

BANK ROBBER DAVIS CAPTURED BY WOMAN

Mrs. Lola G. Baldwin Locates Youth in San Francisco.

FUGITIVE LIVES MODESTLY

Captor Says Boy Has Good Record Prior to Theft, and Will Accompany Him to Portland.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—The police announced tonight they were in possession of $32,152 in cash and securities recovered from Arthur C. Davis, 21-year-old clerk, who was taken into custody by the authorities today on a charge of having embezzled approximately $25,000 from the East Side Bank of Portland, Or., where he was a former employe.

Davis was arrested through the instrumentality of Mrs. L. J. Baldwin, a Portland policewoman, who is in San Francisco on a leave of absence. She recognized Davis, and after talking with him, convinced him he should surrender.

Davis, according to the police, spent approximately $2000 of the money for an automobile and living expenses. Detectives said tonight they found that Davis had opened checking accounts in two banks.

Liberty Bonds Located. He also had on deposit in a safety vault liberty bonds, war savings stamps and bonds of the city of Portland, Denver & Rio Grande Railroad and certificates of deposit on the East Side Bank of Portland, all amounting to $20,000 in value.

Davis has a wife and two children in Portland. Mrs. Baldwin has been a social welfare worker for 15 years, and her official position is supervisor of the Seventh District, Section I, Women and Girls' War Department Commission, covering five states, and her headquarters are in this city.

Mrs. Baldwin today, "I telegraphed Chief of Police N. F. Johnson, of Portland, immediately after I located Davis and the money, and I personally took him to the City Hall and turned him over to the authorities.

Details of Capture Concealed. "I am not going to tell just how I captured him, although I say that I apprehended him. I went to his room—he was living in a modest, reputable place—and I persuaded him to turn over the money to me.

"The boy is not yet 20 years old. He has never committed a theft of any kind before. He is being employed in the East Side Bank Company there, and his record was clean—so clean, in fact, that President Newell, of the bank, took him without bonds and subject to such temptation."

Mrs. Baldwin visited Mrs. Davis, girl-wife of 18 years, and their baby of 15 months, when she was in Portland last month. "My heart is broken over the affair," continued Mrs. Baldwin.

Birth of Baby Surprised. The case came to my attention in connection with my social welfare work. He did not know until last night, when I told him, that a second baby had been born to them.

"He did not give me any reason for taking the money. The family had been living within their means carefully and with an eye to the coming event. It seemed simply a case of momentary submission to temptation, and then, after he had taken the money, he had to carry it through. He bought an automobile while he was here, and some books. Otherwise he did not squander the money recklessly."

Mrs. Baldwin says she will go back to Portland with Davis and the authorities, where she will work in an effort to obtain probation for him. At the Hall of Justice today the boy looked more like a well-dressed college student investigating the causes of crime than like a thief who has confessed to the taking of thousands in bank funds. Whether it was a longing for the luxuries of wealth or just the lure of money, Davis would not explain. It was only when mention of his wife or his children was made that the boy, who seems very immature, was at all depressed.

No Woman in Case.

"They'll get me in Portland. They're all sore at me," he said. "I am going to make a hard fight, but I can never tell the reason why I did it; but it wasn't another woman. The papers said I was, but they soon found out it wasn't true. The girl and I have always been happy. We went to school together. There never was any trouble at home, and I was not in debt and I never drink."

"So it was not because I wanted high life. I can't tell the reason, but I know it well. There is always a cause for every action."

"I've been in San Francisco nearly all of the time since the first of November. I've gone to the theaters and I've driven everywhere in my roadster. I met the detectives again and again, but they never suspected me."

Theft Is Made Hurdled.

"On the morning of November 1, I went to the bank early. I took currency, liberty bonds, mortgages, notes and deeds. I did not stop to sort them out. Then I left the bank in a machine. I went to my home. It was just about 7 o'clock and I knew that the clerks would reach the bank at 8 o'clock and that the theft would be detected at once. I did not have much time."

