Wherever the "Yellow Demon" left its trail of dust, there the liberty loan campaigns of yore throve and prospered exceedingly. Commandeered again for active service in the fourth campaign, the huge yellow car is to make new history in patriotic achievement according to plans perfected by ment, according to plans perfected by the state bureau of speakers, Milton R. Klepper, manager, and E. B. Piper,

The itinerary of the famous car has been forwarded to Central Oregon cities and other points to be visited. The tour is to be taken by Judge John H. Stevenson, of Portland, a returned American soldier, a newspaper repre-sentative and a military chauffeur from Vancouver. Barracks.

Itinerary Extensive One. Originally dedicated by Eric V. Hauser, of the Multnomah Hotel, to patriotic service, the "Yellow Demon" patriotic service, the "Yellow Demon" was a familiar feature of both the second and third liberty loan drives, eventually becoming the property of Yards Want 44 Instead of 48-Hour Week.

The shipyard employes who "played hookey" last Saturday afternoon, insisting on a half-holiday, will go back to work today, and the incident will be closed until next Saturday, when, it is expected, they will take another half-day off unless the Government intervenes. Richard W. Montague, Federal examiner, said yesterday that he had just arrived and could make no statement regarding developments.

J. R. Bowles, president of the Northwest Steel Company, said work would be resumed in the yards today. Action in the matter, Mr. Bowles said, was up to the Federal examiner.
