

W. C. T. U. FROWNS ON IMMODEST DRESSING

State Organization Promises to Push Reform.

SOLDIERS' SUPPORT URGED

Women Are Asked to Co-operate With Government in Maintenance of High Ideals.

The State W. C. T. U. in convention at the First Methodist Church yesterday, went on record as opposing immodest and careless dressing by women. "Women have lost their heads over the soldiers' uniforms," they were told by Dr. McAfee, of the Y. M. C. A. service at Vancouver Barracks. "The time has come for a rebuke to women against immodest and careless dress. For the sake of the soldiers, if for no other reason, the W. C. T. U. must administer this correction."

"After the war the soldiers will come back to you with a hatred of anything that belittles woman and with new ideals, if the women of America will co-operate with the Government in the work it is doing for the men in the service." Dr. McAfee was promised the support of the W. C. T. U. women at the conclusion of his address.

American Soldiers Sober.

"I did not see a single American soldier in France, Scotland, Ireland or England under the influence of liquor," said Oswald West, former Governor, telling of his recent trip to Europe. "We of the Northwest have led in the production of ships because our workers are not weakened by liquor. People who drink in wartime are playing the Kaiser's game."

Other speakers at the afternoon session, at which Mrs. M. L. T. Hidden presided, were: Mrs. Bessie Edgar, Mrs. Mable Burton, Mrs. Lillian Addison, Dr. Mae Cardwell and Judge W. H. Gaters. Mrs. Dudley Clark sang.

Officers elected were: Mrs. Mattie Sleeth, of Portland, president; Mrs. M. Frances Swope, of Portland, vice-president; Mrs. Madge Mears, of Portland, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mary C. Tutbill, of Oakland, recording secretary; Mrs. Ada Jolley, of Portland, secretary of the young people's work.

Sessions Well Attended.

Attendance yesterday increased from the 200 of the first day to more than 500, among whom were the 150 official delegates. More than 50 of the women attending had been members of the W. C. T. U. since 1894.

Speakers at this morning's session will be Mrs. Mary Palmer, Mrs. M. E. Fullilove, Mrs. Elizabeth Dalzell and Mrs. Millie R. Trumbull. The afternoon session, which will close the convention, has as its programme Mrs. Charles Hoy, Mrs. Neal B. Inman, Mrs. C. Taylor, Mrs. J. O. Richmond, Mrs. Ora H. A. Bear, Mrs. Louise Rouda, Mrs. Hattie Wilson and Mrs. Ethel Mack.

100 ORDERED INDUCTED

FIVE SCORE "FIGHTING MECHANICS" REQUISITIONED.

Call Made for Men to Be Trained at Benson Polytechnic Army Training Detachment.

Immediate and direct induction of 100 "fighting mechanics" into the Benson Polytechnic Army Training Detachment is ordered in a message from the War Department to Major Robert A. Roos, detachment commander.

Men seeking induction under this call are to present themselves in person at the Benson School next Monday morning, at 10:30 o'clock. No applications will be considered at any other time.

A call is already out through selective service channels for 200 Oregon men to enter the Benson detachment next Tuesday. The school is in position to handle an additional 100 potential mechanics but no explanation for the splitting of the call in this way has been given. This method, however, will be advantageous to many applicants who appeared before their boards after quotas had been filled.

Applicants must be white, grammar school graduates and must carry statement of competent physician that the bearer is physically fitted for general military service. Only men who are of the ages 19 to 35, inclusive, and who registered September 12 are eligible. They will be trained as auto mechanics, carpenters, pipe-fitters, general mechanics, blacksmiths, electricians and machinists. The training will be started about October 17.

OLD CROW IS UNDER PROOF

Five Hundred Bottles, 99 Per Cent Water, Found in Woods.

Five hundred bottles of Old Crow "aged in the wood" 99 per cent water and 1 per cent coloring matter were found in the woods near the intersection of the Barr and Craig roads at the city limits Wednesday by Lieutenant Thatcher and Officers Abbott and Phillips, of the war emergency squad. The substitute liquor was in a cache near a partly torn down shack, which is believed by the officers to have been the plant of the Baker brothers previous to their arrest a short time ago. Lieutenant Thatcher says the Red Cross may have the empty bottles, as they will make a truck load.

SOCIETY NEWS

BY GERTRUDE P. CORBETT

MRS. WILLIAM CASTLEMAN was honored for the charming informal tea given by her mother, Mrs. John Francis Shea yesterday. During the tea hour about 35 young matrons and maids called to bid adieu to this popular and much-entertained visitor, who has been spending the last few months with her parents. The room was prettily adorned with garden flowers, and the tea table, dainty and exquisite in appointment, was presided over by Mrs. Oscar Overbeck and Mrs. Otto Fraul.

Mrs. Castleman also will be the honoree for a luncheon for which Miss Edith McGinn will be hostess today, and tomorrow she will leave for her home in Louisville, Ky., accompanied by her two children.

