DEEDS OF DARING RELATED

Fearless Courage and Initiative of Major William A. Aird, of Tacoma, Highly Lauded.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The commander-in-chief of the American expeditionary forces in France and Belgium, in the name of the President, has awarded the distinguished service cross to the following named officers and soldiers for the acts of extraordinary heroism described after their names:

Major William A. Aird, 8th Machine Gun Battalion. For extraordinary heroism in action between the Meuse River and the Argonne Forest, France, September 28, to October 4, 1918. Major Aird repeatedly reorganized the infantry on the left flank of his division sector, and by his sound tactics and good judgment, kept the attack progressing against snipers, machine-gun nests, and artillery. He personally on several occasions went forward to reconnoiter and then led the attack against the discovered positions. He captured three enemy 77-millimeter guns, and by sighting through the bore, turned their fire on hostile emplacements and machine-gun nests, destroying many such nests. His fearless courage, and initiative were an inspiration and example to those under him, and to his efforts much of the splendid progress on this portion of the field was due. Home address, Mrs. Ora Belle Aird, Ingleside Apartments, Tacoma, Wash.

Personal Danger Disregarded. Sergeant Ralph Eithier, Headquarters Company, 361st Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Genes, France, September 26, 1918. Sergeant Eithier who was in charge of the signal section attached to the attacking battalion, displayed remarkable coolness and disregard for personal danger in bringing the battalion telephone line through heavy artillery and machine-gun fire to the ridge which was being attacked, and there establishing communication with regimental headquarters. Home address, Dan Eithier, 14 South State street, Topock, Ariz.

Supply Sergeant Abraham Thord, Company B, 361st Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Genes, France, September 23, 1918. Sergeant Thord, although badly wounded, crawled 500 meters under heavy shell fire to deliver important papers to his company commander. Home address, Nathan Levins, friend, Roxburg, Idaho.

Tacoma Cook Is Honored. Cook Reginald Johnson, Company B, 361st Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Genes, France, September 29-October 1, 1918. Under heavy shell fire, and badly wounded, he constantly assisted in the carrying of supplies for an entire battalion in the front line. Home address, Lewis Johnson, friend, 5110 Forty-fifth street, Tacoma, Wash.

Pharmacist's Mate Third Class George Douglas Uitt, United States Navy, attached to sixteenth hospital, headquarters United States Marine Corps. For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Etienne-Arnes, France, October 6, 1918. Pharmacist's Mate Uitt displayed remarkable bravery and coolness in giving medical aid to wounded marines while going forward to his company waves during the attack north of Blanc Mont Ridge and near St. Etienne-Arnes, France, on October 6, 1918. Late in the afternoon of the same date, while giving first aid to a wounded marine in an advance machine-gun post, he was shot and seriously wounded in the chest by a sniper. Home address, G. M. Witt, Harrington, Wash.
