The day Mr. Smith sailed from Alaska 83 draft men were assembled at the dock preparatory to leaving for Camp Lewis. Two of the men had taken out first papers and were about to relinquish their rights to American citizenship. "Nothing doing," said the chairman of the local draft board, "Treat 'em rough, boys, but don't kill 'em." Accordingly the two men were dragged behind an automobile around town and then dumped into the selective Army.

PARENTS SAVE FOR SON

HUSBAND HURT IN SHIPYARD, YET BUYS LIBERTY BONDS.

President's Call Brings to Light Remarkable Spirit of Self-Sacrifice in Oregon.

"My husband was crippled in the shipyard, and hasn't done any work since May 9, but we have been on the farm, selling fruit—doing all the cash to help save crops for our son and other boys across the waters. We felt like we could not carry any more loans but must get up in the war and get our boys home. Please find enclosed $10 for payment on two $50 bonds. We must not turn a deaf ear to our President's call today."

This, one of the first replies to the offer of Thomas McCusker, of the Oregon Industrial Association, an ancient prospective bond purchaser, was written by Eunice M. Bothwell and J. O. Bothwell after seeing an explanation of Mr. McCusker's plan in the Oregonian.

In return two books with five $1 stamps each were sent by Mrs. McCusker. These, it was explained, may be exchanged for bonds at the State Bank when enough stamps have been received. Interest at 3 per cent will be paid during time of payments, the other 14 per cent going to the association for expenses.

In answering the communication Mr. McCusker took occasion to congratulate Mrs. and Mrs. Bothwell for the fine spirit shown. "I take this opportunity to commend the loyal spirit which prompted the subscription and it is the spirit of loyalty by the fathers and mothers of our soldiers that will win the war and by the sacrifice of those who stay at home," he said. "I hope your sons will return to you unharmed after we win the war and that your husband soon will recover from his injury."

LATE HOURS CONSIDERED

EMPLOYMENT AFTER 6 O'CLOCK QUESTION RAISED.

Industrial Welfare Commission Appoints Committee to Investigate Matter and Report.

The Industrial Welfare Commission at a meeting yesterday in the Court-house, appointed a special committee, representing the public employes and employers, to consider the question whether women shall be employed in mercantile establishments after 6 o'clock in the evening.

The committee was appointed in response to a petition from the Anti-Blue Law League. The petition, which originated with cigar merchants of the city, alleges that business is suffering because enough men for work after 6 o'clock cannot be obtained.

The committee appointed consists of A. J. Bale, Jr., president of the H. D. Williamson representatives; Bishop Walter T. Sumner, Miss Ida V. Jontz and A. L. Veazie, representing the public, and Mrs. Martha Porter, Mrs. Eva Patterson and Miss Ina Hatchell representing employes.

This committee will meet to consider the matter next Wednesday, if it decides with the Anti-Blue Law League that the employment of women after 6 o'clock is necessary, a recommendation to this effect will be made to the Industrial Welfare Commission.

BOARD MEETING DEFERRED

EMERGENCY MATTERS MAY BE CONSIDERED MONDAY.

Expected Action on Request of O. A. C. for Funds for Student Army Training Corps Postponed.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The meeting of the State Emergency Board scheduled to be held here today was adjourned for lack of a quorum. The effort will be made to get the board together next Monday.

A request by representatives of the Oregon Agricultural College for authority to create a department of the college maintenance fund to provide means for carrying on the work of the Student Army Training Corps was to have been considered. The college asks for between $27,000 and $28,000. The request was not acted upon at the meeting a week ago for the reason that the board was dubious of its authority. The matter was submitted to Attorney-General Brown, who held that the authority exists.

Another request was to have been presented by Dean Cordley, of O. A. C., chairman of the State Libe Board, and Warden Murphy, of the State Penitentiary, who is a member of the board. They ask for $5000 for the construction of bunkers. They say that the plant, now in operation, must be kept unless bunkers are built, which is impossible to keep cars at the plant continually to haul away the lime.

FRICITION BRINGS LAWSUIT

Secretary of Washington Corporation Asks $20,000 Damages.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Suit for $20,000 damages was filed in the Superior Court yesterday by Daniel K. Zimmerman, secretary of the Walla Walla Oil, Gas & Pipeline Company, against H. D. James, manager, and the company itself. The suit is the result of friction between officers of the company and culminated when notice was issued that the company would not be responsible for purchases or contracts made by Zimmerman. Zimmerman says the notice was published to make it appear that he had unlawfully obligated the company.

"I am still secretary of the company and will continue so until the trustees make a change," Mr. Zimmerman said. The company owns a large gas well in Benton County.

JACK GODWIN SPEAKS

Duty of American Citizens Set Forth to Shipyard Workers.

W. A. Godwin, of 1872 Wayland street, better known as "Three-Fingered Jack" throughout the Pacific Northwest, where he has spoken in over 700 logging camps, gave an address yesterday at noon to the men of the Grant Smith-Porter shipyard upon "Duty as an American Citizen."

The speech was an effort to bring to the workers the necessity of working up to the time the whistle blows, as the very lives of the men overseas depended upon the ships which the men on this side were constructing.

"The boys over there have no specified working hours," he said. "They often go for 36 to 40 hours with nothing more than a cup of coffee to sustain them."
