NATIONAL PARTY HELPS LAFFERTY

Mrs. Van Orsdall Offered Nomination for Congress but Declines to Run.

J. C. BROWN STILL NOMINEE

Name Will Likely Appear on Ballot, Notwithstanding Recent Appointment to Federal Job and Warning That Politics Are Taboo.

At an executive meeting of National party leaders held Wednesday night, A. W. Lafferty was endorsed, but not nominated, for Congress. The support of the National party was first offered to Mrs. Carrie C. Van Orsdall, grand guardian of the Women of Woodcraft, but she declined, explaining that she is a Democrat and will support the Congressional nominee of her party, John Smith. Following the declination the leaders concluded to give what aid and comfort they can to Lafferty.

J. C. Brown, president of the Farmers Union, was the nominee of the National party and he accepted the nomination. Then Brown was appointed as distributor of farm labor, at $200 a month. This a Federal job and Brown was informed before he received the appointment that it would be impossible to play politics and remain on the payroll at the same time. Between a $2400 bird in the hand and a $7500 bird in the Congressional bush, Brown decided to sidestep the latter. He went to the National party bosses and asked them to release him as the Congressional candidate, and the leaders accepted his resignation.

But—and here is what makes a new angle—Brown has already formally and officially accepted the nomination and it was stated at the meeting that he had not withdrawn, so far as the powers that be are concerned. A resignation of his nomination to a group of National leaders is not sufficient to get his name off the ballot; the Secretary of State is the proper person to notify. It is also reported that the National party leaders did not advise the authorities that Brown had relinquished the nomination.

John Smith, the Democratic nominee, gathered what information he could on the subject while in Salem Thursday and Smith is convinced that Brown's name will be printed on the ballot as the National party candidate for Representative of the Third Congressional District.

"Lafferty may have the indorsement of the new party," says Smith, "but on the ballot Brown's name will appear as the nominee."

Furthermore, if Brown's name is on the ballot there is a strong probability that he will lose his present job as farm labor distributor for Oregon. There are Democrats willing to call attention to Brown being a candidate. Smith, who held the Federal position, had to resign it when he was nominated.

The party leaders held their conference Wednesday night in the M. C. A. building and sent for Mrs. Van Orsdall. The nomination was offered in her case, but with regard to Lafferty it was an indorsement rather than a nomination. Mr. Lafferty lost no time in having a handbill printed telling the world of his new support and promising to give his salary to the Government and enlist as a private if accepted for overseas service, providing he is elected to Congress.

Indications are now that Governor Withycombe will make a temporary appointment to fill the vacancy on the Supreme Court bench caused by the death of Justice Moore. It is intimated that he may select a Portland man, and guesses are being made that State Senator Olson may be the choice. Senator Olson has been out of town for the past two days. Judge John S. Cole of Coos Bay, who was primary candidate for nomination for Supreme Judge, arrived in Portland yesterday, possibly to survey the situation. Any candidate for Supreme Judge for the unexpired term of Justice Moore will have to have his name written on the ballot. It is too late to get on in any other manner.

N. E.—Two days have passed and no candidate has filed for City Commissioner.

Request was telegraphed to Theodore Roosevelt yesterday to visit Portland on his Western trip. The request was sent by R. E. Williams, Republican National committeeman; T. H. Tongue, Republican state chairman; John W. Cochran, secretary of the Republican State Committee, and J. L. Day, chairman of the Republican County Committee. A message was also sent to National Chairman Hays urging him to induce Mr. Roosevelt or some other speaker of National note to make a talk in Oregon before the end of the campaign.

MAXIMUM TAXES FAVORED

State League Will Hold Session to Consider Taxation Questionnaire.

To consider the Government tax questionnaire and other similar matters, the State Taxpayers' League will hold a session tomorrow at the Imperial Hotel, beginning at 10 o'clock. W. P. Pierce, of La Grande, state president, presiding. The report, it is understood, will take the position that maximum taxes should be imposed, but that the taxes should not be so excessive that they will deter people from engaging in industries.

DR. HANSON IS PROFESSOR

City Inspection Officer Will Go to Washington State College.

Dr. Peter Hanson, formerly connected with the meat inspection division of the Municipal Health Bureau, has been appointed assistant professor of therapeutics and physiology at the State College of Washington at Pullman, Wash., effective October 1.

Dr. Hanson will be connected with the veterinary division of the college, and will teach in the Farrier School established in this school by the Government, for the benefit of men who are already enrolled or who are about to enroll in the United States Army.