"My wife was surprised to see me return. I gave her $1000 in cash. She became very excited for she knew that I did not have that much in ready money. I did not tell her what I had done, but I kissed her good-bye and told her I was going away for a few days."

"I knew she would need money and I intended to send her more just as soon as I could. I did not leave Portland for several days. It would not have been advisable. Then I came to San Francisco and I made a trip to Salt Lake in order to mail the bank mortgages and deeds which I could not use."

"I wrote to my wife. I told her many things. I never heard a word from her and now I know that she never got that letter. Then I came to San Francisco and enjoyed myself, but I did not spend much money. In all I guess I did not use more than $2500. I know that she will be glad for me to see it, too."

The boy is serenely confident of a warm-hearted reception from his wife.

Mrs. Baldwin Notifies Official of Capture of Davis.

Arthur C. Davis has been known since childhood to Mrs. Lola G. Baldwin, chief of the women's protective division of the Portland police department, who apprehended him in San Francisco and caused his arrest, after more than a month of fruitless search on the part of detective agencies. The looting of the East Side Bank took place November 1.

In her message to Chief of Police Johnson Mrs. Baldwin indicates that Davis is conscience-stricken, longing to again see his wife and two baby children in Portland, and was about ready to give up. The telegram read: "I have located Arthur Davis and have in my possession large funds belonging to the bank. He will return without extradition papers and make amends for his act. Send for him. (Signed) MRS. LOLA G. BALDWIN." Mrs. Baldwin left Portland about a year ago on leave of absence in order that she might engage in war work for the department of training camp activities, and it was this work that brought her to San Francisco. At the time of the bank robbery Mrs. Baldwin was in Portland, and she paid several visits to the bank.

It is expected that Mrs. Baldwin will receive as reward about $1000 or more if Davis is found. She has a reward of $500 and 10 per cent of the money recovered was offered by the bank.

According to the president of the bank, Davis stole $1500 in silver, $6000 in currency, $1000 in gold and $10,000 in liberty bonds.

Davis is a youth of 20 years and had been working for the East Side Bank as clerk for only a few weeks. Previous to accepting this position, he had been employed by the Davidson Baking Company, with which firm his record is said to have been excellent.

Davis disappeared on the morning following the discovery that the vaults at the bank had been rifled. He left $2000 in cash with his young wife, which she later returned to the bank.

Three weeks after he disappeared from Portland, a suitcase containing all the non-negotiable papers which Davis had carried away with him was received by the bank from Salt Lake City. In spite of this clue to his whereabouts, however, he continued to evade the police authorities, and was not seen or heard of again until Mrs. Baldwin apprehended him Monday.

Davis has been married for two years and is the father of two children, one of which was born after his disappearance. When Mrs. Davis was told yesterday of the arrest of her husband she displayed joy at the thought that her husband would soon be near her again. She seemed to be bothered little by the circumstances of his returning.

Arthur Davis is the son of Reverend and Mrs. C. Howard Davis, and at the time of his disappearance had a large number of friends in church circles of the city.

'SEA WOLF' STIRRING PLAY

HOBBART BOSWORTH HEADLINER AT ORPHEUM SHOW.

Massive Stage Setting Requires Special Car to Carry It Along Circuit.

An act that has been praised by the dramatic critics of New York as the most daring and dramatic before the American public, "The Sea Wolf," as presented by Hobart Bosworth, headliner of the current Orpheum show which will be presented here for the last time this afternoon. A portion of the picture, "The Sea Wolf," filmed from Jack London's famous story, leads to the action of the playlet, and the thrilling finale of the story then is acted by Mr. Bosworth and his company.

The scene is a section of a sealing schooner. This stage setting is not only one of the most realistic seen at the Orpheum, but the most massive, a special car being required to carry it along the circuit. Portrayal of the stirring play occupies 45 minutes and the artistry of Mr. Bosworth as Wolf Larsen holds intense interest throughout.

