DEPUTY SOUSER DISMISSED

Discharge of Special Officer Follows Resistance Offered by Him to Members of War Emergency Squad.

W. H. Souser, special deputy sheriff in the employ of the Pullman Company at the Union Depot and the terminal yard, has been dismissed from the service. This is the sequel to resistance offered by Souser to officers of the war emergency squad last week when they attempted to search the coaches at the terminal station in quest of contraband liquor.

Leutenant Thatcher, of the war emergency squad, contends that he has a right to search the coaches of all trains arriving and leaving the Union Station if he feels disposed to do so. He further contends that any further opposition by the railway employees and special deputy sheriffs in the employ of the terminal yard may result in an appeal to William G. McAdoo, Director-General of Railroads, at Washington, D. C.

Questions of a technical character have arisen as the result of the recent dispute between the railway officials and the officers.

Definition of "Train" Involved. It is contended by Leutenant Thatcher that since trains arriving at the Union Station or their terminal are not regarded as trains and are subject to search, likewise trains scheduled to leave the terminal yard are not designated as trains until their leaving time has arrived.

The railway company contends that, according to the book of rules, a train is "an engine or more than one engine, coupled with or without cars and displaying markers."

But, according to the authorities, a train is not held to be a train until the conductor receives his clearance from the dispatcher or operator and the engineer also receives a copy which authorizes them to move and operate as a train.

United States District Attorney Haney has already expressed his opinion that the officers are not authorized to search moving trains without a search warrant. This contention the officers concede.

Right of Search at Issue. According to the officers, bootleggers have not evaded the dry law in the past so much by violation of the state law, as they have done in taking advantage of the technicalities of the law regarding the right of search and seizure. They advance the argument that deputy sheriffs have met the boats plying between this port and California at Astoria and have searched their cargoes on the last leg of the journey up the river.

They contend that if the law applies to vessels engaged in interstate commerce that it likewise should apply to railways operating in interstate traffic. There is no doubt in the minds of the authorities that a large amount of illicit liquor has been shipped north by evasion of the law.

Subterfuges to Be Ignored. Such subterfuges as the immediate switching of the Seattle sleeper from the California train at the Union depot on its arrival at its terminal will not in the future deter the officers, they say, in searching places suspected of concealing contraband liquor.

Especial interest is attached to the stand taken by the authorities in Portland, as it is reported that similar action has been taken by the Pullman Company in other cities. The assurance of the general circular letter of August 12 to the Portland Police Department from the General Manager of the Pullman Company.

LINEN SOUGHT BY ARMY

PORTLAND HOMES MUST FURNISH 5,500,000 ARTICLES.

Collection and Delivery Tasks Will Be Handled Largely Through City's Leading Community Clubs.

In response to a call from the hospitals in France the Red Cross has taken up the task of obtaining from loyal American homes 5,500,000 towels, sheets and handkerchiefs and a quantity of napkins. The first chapter has been allotted quotas, Mrs. Ferdinand E. Reed has been selected as chairman of the enterprise and the hospital linen drive will follow on the heels of the Belgian clothing relief campaign.

Collection and delivery of contributed articles is to be handled through the city's community clubs and auxiliaries. The Irvington and Laurelhurst clubs are already aligned for this task. Through courtesy of Superintendent Grout and the school facilities the need will be carried to the homes through the school children.

Portland households are asked to give 7500 bath towels, 15,000 hand towels, 10,500 handkerchiefs, 3500 sheets and 150 napkins.

Leaders of the old-clothes drive said yesterday that donations are coming in at the rate of about four tons per day.

The Motor Squad Girls, working from the Red Cross Shop, have hardly been able to keep abreast of the task of bringing in the clothing bundles, and volunteer car owners have given appreciated assistance. Donors who convey their packages to the receiving station help appreciably to lighten this work, the drive leaders said.

PENSIONS UP TO VOTERS

Plan Proposed by Policemen to Be Put on City Ballot.

Decision to refer a plan for policemen's pensions to the Portland voters November 5 was made by the city commissioners yesterday. The proposed plan, modeled after the firemen's pension law, was submitted by a committee of policemen with the approval of City Attorney La Roche.

PHOTOS WILL TELL STORY

Federal Agent Assembles Pictures of Portland and Vicinity.

George R. Georgens, a motion picture photographer for the United States Department of Agriculture, has been a visitor in this city for a few days.

Accompanied by A. G. Jackson, of the United States Forestry Service, he went to Eagle Creek Tuesday, where pictures were taken of the trail and campground. Some scenes of the highway were also photographed.

Mr. Georgens is taking war emergency pictures showing foodstuffs, harvest pictures and pictures of the heat dairy herds throughout the country. Yesterday morning he took pictures of the Municipal Market.

These pictures will be taken to Washington, where they will be released through the Universal Film Corporation and exhibited throughout the United States.

Salem Saves Prune Pits.