WOMEN'S PATRIOTIC SERVICE

"TIRE and Retire the Kaiser" is the slogan adopted by the committee of the Red Cross which will manage a rubber drive next week. Miss Henrietta Felling, chairman of the committee, has as her assistants Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mrs. J. C. Louissou, Mrs. Milton Kahn, J. C. Ainsworth and Charles Berg. Old automobile tires and inner tubes, old hot water heaters and rubber goods of any convenient form will be acceptable and will meet the rubber shortage now facing the Government. The drive will continue for a week and interesting features have been planned and will be given in connection with the drive. All donations will be received at the Red Cross salvage warehouse at Second and Oak streets.

Members of the auxiliary to George Wright Relief Corps will meet today at the home of Mrs. Nellie Blodgett, 431 1/2 Larabee street.

Children in the Woodmere school district between the ages of six months and six years will be weighed and measured, according to Government instructions at the school Saturday, from 10 A. M. until 4 P. M.

"I Know Why We Are So Blue—We Need Some Cheerful New Clothes"

"We just can't go on any longer with these shabby old clothes. Phil, even if the payments on the house are due and I have to keep up our end of the liberty bonds, etc."

"So I've figured out a plan whereby you and I can get our fall suits and overcoats without depleting the family treasury. We'll go up to Cherry's, at 389-91 Washington st., Pittock block, select what we need and, instead of paying all cash, will just make a small deposit to show our good faith and then, while we are getting the benefit of our clothes, pay off the balance in small weekly payments. Lots of people we know have been buying their clothes there for years. In fact, it was Mrs. Dobbs who told me about Cherry's. She thinks it perfectly absurd to lay out a bunch of money all at one time for clothes. No extra charges—no interest, either."

"If not before, we will go up Saturday evening, as they keep open until 8 o'clock"—Adv.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

THE Portland Woman's Club will meet at the Multnomah Hotel this afternoon at three o'clock. Mrs. Lucie Faxon Addison, chairman of the legislative department, has the programme in charge. The various bills to be brought before the legislature will be discussed by different speakers. A programme of music will be given

FOOD SAVING IMPERATIVE

CONSERVATION NOW MORE URGENT THAN EVER BEFORE.

Nation's Reserves Are Perilously Small; New Pledge Crusade Soon to Be Launched.

To place plainly before the housewives of Oregon once more the what and why of present food conservation regulations, the state food administration is preparing to conduct a big pledge drive October 28 to November 2.

It is just a year since the first pledge-card crusade was made at the request of Herbert Hoover, National Food Administrator. In that effort 95 per cent of Oregon homes were enlisted in support of Mr. Hoover's programme.

One of the chief aims of the conservation drive is to place in every kitchen the home card of instructions, carrying plain statements of the need for saving, the things to be saved and suggestions for minimizing their use.

"People are confused," said Arthur M. Churchill, state conservation chairman, "with regard to some of the present regulations and question the need for others. Some have become careless, and perhaps the public as a whole has slackened its conservation effort. Now, the fact is that we must save more food this year than ever. To deal lightly with this problem is to take chances with human lives. We are gambling the very existence of men on the scantiest conceivable food reserves."

Forces for the food conservation drive are being organized. A. E. Doyle will be director of the campaign in Portland. District managers are being pleked and hundreds of workers soon will be ready for the crusade.

PRIVATE PEAT HERE TODAY

British Red Cross Plans Reception at Union Station.

Private Peat, one of the foremost lecturers who has come out of the inferno of the western battle front to tell the American people of the valorous deeds of the allied soldiers, will arrive in Portland this afternoon at 5 o'clock. The lecture tour is being made under the auspices of the British Red Cross, whose directors desire an many citizens as can do so to join in a reception to the visiting Canadian veteran upon his arrival at the Union Station.

Private Peat was scheduled to speak at the Municipal Auditorium Monday night. This will be one of the meetings affected by the closing order unless the order is rescinded before that time. He is accompanied on his visit to Portland by Mrs. Peat and they will be at the Hotel Portland during their stay here.

Don't Feed Your Baby Every Time He Cries

MANY a mother feeds her baby to make him stop crying. Poor baby! He stops—for a while—and then it's all the worse. For his tiny stomach has had another load added to its already undigested burden.

The baby isn't always hungry. Perhaps he's getting too much or the wrong kind of food.

Nurse him as long as you can. It may be the saving of his life when he is sick. You'll probably be able to nurse him nine full months, if from the beginning, you use one feeding a day of Nestlé's Food.

GIVE him that feeding at any hour each day in place of your own milk—and leave yourself free to take a little air or pleasure to build up your own milk.

Then when weaning time comes, you'll just give more feedings until baby is all on Nestlé's without feeling the change.

Nestlé's Food comes to you in a safe, air-tight can—you add only water, boil and it's ready. You don't have to worry about sour milk or consumptive cows or germs in the milk.

Nestlé's Food is milk, only purer than you get in bottles—with the tough curd made easier to digest, and with just the right amount of sugar and cereal added. Send the coupon or a postcard for a free trial package of 12 feedings, and the 96-page book about babies by specialists.
