

HERO'S LIFE PAYS FOR THEIR BOND

Slackers and Shirkers Put to Shame—City's Pride Humbled by Citizens' Apathy.

CAMPAIGN WILL GO ON

Determination to Win Expressed. Organization Ordered to Remain Intact—Plans Laid for Details of Final Drive.

LIBERTY LOAN WORKERS COMMANDED TO STAY BY SHIP

In the face of the fact that Portland has not kept her promise to announce victory today in the fourth liberty loan, workers and officers of the city divisions are hereby ordered to remain with the organization until the quota of $13,000,000 is raised. Up to last night not more than $12,900,000 had been reported with scarcely an additional $1,000,000 in sight. The deficit is not less than $4,500,000.

PORTLAND IS IN THIS FIGHT TO WIN. EFFORT WILL NOT CEASE UNTIL THE LAST DOLLAR HAS BEEN SUBSCRIBED. NEW AND MORE DRASTIC MEASURES ARE TO BE USED IF ESSENTIAL TO VICTORY.

Workers of Portland's campaign: You are volunteers in a sacred cause. You are pledged to a finish fight. Instructions regarding the final phase of the task will be issued to you.

EMERY OLSEN, Chairman. GUY W. TALBOT, General.

(Continued From First Page.) In mourning stood in Liberty Temple yesterday morning preface her application with the single low-voiced comment.

The check she tendered was the first insurance payment for the death of her son—who fell in France.

"How are you paying for your bond—at all?" is the query that is leveled at every citizen.

Portland, with a quota of $13,000,000, stands distant from the goal, with $11,900,000 pledged and in prospect, and not more than $13,000,000 actually subscribed.

Outer-state counties, with a combined quota of $15,538,000, but without the wartime prosperity that is the city's, lacked $13,500,000 last night, with an estimate of over $12,000,000 in subscriptions.

Determination to Win Expressed. "We have lost the first round," runs a statement issued last night by Chairman Olmstead and General Talbot.

"There will be no cessation in the city campaign. On Sunday plans will be laid for the details of the final drive. Such plans will include the ferreting out of slackers and the publication of their names. But, above all, we must raise the deficit within a few days—and the purpose of every worker must remain firm to the end.

"The organization has served loyally and well. But the phlegmatic and selfish disposition of many citizens of Portland is an unsolvable problem and is the basic cause for our failure to announce immediately the close of the campaign."

Belief in State Still Holds. Belief that the outer-state counties of Oregon, in the aggregate, will finish their combined quota before Portland, is expressed by both Herbert E. Smith, state campaign manager, and John L. Etheridge, state director of organization.

SOCIETY NEWS

FOR the benefit of the Belgian and French orphans a dance will be given this evening at Laurelhurst Club, to which everyone in the city is invited. It will be an informal affair, and all club members are especially urged to attend and bring their friends.

Another benefit for Army men as well as sailors is the silver tea to be given this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. J. L. Harper, 1025 East Ankeny street, Laurelhurst. The proceeds will be given to the Red Cross Society, and everyone interested is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Babcock have returned from a month's trip to Tacoma and Vancouver, B. C.

Arleta Assembly, United Artisans, will give the first of a series of dances this evening at Myrtle Park Hall, Myrtle Park station, Mount Scott carline.

An interesting marriage of recent date was that of Miss Norma E. Hope and Ensign R. James Rasmussen, who is now en route to San Francisco to receive further orders.

The wedding took place on September 19 at the home of the bride's parents. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Hope, of Vale, Or. Mr. Rasmussen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Rasmussen, of Forest Grove, Or. The young couple are graduates of Pacific University, in the 1916 class. The bride will remain with her parents for the present.

Dr. and Mrs. A. Tilzer will leave this evening for a couple of months' trip to Paso Robles, Cal.

Mrs. F. R. Ferris entertained Tuesday with a luncheon in the main dining-room of the Hotel Portland. Covers were laid for ten at a table decorated with delicate pink and lavender asters and ferns.

so you see that the eyes of the world are on our state. Fully 1900 automobiles answered the call to rendezvous yesterday morning issued by Anson Frank, chairman of the special committee, and paraded in four divisions through every section of the city, their accompanying musicians wailing with more or less tuneful clamor.