Barrels have been installed on the downtown streets here and housewives are saving the pits from their canning work.

EAGLE HUT IS POPULAR

GALE SEAMAN PRAISES WORK OF Y. M. C. A. IN EUROPE.

Secretary, in Portland on Business, Says Mercy Workers Are Doing Much to Relieve Wounded Fighters.

Eagle "Y" Hut is one of the most wonderful things in Europe, says Gale Seaman, of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A., just returned from England and France after six months spent in the service of the "Y." He is in Portland on business connected with his own department, that of students, and related his experience to local "Y" secretaries at a conference yesterday, among the most thrilling being when he and companions on a ship going over were torpedoed and their boat sank in 12 minutes.

Mr. Seaman came near losing his life, as his foot became entangled in a coil of rope. He managed to grasp a lifeboat, however, to which he clung until the rope was cut and he was released.

"Our Eagle Hut in London is visited by men of all nations, sent out to banish the Hun," he said. "In it, 700 of the finest women in England are working shifts that keep the place running day and night.

"I shall never forget the Fourth of July night, when hundreds of the soldiers were standing about with no place to sleep. A man entered and announced that the King's car was waiting to take a load to the palace for the night. You should have seen them scramble. The car returned time and

CATTLE TO BE CONSERVED

Oregon Dairymen Pleaded With Action of State Council.

J. D. Mickle, State Dairy and Food Commissioner, yesterday received reports from some parts of the state showing that several of the dairymen are retaining cows, because of the influence of the Oregon Dairy Council. The Hubbard creamery reported that on account of the interest shown by the council in an endeavor to stop the dairymen from killing off their cows, it has purchased 300 tons of hay and is letting the farmers have the product at cost.

Every effort is being made to get feed for the cattle and to get it at the lowest possible price.

Hood River creamery, which burned down some time ago, is rebuilt and is protecting its patrons.

COVE, Or., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Stockmen and farmers are rounding up their cattle in the mountains preparatory to bringing them out for the winter. Ed Miller is selling stock sheep in small bunches to farmers.

FIELD ARTILLERY OPEN

HUNDREDS OF MEN NEEDED FOR SERVICE OVERSEAS.

Recruits Showing Proper Aptitude Are Advanced Rapidly in This Interesting Branch of Duty.

FORT STEVENS, Or., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Army recruits and classified men can now be inducted voluntarily for service overseas in heavy field artillery—big mobile guns, howitzers, railway artillery, and others of the "heavies" that are becoming more and more important.

The movement overseas of these regiments is being unusually expedited by the War Department and men are given a chance to volunteer for this attractive branch of the service. The constant defenses of the Columbia are called upon to send heavy artillerymen with the utmost speed.

No branch offers more of a variety of opportunities for advancement or more fascinating work. Men showing the proper aptitudes are made non-commissioned officers with duties pertaining to some part of this interesting service. There are gun commanders, observers, master gunners, engineers, electricians, radio sergeants and various other duties open to the man who is alert and eager.

A man may be inducted by sending a letter to the Commanding Officer, Coast Defenses of the Columbia, Fort Stevens, Or., giving name, order and registration number, class (number and letter), present address number and address of local board and whether

OFFENSE PROVES COSTLY

Driving Auto While Intoxicated Brings Fine and Jail Term.

Robert Misner was fined $250 and sentenced to four months in jail by Municipal Judge Rosman yesterday for driving an automobile while intoxicated. Arthur Languth, ex-municipal judge, who appeared for Misner, announced an appeal.

Judge Rosman offered to let Misner off with a fine of $100 and a suspended sentence of six months in jail on condition that the defendant cease riding in automobiles and abstain from liquor for that time. Misner declined the offer because it would necessitate walking to his work. Joseph Supple, of the Supple & Ballin Shipbuilding Corporation, where Misner is employed, had asked that he be released with a fine, his service being essential.

COLLEGE MEN TAKE OATH

OPENING CEREMONIES MARKED BY PATRIOTIC ADDRESSES.

President Kerr Tells Boys They Are Entering Upon Greatest Era in History of United States.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Approximately 2500 boys participated in the ceremonies at the college yesterday at which the S. A. T. C. was organized. Colonel A. C. Sharpe, commander of the camp, had charge of the ceremonies. The local ceremonies were a part of the National programme which took place in 500 other schools at the same time.

The detachment of soldiers stationed here led the line, followed by hundreds of boys and young men. Dr. D. P. Poling read the invocation, Captain F. V. Cooper administering the oath of allegiance. Colonel Sharpe then read the message from President Wilson. President Kerr spoke for the college. He said:

"This is one of the greatest days in history of American education. The National Government in establishment of students Army training corps has recognized the importance and value in preparing for that leadership required in winning the war. Army barracks in time of war are not palatial dwellings places where conditions are conducive to lives of ease and luxury, but you will find them wholesome."
