

MAKING SWINDLER SOUGHT BY OFFICIALS

H. M. Hudson, Alias Charles H. Wax, Is Wanted.

PAROLE HELD SUSPICIOUS

Grand Jury Probing Prison Scandal Would Like Testimony of Notorious Operator.

H. M. Hudson, alias Charles H. Wax, the "marrying swindler" who gained national-wide notoriety as the mysterious "Oliver Osborne" impersonator of James W. Osborne, District Attorney of New York, is being sought by state officials in connection with the prison parole scandal.

Wax Is Wanted Here.

That the notorious Wax was wanted in connection with the parole scandal was learned yesterday when it became known that he is sought as a parole violator. It is believed that he has fled from the state, and although he procured his parole less than a month ago, several criminal charges, it is said, might be brought against him because of his record during the three weeks he has been at liberty in Portland.

Hudson's Parole Puzzle.

Just how Hudson procured his parole less than a month ago, especially when he was serving a "double minimum" as an escaped convict, is something which those who are investigating the prison scandal want to learn.

Hudson, alias Wax, first came into Pacific Coast notoriety in 1913, when he was arrested on charges of forgery and theft, made by women who said they had been victimized by the good-looking swindler.

Several other women admitted they had succumbed to his wiles and by so doing had lost large sums of money. It was in early spring, last year, that Hudson, alias Wax, came into national-wide notoriety as the mysterious "Oliver Osborne," who impersonated ex-District Attorney James W. Osborne, of New York, in making love to Miss Tanzer.

Newberg Woman Victim.

Mrs. L. Kie, formerly of Newberg, was in 1913 one of the principal accusers of Hudson. She alleges she stole $10,000 in money and jewelry from her in a New York hotel. She says she made his acquaintance on a train while going into New York City and that he followed her into the hotel, where the robbery was accomplished.

Hudson in his last letter failed to tell Keller the whereabouts of the other job he intended to take, and the parole office is at sea as to where Hudson may be.

Hudson may be.

Dr. Smith, who is seeking to break the will in which Mrs. Faling left the bulk of her estate to Messrs. Mead and Strong, demands that some other person be named to serve with them. He charges the estate may be dissipated. YOUTH DEMANDS $25,000

LITTLE JOHN BRYANT FILES SUIT FOR SHARE OF FORTUNE. Father Will Receive $180,000 Today, When He Becomes Thirty Years of Age.

Suit to obtain a share of a fortune which his father will receive today was filed in the Circuit Court yesterday by 5-year-old John D. Bryant, who demands that a trust fund of $25,000 be set aside for him until he reaches the age of 21 years. The suit was filed through Sarah Bryant, aunt and guardian of the boy.

It is alleged that the father, Blinn B. Bryant, aged 73, was bequeathed approximately $180,000 by his grandmother, Julia E. Blinn, who died in 1916. The money was left in trust with the provision that he should receive it when he became 30 years of age. Mr. Bryant will reach that age today.

The complaint filed by the youth against his father asserts that the father has never provided for his support. The father and mother have lived apart since the boy was a few months old. It is also charged that the father has dissipated what funds he has heretofore received and the complaint asks that he be restrained from transferring property to which he becomes heir today until such a time as the petition of the small son is settled in court.

The boy asks that his father be compelled to set aside the sum of $25,000 in a trust fund, from which he can receive approximately $125 a month for his support until he reaches his majority. The boy now lives with his mother.

An Urgent Appeal to Restrict the Use of the Telephone

The large number of operators now absent because of illness makes it necessary for us to again appeal to the public to restrict their use of the telephone and to urge their friends to do likewise.

The thanks of the Company and the community are due those patriotic and conscientious patrons who confine their use of the telephone to essential calls, thereby helping the service of war industries, hospitals and stricken homes of our city.
