Lieutenant Day, Former Multnomah Club Player, Dons Uniform of Vancouver Team.

VANCOUVER BARRACKS, Wash...
Nov. 12.—(Special.)—With three of his husky chargers seriously injured and out of the game for at least two weeks. Coach "Tick" Malarkey, of the Post team, is working his soldier players overtime, whipping them into shape for the game to be played with the Camp Lewis team next Sunday.

Steere, Geuple and Davis received injuries in the game last Saturday against the Chemawa Indians, which the hospital surgeons assert will prevent any of them entering the fray on Sunday.

third base for the First Regiment Rabbits, one of the strongest clubs on the station. He broke into the limelight by flogging a home run over the Camp Dewey drill hall, a smash that might be compared to a tift over the left fence of any major league park.

Not only did Doyle lead the league in hitting, but some of his slugging records are remarkable for an amateur. He gathered a dozen home runs and nine triples.

He has signed with the St. Louis Cardinals, the centract calling for his services after he is mustered out of the Nayy. A special contract for him was drawn by the National commission and forwarded to St. Louis.

Doyle is 21 years old, hits and throws right handed and uses his head.

McADOO. SIMMONS CONFER

Uncertainty as to Future Government Needs Causes Hesitation in Greatly Reducing Revenue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Peace to-day threw into the conference between Congressional and Treasury officials the question of whether the tax burden planned in the pending revenus bill could be lightened, in view of prospective reduction of expenditures.

Senator Simmons, chairman of the Senate finance committee; Chairman Kitchin, of the House ways and means committee, and Secretary McAdoo discussed the problem, but reached no conclusion.

conclusion.

Mr. McAdoo said he would undertake an immediate survey of the Government's tentative plans for return of the Army from abroad, for curtailing war orders, and other phases of warto-peace conversion, and make recommendations within a few days.

The uncertainty of future Government financial needs and the urgent need of pushing the revenue legislation to completion at an early date, constitute the principal reasons prompting many Congressional leaders, both Democrats and Republicans, today to advocate that the bill be not changed to reduce the revenue to any great extent.

Already the Senate has revised it s

Already the Senate has revised it so that the income is estimated at about $6,250,060,000, instead of the $8,000,000,000 provided by the House draft. Treasury officials also pointed out that a large inflow of taxes would reduce the volume of war bonds which must be floated in the Spring.

Demand for immediate steps to cut down expenditures is coming strongly from both parties in Congress. Senators Borah and Smoot, Republicans, in addresses in the Senate today, urged immediate curtaliment of vast Government expenditures, and said Democratic Leader Martin would have difficulty in carrying out his recently announced economy programme unless the public is informed of the details of all expenditures.

"Senator Martin will find these will is informed of the details of all expenditures.

"Senator Martin will find there will be 1900 reasons advanced for maintaining and extending existing bureaus," said Senator Borah. "One thing Congress has never been able to do is to abolish an office or a department."

Senator Smoot said the time had come to point out how the saving could be brought about. He urged immediate curtailment of Washington war bureaus, some of which, he said, have as many as 10,000 employes.
