PARTISAN BATTLE IN CONGRESS PROMISED

Reconstruction Problems After Nine Million Pounds Will Be Sent War Will Be Enormous.

Democrats, It Is Declared, Propose to Give Body Partisan Character From the Start.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Oct. 14 .- There are indications PORTLAND BOYS ARE NAMED an impending partisan contest in Congress over the manner of appoint-ment of a commission to study and report on after-war reconstruction prob-The Republicans of the Senate have agreed unanimously to support the Weeks resolution for a joint Con-gressional committee with representa-tion equally divided between the two parties. The Democrats are expected boost a bill introduced by Senator

Overman authorizing the President to appoint a commission of five, not more than three to be of the same political This subject assumes importance be

This subject assumes importance be-cause it daily becomes more apparent that reconstruction problems will be many and difficult. The body charged with the duty of surveying the almost unlimited field of reconstruction will have authority to probe into almost every branch of business, particularly Government business, and will have a lot of money to spend.

Pyron, a counterfeiter, who was being taken from here to the Federal prison at McNell's Island, Wash, escaped to-day by slipping his shackles and leap-ing from a moving train near Ashland, Or. Pyron was being taken north to for the creation of a committee on re-construction. His resolution provided for the selection of six members from each house, in each case three Repub-licans and three Democrats, and all selected by party caucus. That method would deprive the party floor leaders of their customary prerogatives and would place upon the entire party mem-bership in each house responsibility for making good selection. With the repserve a sentence of 15 years. It was his third term on the same charge, accord-ing to Federal officials here. The United States Marshal's office bership in each house responsibility for making good selection. With the rep-resentation of the two parties on the committee equal, there would be no partisan bias. The committee would be entirely under the direction of Con-press and free from influence by the otified all peace officers in Oregon to be on watch for the fugitive Bernhardt on Way to France.

gress, and free from influence by the

The Weeks resolution provided for an appropriation of $500,000 for ex-penses—a sum small in comparison with the job of getting the Nation back to a peace basis after the spending of billions to get on a war basis. The introduction of the Weeks reso-lution seems to have taken the Demo-crats by surprise, for they floundered around in their efforts to head off his plan. Two days after the Weeks reso-lution was introduced Senator Owen, of Oklahoma, introduced a resolution fol-Oklahoma, introduced a resolution fol-lowing to some extent the language of the Weeks measure, and in all re-spects the same in purport, except that the make-up of the committee would be "fairly representative" of the two parties. That would mean Democratic control

Three or four days later Senator Overman, of North Carolina, introduced what was imme-Carolina, introduced what was imme-diately recognized as an Administra-tion measure, proposing a commission to be appointed by the President, the five members to be paid salaries of $10,000 a year each, and a secretary with a salary of $5000. lect or malfeasance. The subjects for investigation by the committee or commission are practi-cally the same in each measure. They include the future of the railroads and telegraph and telephone systems; the question of Government or private ownership and operation of ships; de-mobilization of the military and civil forces engaged in war, and rehabili-tation and restoration to private indus-try; conciliation and arbitration in la-bor disputes; domestic industry and foreign trade; trusts; capital and credit, and numerous minor subjects, such as housing and disposal of Gov-ernment war property. STATIONS White House Aim Clear. The magnitude of the work cut out for the committee will be readily ap-parent. The cagerness of the White House to get control of the committee may be understood when it is remem-bered that the committee will go ex-tensively into the question of Govern-ment ownership as a peace policy and study the record of war-time experi-ments. The Administration, of course, would like to have its record inspected by its friends. White House Aim Clear. delena Kanzas City Los Angeles Marshfield by its friends. The Republican plan has one advan-tage. It provides for equal party rep-resentation, thus making it impossible for either to turn the work of the com-mittee to partisan advantage. STABBING AFFRAY IS FATAL NORBETTO LASARO KILLED BY

YSIBRA HERRANDES.

Assailant, in Confession to District

Attorney, Says He Stabbed Victim in Self-Defense.

Norbetto Lasaro, a Mexican, was stabbed below the heart at Fourth and Burnisde at 6:30 o'clock last night by Ysibra Herrandes. He died in the ele-vator at the St. Vincent's Hospital, where he was taken in the patrol wagon.

After the stabbing affray the wounded

After the stabbing affray the wounded man was taken to the Aume pharmacy and the police were notified. Inspec-tors Tackaberry, Golts and Snow were assigned to the case. Jerry C. Hurley, clerk at the Arme Pharmacy, said he heard the dying man murmur the name of Anderson. Ac-cording to F. De La Torre, a Mexican friend of the dead man, and Raleigh Holman, of the Guimby House on Burnside street, where they were seen to talk together for a few minutes. Later, Herrandes ran up the stairs into a lodging house. a lodging house.

Shortly afterwards he descended the Shortly alterwards he descended the stairs and again engaged in conversa-tion with Lasaro. The argument seemed to wax warm and suddenly Herrandes was seen to draw a knife and stab Lasaro. The stricken man fell wounded and Mr. Holman and F. De La Torre rushed to his assistance

Lester Wilson, of 344 Salmon street, witnessed the murder. Lasaro has a brother, Benito Lasaro, who mays that they have been employed in a paper mill at Camas, Wash, and returned to Porthurd toacs.

brother, Benito Lasaro, who says that they have been employed in a paper mill at Camas, Wash, and returned to Portland today. Lasaro was 13 years of age and was not married. Herrandes, who fled immediately fol-lowing the stabbing, was arrested at the Panama Hotel early this morning by Inspector Goltz and taken to the police station. It is said that he made a complete confession in the presence