The added attraction is the act of the Courtney sisters, Fay and Florence, ragtime and ballad singers, who have just returned to vaudeville with great success in a long tour in musical comedy. The third feature is Bert Fitzgibbon, the original daffy-dill.

This Orpheum show is reported to have shattered box office records, and its drawing power in Portland has been great on account of the fame of Mr. Bosworth, the headliner, and the popularity of the Misses Courtney and Bert Fitzgibbon.

BRITISH LABOR FOR WILSON

DISARMAMENT ON LAND AND SEA IS DEMANDED.

Union Leaders Depend on President to Uphold Views so as to Prevent Future Conflicts.

BY JOSEPH W. GRIGG. (Copyright by the Press Publishing Company, Inc., New York World. Published by arrangement.)

LONDON, Dec. 17.—(Special.)—British labor will be conspicuous in the celebrating attending President Wilson's arrival here. There will be an important meeting tomorrow of representatives of the Trades Union Congress and the political labor party to discuss preparation of the address, which, as told on Sunday in a dispatch to the World, labor intends presenting to the President when he arrives. Labor leaders said today the government would not oppose such action, which would be similar to that taken in

THE WAY TO USE VAPORUB FOR SPANISH INFLUENZA

The Influenza Germs Attack the Lining of the Air Passages. When VapoRub is Applied Over Throat and Chest, the Medicated Vapors Inhaled Loosen the Phlegm, Open the Air Passages and Stimulate the Mucous Membrane to Throw off the Germs.

Most authorities now agree that what we call Spanish Influenza is simply the old-fashioned grip, which was epidemic here in 1889-90. The influenza germs enter through the nose and mouth and attack the lining of the air passages—nose, throat and bronchial tubes. There is no cure or specific for this disease, but Nature will throw off the attack if only you conserve your strength. A competent physician should always be called. The use of VapoRub does not interfere with any internal treatment and it is now being used by broad-minded physicians everywhere in order to stimulate the lining of the air passages to throw off the grip germs, to aid in loosening the phlegm and keeping the air passages open, thus making the breathing easier. Hot, wet towels should be applied over the throat, chest and back between the shoulder blades to open the pores. Then VapoRub should be rubbed in over the parts until the skin is red, sore and thickly and covered with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck, as the heat of the body liberates the ingredients in the form of vapors. These vapors, inhaled with each breath, carry the medication directly to the parts affected. At the same time, VapoRub is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, attracting the blood to the surface, and thus aids in relieving the congestion within.

HOW TO AVOID THE DISEASE. Evidence seems to prove that Spanish Influenza is a germ disease, spread principally by human contact, chiefly through coughing, sneezing or spitting. So avoid persons having colds—which means avoiding crowds—common drinking cups, roller towels, etc. Keep up your bodily strength by plenty of exercise in the open air, and good food. KEEP FREE FROM COLDS. Above all, avoid colds, as colds irritate the lining of the air passages and render them much better breeding places for the germs. Use Vick's VapoRub at the very first sign of a cold. For a head cold melt a little VapoRub in a spoon and inhale the vapors, or better still, use VapoRub in a benzoin steam kettle. If this is not available, use an ordinary tea-kettle. Fill half full of boiling water, put in half a teaspoon of VapoRub from time to time—keep the kettle just slowly boiling and inhale the steam arising.

NOTE—Vick's VapoRub is the discovery of a North Carolina druggist, who found how to combine, in salve form, Menthol and Camphor with such volatile oils as Eucalyptus, Thyme, Cubebs, etc., so that when the salve is applied to the body heat, these ingredients are liberated in the form of vapors. VapoRub can be had in three sizes—30c, 50c, $1.25—at all druggists. While comparatively new in certain parts of the North, it is the standard home remedy in the South and West for all forms of cold troubles—over six million jars were sold last year. VapoRub is particularly recommended for children's colds or colds, as it is externally applied and can, therefore, be used freely and often—without the slightest harmful effects.—Adv.
