

HOPE OF GIVING AID TO RUSSIA IS SEEN

Bolshevik Leaders Concentrate Army Against Allies.

ATTACKS ARE BEATEN OFF

Washington Believes Strength of Reds is Waning, but Fall of Regime Soon Is Not Expected.

CONGRESS TO QUIT TODAY

PLANS FOR BRIEF VACATION PRACTICALLY COMPLETED.

Formal Matters Yet to Be Disposed Of; Last Session of Present Body Opens Dec. 2.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Senate and House leaders today completed arrangements for the ending tomorrow of the present session of Congress.

Red Leaders May Flee. Recent reports from London have been taken by some observers here to indicate that Great Britain may propose the sending of additional troops to Russia to place the country on a stable footing and eliminate the Bolsheviks.

Possibility that the Bolshevik leaders may flee Russia after accumulating large amounts of loot has been touched upon in recent dispatches but has been discounted here, largely because no haven for them appears available.

Switzerland has ejected their representatives forcibly, and has declared they are not wanted there, and even Germany now is not expected to tolerate them within its borders.

Allies Repel Attacks.

The Bolshevik fighting strength virtually is concentrated against the allied and Russian troops operating south from Archangel.

The unusual lateness of the winter in that region has aided the Bolsheviks, as in the ice-free streams they have been able to utilize armed river boats against the allied and United States forces, who have been compelled to operate almost altogether on land.

Despite the resistance they are offering in the north, it is believed in some quarters here that the strength of the Bolsheviks is waning.

With the Cossacks holding the Ukraine, with the military and political forces of the Omsk government working west, and with the allied and United States forces pushing south, some officials consider that the position of the disturbers of Russian peace has become serious.

ALLIES WILL KEEP HANDS OFF

Effort Will Be Made Only to Extend Economic Aid to Slavs.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(Special.)—The allied powers and the United States will not send military forces to Russia to overthrow the Bolsheviks, it was declared here today on high authority.

The associated governments themselves do not desire to participate in civil war in Russia.

The Russians themselves, including the anti-Bolshevik and pro-allied elements, are opposed to foreign military intervention.

It is understood that a plan has been formulated, which will be submitted to the United States and other nations, having the endorsement of the provisional all-Russian government at Omsk and the Russian diplomatic representatives.

This plan calls for allied assistance in the distribution of foodstuffs already available in certain parts of Russia, rather than for any political or military assistance.

In order to guarantee equitable and efficient distribution, however, it is proposed that an inter-allied commission with sufficient military forces at its disposal to insure the execution of its orders shall be sent to Russia.

FIGHTING IS FIERCE IN GALICIA

Numerous Towns Are Seized by Ukrainians From Poles.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Since the capture of Lemberg, the capital of Galicia, by the Ukrainians, November 1, fighting has continued between the Ukrainians and the Poles without cessation.

According to Austrian newspapers quoted in a Vienna dispatch dated Monday to the Daily Mail.

Lemberg was taken by surprise. Polish legions attempted to recapture the city. Both sides are using artillery and German officers are helping the Ukrainians.

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely.

To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and after four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Adv.

has been stopped and the residents are unable to leave their homes. The rattle of machine guns has been continuous and there was fierce fighting between the town hall, the postoffice, the Diet building and the Governor's palace, parts of the buildings being destroyed.

TRIUMPHANT ENTRY IS MADE INTO METZ

Famous Iron Division Occupies Place of Honor in Parade.

HUN STATUES TORN DOWN

French General Reviews Troops in Front of Statue of Marshal Ney. Brilliant Scene Is Enacted.

METZ, Nov. 20.—Marshal Petain, commander-in-chief of the French armies, made his triumphant entry into Metz yesterday with a staff of allied officers at the head of the famous Iron Division, the 39th Division of the 20th Corps.

From all the statues of French heroes still standing in Metz flags were flying, but most things German had disappeared overnight, including the statues of German rulers, which had been hauled down by the citizens.

The statue of William I and Frederick III had been toppled over, but that of former Emperor William II stood grotesquely on the facade of the cathedral. The hands had been chained during the night and into them had been put a banner bearing the inscription, "Sic Transit Gloria Mundi."

Troops Are Reviewed. Following the troops was a long procession of Lorraine societies and other groups, including a great number of girls in the national costume of Lorraine.

This procession met the Marshal at the Port de France and conducted him in triumph to the Esplanade, where, surrounded by a remarkable group of generals and other high officers, he reviewed the troops.

The day was one of notable enthusiasm, which dusk failed to diminish. Bands with torches appeared as soon as the light began to fade and jubilant processions continued gaily to circulate through the town until a late hour.

Meanwhile from the French line all around the fortress there was a brilliant display of fireworks which brightly lighted the sky, signal guns and starshells serving as skyrockets.

Bells Ring Welcome. A little later the cannon of the forts around about the city began firing a salute of 200 rounds.

The famous cathedral bell, the motto on which reads: "I Announce Justice," gave the signal for the other bells in the city to peal forth a welcome to "our liberators," as the people of Metz call the French and the allied armies.

When Marshal Petain appeared, mounted on a fine white charger and followed by his staff, he was greeted with American and British officers attached, a shout went up that drowned the whirr of airplanes flying overhead, and the crowd surged forward, breaking the line of guards in places to get a glimpse of the victorious commander of the French armies.

Thanks Are in Parade. Still mounted, Marshal Petain took up his position in front of the statue of Marshal Ney to review the troops comprising the 39th Division of Infantry, with its artillery, under General Pougin; a detachment of the 1st and 2nd Corps of Cavalry, under General Pezard; other mounted troops under General De Boisjoly; two escorting squadrons from the First Moroccan Division and a detachment of tanks.

FIRE-PREVENTION DAY SET

Week of Publicity Planned for Education of Portlanders.

Saturday, December 7, was set as Fire Prevention day and the week of October 27 as Fire Prevention week for Portland by the committee in charge yesterday.

The parade will be held despite the lateness of the season, it was decided. Prospects of fair weather were declared good by Aaron Frank, chairman of the parade committee, following a reference to the weather records kept at his store.

Other publicity features will be speaking, films and signs. Schools, theaters, churches, auto-owners, business houses, four-mique speakers and others will be enlisted in the week's campaign to let Portlanders know how to keep the flames away.

FORD CARS EXPECTED SOON

Production at Factory to Be Resumed as Soon as Possible.

Production of Ford cars at the Detroit factory will be resumed as soon as it is possible to change from war work, according to W. S. McNamara, manager of the Ford Motor Company's factory at the Eleventh and Division streets.

All new cars will be shipped out of Detroit for the time being, Mr. McNamara said, but as soon as material is available assembling and manufacturing work will be resumed at the Portland plant.

Turning to war work reduced the force of men employed at the Portland Ford factory to about 30. As soon as work is resumed here on a normal basis approximately 200 workmen will be employed. Mr. McNamara estimates that it will require four or five months to fully reorganize.
