

DRASTIC RESTAURANT ORDINANCE PROPOSED

Measure to Be Submitted to Council Today.

OPPOSITION NOT EXPECTED

Absolute Cleanliness of Employees and Equipment of Eating-Houses Striking Feature of Bylaw.

Completion of the ordinance designed to clean up Portland restaurants was announced yesterday by City Health Officer Parrish. Drafted in co-operation with the staff of the Government to provide clean, sanitary eating-houses, the ordinance is by far the most drastic ever offered to the City Council. It will be presented to the Council at today's meeting and, it is believed, will pass without serious opposition.

The proposed ordinance gives the health officer authority to back up his ratings with the revocation of the restaurant's license, the fee for which is fixed at $1.50 a quarter. Absolute cleanliness of every part of the equipment of the eating house and health provisions for the employees are among the most striking features of the ordinance.

Inspection to Start. Temporary rating for several of the city's best restaurants have been made by the health bureau so that soldiers could find some place to eat. Immediately upon the passage of the ordinance, inspection of every eating place in Portland will be begun by city inspectors.

- Regulations to be enforced follow: 1. No proprietor shall permit any person to work in any eating-house who is affected with venereal disease or any other communicable disease. 2. Every eating-house shall be properly lighted, drained, plumbed and ventilated. 3. Floors, sidewalks, furniture and equipment shall be kept in clean and sanitary condition. 4. All food being prepared must be protected from flies, dirt and contamination. 5. All receptacles for refuse shall be in metal receptacles and removed twice a week. 6. Clothing of all employees must be kept clean. 7. Doors and windows shall be fitted with close-fitting wire screens during summer season. 8. Adequate toilet facilities must be provided apart from the food preparing rooms. Toilet room must be well ventilated, lighted and fly-tight with non-absorbent floor. 9. Lavatories and wash rooms shall be supplied with running water, soap and individual towels. Sinks must be washed and arms thoroughly before starting work. 10. Cupboards shall be provided and must be washed daily with hot water with soap. 11. No person shall sleep or store articles in kitchen or other room. 12. No proprietor shall provide towels for patrons unless laundered after each use. 13. All dishes and silver shall be thoroughly washed in boiling water with soap and dried with clean towel or in place free from contamination. 14. All eating-houses must be provided with running water and sanitary metal sink. 15. The proprietor shall keep a copy of these regulations posted in a conspicuous place.

Right at the Season's Start—We Offer Exceptional Values

Suits, Coats, Dresses $29.75

The Suits, one model illustrated, are of English tweed in brown or grey mixtures, serges in navy and black and gabardines in navy, brown and black. A complete assortment of sizes; all the new 32-inch and even longer coats. Some are half lined, others lined throughout with good quality satin or silk.

The Dresses come in satin with panel front and back—effectively trimmed in braid and silken fringe, or in tunic overskirt effect, fringe trimmed, and with box stitching on back and front of waist. Serges of good quality with high neck, surplice front and silk-braid trimmed—others trimmed with buttons and colored braid. Splendid styles for school, store or office wear, as well as a good assortment of street dresses.

Wonderfully attractive, splendidly styled, good quality garments—just arrived and so moderately priced as to insure their immediate sale. Our large corner display window will more fully tell the story of these exceptional garments.

The Coats are of all-wool velour with large Kit Coney collars and fancy belts. Fur lined with good Venetian lining. Heavy wool velour, unlined, with fancy stitching on collar of self-material. Plush coats especially attractive for the miss in school or office; have high waist effect with fullness below the wide belt; are full Venetian lined and trimmed in Chases' beaver. There is also a big selection of coats in all-wool materials, lined or unlined. All sizes in the lot—and colored in brown, green, Burgundy, wisteria, navy, tan, Copenhagen and King's blue.

Beautiful Suit Blouses Strikingly effective Georgette blouses—dark shades, enlivened with inserts of lighter crepe. Georgette in mottled designs, so pretty with the dark suits, and those deeply embroidered in rich silks. Many are priced at only $7.50