All day long and late into the night the electric announcers in the downtown district bore word of the fourth Liberty loan—vocal in the midst of the hurrying crowds, with little knots of people gazing up at the horns that spoke so amazingly. But in the special features headquarters perspiring orators relayed one another at the task of speaking into the transmitter, that none of the city's citizens might say that he had not heard.

The following counties have reported 100 per cent subscriptions, according to returns compiled by John L. Etheridge, state director of organization: Hood River, Lake, Lincoln, Tillamook, Deschutes, Gilliam, Washington, Wasco, Coos, Clackamas, Yamhill, Curry, Douglas, Wallowa, Columbia, Wheeler, Lane, Grant.

VAUDEVILLE TO BE REPEATED. Encore Performance Before Liberty Temple to Be Given at Noon Today.

So successful was the vaudeville rally before Liberty Temple yesterday noon that it will be repeated at the same hour today, announced Milton R. Klepper, state manager of the speakers' bureau. Several thousand spectators witnessed the novel act yesterday, and it is predicted that today's gathering will be largely increased.

Vaudeville performers from the Orpheum, Hippodrome, Pantages, Strand and Lyceum theaters will appear again, while a speaker will be assigned to voice the liberty loan message. Community singing of the National anthem will conclude the programme.

BLIND SUBSCRIBE TO LOAN. Patriotic Citizens, Deprived of Sight, Are "Doing Their Bit."

Though many Portland people appear to be spiritually blind to the significance of the fourth liberty loan, those upon whom the physical affliction of darkness rests seem to see clearly what it means to serve one's country. There are numerous instances on record at Liberty Temple of the blind who have subscribed to the loan.

One of these, a young man under 30, purchased a bond yesterday, comment-

20,000 ESSAYS ARE PREPARED. School Children Compete in Fourth Liberty Loan Contest.

Twenty thousand liberty loan essays were written by Portland school children, the contest conducted in connection with the campaign just drawing to a close, and these have been passed upon by teachers in the several schools. The best essays have been submitted to the publicity committee of the loan campaign, who will award the prizes. L. R. Alderman, superintendent of war activities in the Portland schools, who had charge of the contest, said yesterday that some remarkable essays were written, the subject being "My Liberty Bond and I."

Liberty bonds will be awarded prizes in the contest as first awards, the winner in each grade to be so remunerated for effort put forth in the undertaking. All children who participated, and the competition came to a close yesterday. It is expected the decision of the publicity committee will be announced during the coming week.

ODDFELLOWS BEHIND LOAN. Loyalty of Hassalo Lodge Members Expressed at Patriotic Meeting.

Impressive patriotic exercises were conducted last night by Hassalo Lodge, No. 15, L. O. F., in the temple at First and Alder streets. In the absence of Past Grand Master Sawyer, who was to have delivered the principal address, Grand Warden Johnson spoke on "Fraternalism and Patriotism," showing the loyalty of lodge members and urging them to subscribe to the liberty loan.

3 STREET RALLIES HELD. Fraternal Organizations Sponsors for Liberty Loan Meetings.

To the skill of baskinets and the strains of brass bands, thousands of Portland citizens turned last night toward the mammoth liberty loan street rallies that were held simultaneously in the downtown district.

The rallies were three in number, and were conducted under the auspices of the fraternal organizations of the city. At Sixth and Alder streets the rally was under the direction of E. F. Martin. Before Liberty Temple a second meeting was held, with H. S. Hudson presiding. Another rally was conducted before the Y. M. C. A. building, with Frank Lonergan as presiding officer.

Speakers, bands and musical numbers were featured of all three, each concluding with the congregational singing of the National anthem.

FORRESTERS RESPOND LIBERALLY. Employees of the United States Forestry Department responded liberally to the call for purchasers for liberty bonds, and the total represented by subscriptions made by the 67 employees was announced last night to be $8600. An address was delivered Thursday evening by John A. Lee, of the speakers' bureau, who visited the Beck building and presented liberty loan facts to the forestry force.

MEETINGS ANNOUNCED FOR TODAY. The following liberty loan meetings for today have been announced by the speakers' bureau: Judge Wallace McCamant, Florence. Judge George W. Stapleton, Salem. Walter H. Evans, Salem. Sergeant Dave Wells, Madras. Lieutenant J. A. Gallagher, Hoppen. Rev. A. A. Morrison, Hillsboro. W. Lair Thompson, Astoria. George A. Brown, Salem. Milton A.
