SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. S .- (Special.) -America will make a determined bid in China, Japan and the Strait settlements for dyes and chemical imports. formerly an exclusive trade hold by Germany, according to Wayne Cadwal-lader, official of the R. M. Ford & Co., Inc., New York manufacturers, who arrived in San Francisco today on his way to the Orient.

Germany, for the past 10 years, made apecialty of producing dyes and hemicals, which she was able to do at an extremely low cost because their production was intimately connected with the manufacture of ammunition and the potash industry, he said.

and the potash industry, he said.

German Trade to Be Absorbed.

Mr. Cadwallader, who is at a local hotel waiting a steamer, is the advance agent of 25 others who will go to the Far East to exploit American chemicals and dyes on an extensive scale. College graduates, who have made a study of chemistry, will follow on the next steamer. Moving pictures, showing how American dyes are made, will play an important part in the scheme of Mr. Cadwallader to convince the Far East that Americanvince the Far East that American-made chemicals and dyes are superior to the made-in-Germany goods

Explaining the dye industry, Mr. Cadwallader today said:
"For 10 years Germany has had the field to herself. Secretly she manufac-fured ammunition on a huge scale and could afford to sell the by-product— chemicals and dyes—at such a low ice that no other nation could afford

Inspection Is Provided.

Dyes and chemicals, he said, are hy-roducts in the manufacture of T. N. T. tro-napthaline, benzidin and toluidin To protect the expected trade and to keep under supervision American ex-porting companies who deal in chemiporting companies who deal in chemicals and dyes, Mr. Cadwallader explained, the United States Government has decided to inspect all exported dyes and chemicals, so as to insure satisfaction of the buyers. This step was taken after it was reported that certain American firms had sold inferior goods on contracts made by showing high-class samples. It will also, he said, prevent an enemy concern from selling inferior goods as of American manufacture, thereby injuring the sale of bona fide American goods.

Mr. Cadwallader will leave for the Orient on the next steamer. The other members of the trade party will leave within 30 days.

Under the contracts held by builders only trial trips of six hours are provided for and they are run in the river. That test continues to be carried out, and in addition the sea trials are made later. The reason for the run in deep water is to put the ships through strenuous steaming under actual sea conditions and any weaknesses are expected to be developed through them.

New Express Rate on Dairy Product Responsible.

Portland Quotation May Go From 14 % Cents to 15 % Cents Per Quart.

Two effects of the 25 per cent incase in express rates on milk, crean and butterfat, announced to become ef-fective January 1, by Secretary McAdoo, as head of the Railroad Administration, are foreseen. Vigorous attempt to push the price of milk in Portland from 14½ to 15½ cents per quart will be one of the consequences. Protest and action not set formulated by creamery interests will be another.

League Meets Tomorrow. The Oregon Dairymen's League, at which the new cost problem will first be considered, will convene in the City Library at 10 o'clock tomorrow morn-ing. Election of officers, including 25 directors, will be an order of business. "The increase will hurt our business a lot," declared a Portland creamery manager. Another creamery official pointed out that the average transportation cost his firm meets is almost identically the same as the profit. This is between 4½ and 5 per cent. Obviously, an increase of 25 per cent in the cost of transportation will work an equal reduction in profits, unless—the creamerymen force some sort of read-instment.
