BISHOP HUGHES RETURNS

SIX METHODIST CONFERENCES IN EAST PRESIDED OVER.

Sermon Delivered in Historic Chapel of 13 Colonies—Much Money Voted for Reconstruction Work.

Bishop Matt S. Hughes has returned from three months' visit in the East, during which time he has presided at six Methodist conferences and addressed the large churches of New York and Philadelphia. Before returning to the West Bishop Hughes was assigned to preside at two conferences in Arkansas in December and to the Hawaiian mission conference in Honolulu in February.

On leaving Portland in August Bishop Hughes went to the Northwest German conference in Garner, Iowa. From there he was called to the Iowa conference in Bloomfield, then to the Nebraska conference, which was held in Lincoln; to the Des Moines conference held in Jefferson, Iowa; to the conference of Northwest Iowa at Estherville, and to the conference of upper Iowa at Clinton. In New York he made the address at St. John's Street Methodist Church on the 150th anniversary of the founding of the church, the oldest in Methodist in America.

The Board of Bishops met at Yonkers on November 5 and 6. At the close of these sessions Bishop Hughes left for Milford, Del. to attend the sessions of the Foreign Board of Missions. Eight miles from Milford is Barrett's chapel, erected in 1780, one of the most historic spots in all of the 13 colonies. Bishop Hughes preached in this little chapel one Sunday. During his visit in Delaware he was a guest at the home of the parents of Rev. Francis Burgette Short, pastor of Wilbur Methodist Church of Portland.

On Sunday, November 10, Bishop Hughes was again in New York, where he preached at the Madison Avenue Methodist Church. Later he went to Philadelphia to attend the meeting of the Board of Home Missions.

"Among the things accomplished at these sessions of the National board was to add $5,000,000 to the Centenary fund of $80,000,000," said Bishop Hughes. "This extra money is to be raised within the coming year and will be devoted exclusively to reconstruction work. All churches of the country are bending every effort to raise their quotas and we were surprised and delighted when we found that the city of Buenos Aires in South America was the first city to go over the top. The Board of Foreign Missions also revealed the astonishing fact that the Chinese are among the heaviest contributors to the Centenary fund."

Klamath Asked for Air Landing. (Klamath Falls, Or., Nov. 22.—Special.)—The Klamath Falls may be listed as a station of an aerial mail route between Sacramento and Seattle is indicated in a telegram received by Mayor C. E. Crisler today, asking if a 40-acre level tract could be secured for a landing place for an experimental trip. Mayor Crisler, with other business men, made a trip through the country nearby this afternoon, and were offered space such as they desired by Asa Fordyce, at the Altamont ranch, two miles east of the city.

TWO MAYORS IN OFFICE

LEGALITY OF KLAMATH FALLS ELECTION QUESTIONED.

Decision of Supreme Court Awaited as Settlement of Perplexing Situation.

(Klamath Falls, Or., Nov. 22.—Special.)—The unusual spectacle of two Mayors seated side by side at the council table was witnessed at the regular meeting of the City Council at the City Hall Tuesday evening. That each was firmly resolved to carry off the honors of the occasion was evident from the way each opened the meeting and ordered Police Judge Leavitt to read the minutes of the previous session. The altercation was a continuation of the discussion held at the meeting previous, when L. E. Struble, who was elected on the 5th of this month at the city election, was given the oath of office and demanded the seat of Mayor C. E. Crisler, who refused to surrender the office until the legality of Struble's election had been settled beyond doubt.

Following a spirited discussion as to the relative merits of the position of both parties, City Attorney R. C. Groesbeck made an appeal to Mr. Struble, urging his patience in the matter until a legal decision could be secured from the Supreme Court, or until the somewhat similar condition in Portland had been settled and the legality of the recent city election judged by that court. The matter was adjusted for the present on that basis.

A special election by the people of the Third Ward had been ordered by the City Council for December 12 to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Councilman I. R. Struble.

Elks to Hold Memorial. VANCOUVER, Wash., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The Elks will hold memorial services for their departed brothers Sunday, December 11. George M. Hyland, a local editor, will deliver the eulogy to the 26 dead members, 12 of whom have died since services were

LUCKY MAN SLIGHTLY HURT

Mishap Recalls Miraculous Escape Some Years Ago.

C. E. Nelson, 45, of 1547 Belmont street, was slightly injured Thursday morning when he was struck by a motortruck driven by Marvin Johnson, at Forty-fifth and Sandy Road. Mr. Nelson was taken to Good Samaritan Hospital, where his injuries were found not to be serious, and shortly afterwards returned to his home. Old-time residents will recall that it was none other than C. E. Nelson, now in the United States Lighthouse Service, and formerly a well-known contractor, who sustained a miraculous escape a score of years ago when The Oregonian building was in process of construction. Employed on the structure at that time he fell from the ninth floor to the basement, striking a scantling on route. The scantling was smashed by the impact, but it broke the force of the fall and he alighted with but minor injuries.

HOOD RIVER CHAPTER HONORED.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The local Red Cross chapter yesterday received three certificates of merit, which will entitle the organization to ship directly to foreign or domestic hospitals without a further inspection supplies made by the departments of knitting, hospital gar-
