'GERMANS' DUTY IS TO WHIP GERMANY"

War Means Help for Brothers Rehn Over There. Declares ex-Teuton Army Officer.

TWO FLAGS ONE TOO MANY

Allegiance of Choice Holds Over Allegiance Forced, Says Max Maximilian, Efficiency Expert, Now in Portland.

"Every German who came to Amer-ica and received citizenship has sworn allegiance to two flags—to one because he had to, to the other because he wanted to. To which flag does he owe allegiance?"

Putting it straight up to the pro-Prussian is a policy that finds strong recommendation from Max Maximilian, of Grand Haven, Mich., one-time of the German light artillery but now serving with the United States Shipping Board as a consulting expert on pneumatic tools and air-compressors derigned to speed up ship production and hasten the defeat of the land where he was

Mr. Maximilian, who raised the tim air. Maximilian, who raised the timely topic of loyalty yesterday, is in Portland at the request of L. J. Wentworth, district officer of the Emergency Fleet Corporation. He will spend several weeks in wooden shipyards of this district, inspecting pneumatic tool and air equipment, and offering suggestions for improvements to promote efficiency.

Air Equipment Important.

"Mr. Wentworth believed," said Mr. Maximilian, in explanation of his errand, "that full efficiency among the wooden shipyards, and the retention of pennants for rapid production, would best be served by improvements in air equipment. At his suggestion the Shipping Board asked various pneumatic teel manufacturers to name someone in a consulting capacity. The choice hap-

All of which is by way of introducing Max Maximilian, who learned the machinist's craft in Germany and who has looked up from his tasks in the great Krupp works at Essen to See Bertha Krupp on her rounds of the industry which is Germany's chief strength in the present struggie. Undergifteer in the German army, constructofficer in the German army, constructing engineer of tool plants in Russia and for 19 years one of the most prominent men in America in his line, his loyalty is of no half-hearted sort.

them but has bettered himself from 100 to 500 per cent. I know I did. When such men hope for a German victory I lose patience.

"To serve in the Kalser's army—they know what it means. It means a nickel a day and one meal a day, and kicks and hlows from every little torporal and whipper-snapper officer. It means curses and kicks, and to be the object of the vilest language that can be used. They needn't talk to me about the glory of such service. I've been through it.

"Maximilian Has Enough.
