mill have required the employment of 30 operators, but the new owner contemplates an increase in capacity and the addition of new machinery sufficient to double the number of employees and the manufacture of a wider range of woollens. Much of the past year's output went to a Government contracting company in Chicago. Engineer Gets Commission. MARSHFIELD, Or., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—Benjamin B. Ostlund, a local contractor, has word from Washington he has been accepted in the engineering corps and will be granted a commission as First Lieutenant and be sent overseas within a few months. Mr.

STATE WORK SAVES

Road Construction Cost Less Than by Private Contract.

FIGURES ARE ANNOUNCED

Saving on Paving Two-Mile Stretch at Sheridan About $12,000. Highway Fund Balance Now $1,375,069.

SALEM, Or., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—Final completion of the paving on what is known as the Bellevue extension east of Sheridan indicates that state force account highway work can be done more cheaply than under private contract. Approximate figures announced today show that the work was done at least $12,000 cheaper than the lowest bid of $55,000, made by a private contractor, and it may run as much as $2000 lower than that estimate. The work included two miles of paving and was in charge of C. A. Dunn, assistant highway engineer, with state forces. Amount Spent is $2,067,057. The latest financial statement of the commission, under date of August 1, also was completed today by the department, showing that out of total funds available to that time aggregating $4,438,127.56, $2,067,057.90 had been expended, leaving a balance of $1,375,069.56. The turnovers of the automobile license fund, one for October 1, 1917, and one for April 1, 1918, aggregated $592,504.24. Of this amount $615,468.47 had been expended up to July 1, 1918, leaving a balance of $377,035.77. The next turnover to the automobile license fund will be made October 1, this year, at which time it is estimated $126,000 additional will be included, but it will be necessary to pay $44,900 interest on bonds before April 1, 1919, and before the fund is available.

Road Bond Sales Big. Out of the $6,000,000 bond fund, $2,049,738.88 in bonds have been sold, of which $1,411,985.07 has been expended to date. The balance of $607,753.81 on hand in that fund. Bean-Barrett road bonds already sold have yielded $390,884.44 and of this $380,000 has been expended, leaving a balance of $10,884.44 in that fund. Loan May Be Refused. TACOMA WARNED TO CEASE PROTEST AGAINST 7 CENT FARE. New Plans Include Double Tracking of Municipal Line From City to Shipyards With New Station. TACOMA Wash., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—Unless agitation against the 7-cent carfare is halted at once the Government may refuse to aid in solving Tacoma's housing problem or improving its transportation facilities to the shipyards and kindred industrial plants on the tidelands. Edward A. West engineer for the Emergency Fleet Corporation, has wired to Mayor C. M. Riddell, saying that he has heard of the disconcerting news of the agitation. "The loan to Tacoma by the Government was recommended by me because of the present atrocious carfare," said Mr. West. "The loan is to be repaid from earnings of the line. The municipal system and the traction company interests are so interwoven that anything affecting one will have an influence on the other. If the earnings are to be reduced the value of the security will correspondingly suffer and require modification of my recommendation." A representative of the housing bureau of the Emergency Fleet Corporation is expected to make a survey here this week, said Mayor Riddell. New plans with Government cooperation include double tracking of the municipal line from the city to the shipyards with a loading station in the city, widening of the Milwaukee viaduct and the purchase of new cars. Mr. West considered these improvements as war necessities. The project is under way also to build a viaduct three-quarters of a mile long on the city line but no contract has been let for this work. The city is operating 22 cars on its line at present and the Tacoma Railway & Power Company is operating 112 cars.
