Headquarters have been established Headquarters have been established by S. C. Pier, candidate for City Com-missioner, at room 319 Northwestern National Bank building. The offices were secured yesterday and will be in operation today. Mr. Pier has already inaugurated an active campaign, and his programme will enable him to meet thousands of citizens personally. Mr. Pier wishes to make this a personal campaign, and to that end he will ad-dress meetings every evening, as well dress meetings every evening, as well as during the day.

SHIP LARGELY INCREASED.

Technical Needs of Shipyard Workers to Be Fostered; Professor Campbell Speaks Saturday.

Registration which began yesterday at the University of Oregon extension school indicates that last year's enrollment of 2000 will be doubled. War emergency courses are believed to be responsible for the great increase. Dr. George Rebec is resident director and has as his full-time assistant this year Mrs. Margaret M. Sharpe.

In an endeavor to interest shipyard workers, Miss Mozelle Hair, of the University of Oregon central extension office, began a survey of Portiand's shipyards yesterday. She will be joined by Mrs. Sharpe today and together the two will present to the foreman, or to the workers to the the technical courses being offered.

War courses offered are for both working and business men and there will be work for persons interested in various war commissions. Special dramatic work will be given that groups Registration which began yesterday will be work for persons interested in various war commissions. Special dramatic work will be given that groups of students may produce plays for soldiers at the nearby camps and public speaking courses will also be given.

The only new name to appear on the extension school faculty this year is that of Professor G. Ebson, from Willamette University, who will conduct night classes in French.

President Campbell, of the University, has been announced as the speaker for the meeting of the Oregon Civic League, Saturday at its luncheon at the Benson Hotel. His subject will be "The Influence of War Activities on National Education."

These facts as published at the time have never been contradicted or in any way called into question either by Mr. Pierce or by any of the others who participated in the organization meeting.

League Organized in January.

The meeting alluded to was held at the Multhomah Hotel, in Portland, Saturday, January 19, 1918. The sessions were held behind closed doors. It was designated a "convention of Oregon citizens called to consider progressive legislation." Those who attended did so voluntarily.

After an all-day executive session, from which newspaper reporters and all others not properly vouched for were excluded, the immediate organization of a Non-Partisan League was decided on in the adoption of resolutions. C. E. Spence was made chairman of an executive committee which

Mr. Pierce was present and took part in the discussions of the all-day meeting. He was appointed and served as a member of the legislative committee which submitted a report recommending a single-house Legislature, a state marketing system and other radical legislation.

Mr. Pierce also joined with G. E. Sanders and J. A. Smith in introducing resolutions which were adopted by the meeting.

Mr. Pierce, in June, attended the annual meeting of the Oregon State Grange at Salem and actively supported for re-election C. E. Spence as master of the state organization. The day before his election Mr. Spence made an impassioned address before the convention in defense of the Non-Partisan League. But despite the influence of Mr. Spence the convention, by a vote of because this is strictly a man's store, dealing in men's reliable merchandise, and catering to men in all walks of life, and we know we are conducting it along lines of merit to our customers, which justifies us in asking you for your business.

-You must buy clothing from some one and our method of going after your business, and caring for it after we get it, is on the regular American man-to-man basis, and if we can get it, be assured we will take care of and appreciate it.

—We can make all the usual claims about our merchandise, service, etc., but they do not mean anything to you.

—You know that any successful clothier must have reliable merchandise and give you service of some sort or other, and you realize these conditions exist here.

—There are differences in grades and qualities of merchandise, methods of pricing and service to customerstrue—but we can put ourselves straight on these three points in a few words. We are too able merchants (no ego intended) to be in any position on them, other than the best possible.

-Our success proves that fact, but any way, you'll judge those things for yourself, regardless of what we might
