TUESDAY MORNING LIST.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The following casualties are reported tonight by

"The President, who is commander-in-chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, must not have the au-thority divided in the United States between Congress on the one hand and himself on the other. We must pre-serve unity in America if we are to maintain victories on the front and gain the kind of peace for which America fights. The only way to secure ls to return a Congress which is willing to support the President fully, and such a Congress must be composed of a majority in full sympathy with his views, policies and ideals."

The Tageblatt points out that such action is all the Bolshevik have been waiting for to turn loose with their revolution, saying: "This playing with fire must be prevented by decisive action."

Situation Clearly Serious.

The Tageblatt cites Lebedour as saying in the Reichstag: "General head-jue according to judgment of the Austro-Hungarian government, to the beginning of these negotiations. "The Austro-Hungarian government to the beginning of these negotiations, where the beginning of these negotiations, where the beginning of these negotiations. The Austro-Hungarian government the propagation of the Austro-Hungarian government declares itself rendy. In consequence, without awaiting the result of other negotiations, to enter into negotiations and the states, in the opposing group and the states, in the opposing the states are stated to the beginning of these negotiations.

The Tagebiatt cites Lebedour as saying in the Reichstag: "General head-quarters is preparing a pronunclamento," and the paper adds: "Lebedour spoke ironically but the affair is serious. Since Hindenburg and Ludendorff have asked for an armistice their opinion has changed because the retreat in the west has succeeded without too much sacrifice. A complete out too much sacrifice.
