FIVE ACCUSED OF FRAUD

Seattle Youths Held on Charge of Big Wage Graft at Shipyard.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 20.—(Special.)—The arrest of five youths employed at the Ames shipbuilding plant has brought to light a system whereby, it is alleged, local shipyard workers defrauded thousands of dollars in wages.

The scheme worked like this: Four or five young fellows would register at the shipyard and on entering one would be made custodian of the brass checks issued each individual, whereas the other four would leave the plant and report for work at an adjacent plant where the same scheme was worked again.

The system was divulged when one of the ostensible workers was recognized outside the shipyard selling ice cream cones and by arrest brought about the capture of the others. It is said that nearly 20 are involved in the scheme.

Spoken by Secretary Morrison, of the American Federation of Labor, who declared labor is loyal, strikes are not "appreciable" and the Senate amendment would bring the addition of "slackers" upon working men and be bitterly resented.

Cover Action Suggested. Mr. Morrison suggested that big employing interests were secretly behind the legislation, which he denounced unsparingly as a covert plan to put into effect a policy of labor conscription.

The House committee had hoped to report out the bill today, but the McKensie and other amendments caused the withholding of final action until tomorrow. There was also said to be a disposition by committee members who were present to have been criticized sharply during the committee session. Tomorrow the committee plans to perfect the McKensie amendment, action pending minor amendments.

Youths May Get Commissions. Pending amendments include the proposal to give commissions to youths who are restricted against the granting of commissions to youths under 21 years of age and that of Representative McKensie to give the draft law and other administrative measures to hold up action on the manpower measure.

The War Department was understood to have been criticized sharply during the committee session. Tomorrow the committee plans to perfect the McKensie amendment, action pending minor amendments.

Confidence of Two War Lords, Closing of Swiss Frontier, Visit of Karl to Trentino Believed Precursors of Attack.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Resumption of the Austrian offensive on the Italian front is to be expected at any time, according to the military critic of the Italian newspaper Corriere D'Italia, which a dispatch received here from Rome.

The military critic bases his prediction on such recent events as the closing of the Swiss frontier, the visit of Emperor Karl to the Trentino and the conference at German military headquarters.

Commenting on the meeting of the Austrian and Austrian Emperor, the Italian newspaper declares that it must be taken as new proof that the hope of separating Austria from Germany is "a mad delusion."

The idea Nationale says the meeting of the Emperors is in direct consequence of the steps taken by the allies in Russia.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 20.—Owing to the multiplicity and complexity of questions discussed and the short time allotted to the recent conference of the Austrian and German Emperors, details could not be discussed, says the Fremdenblatt of Vienna. Fundamental lines only were laid down in the newspaper, to be elaborated at future deliberations of the two rulers.

This especially refers to the Polish question, the Fremdenblatt continues, "and public opinion in Vienna agrees with the government that the Polish nation must co-operate in plans for the creation of a new Poland."

The newspaper says Poland must cast the decisive vote in the election of a king, but it must be cast in accordance with the "vital interests of Austria-Hungary and Germany."

ROME, Aug. 19.—The American Congressional naval committee, headed by Representative Lemuel P. Padgett, of Tennessee, left Rome today for the Austro-Italian battlefield.

King Victor Emmanuel will receive the members of the committee on Tuesday. After visiting the Venetian battle lines the Americans will start for Paris on Wednesday.

DRAFT BILL NEAR DEBATE

Representative McKensie, of Illinois, Republican, providing that all men 20 years and above shall be called before those of 19 and 18, with the 18-year-olds youths to be called last.

Policy Made Mandatory. The amendment makes mandatory what Secretary Baker has indicated will be the policy of the War Department.

Representative Kahn, holding his views, expressed the belief that the amendment would be rejected by the House.

Chairman Dent and others of the committee, who expressed themselves as dissatisfied with Secretary Baker's promise to make regulations for a separate class for 18-year-old boys and defer their call as long as possible, were confident that the House would retain the amendment.

If it is adopted by the House a sharp controversy in conference is expected, as the Senate bill retains the Administration provision for executive discretion in establishing calls.

"Work or Fight" Left Out. "Work or fight" legislation, Chairman Dent said tonight, is not contemplated by the House committee. The committee was said to take the position that the legislation is unnecessary in that present draft regulations protect the Government's interests.

At the closing hearing organized labor's protest against the "work or fight" clause in the Senate bill was Wholesalers, Middlemen and Farmers Accused in Connection With Greatly Inflated Prices for Rice.

TOKIO, Aug. 20.—Rioting is reported to be spreading in Northern Japan. The government announces that the disorders are subsiding elsewhere.

Mobs have burned several houses at Sendai. The rice exchange announces that 20 houses were burned in the Tsumiye prefecture on Thursday.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Profiteering on a great scale is the cause of the unrest and rioting in Japan, according to an explanation in official quarters here.

Not only wholesalers and middlemen dealing in food products, and especially in rice, but even the Japanese farmers who grow the grain, have been holding back their stores and demanding greatly inflated prices, it is believed here the popular discontent will be allayed.

There has also been difficulty in the matter of transportation, Japan sharing with the allies in the need for sufficient ocean bottoms. Consequently the procurement of rice from the usual stock in Indian India and Siam has been obstructed.
