Prices Raised $3.90 a Ton by Local Millers.

CONSUMER IS PROTECTED

Little Reduction Will Be Made in Flour Bids Submitted to Government.

Millfeed prices were advanced resterday. candled stock was offered at 70 cents wit but not to the extent that was expected. few takers, Instead of a $10 rise that was considered, the price was put up $3.96 a ton. The new quotations on mill run, f. o. b. mill, are $36 to carrious, $38.50 for mixed carr. $38 for ton lots or over, and $39 for less than ton lots.

lots or over, and $39 for less than ton lots.

While all are agreed that an advance in feed is necessary to offset such a decline in flour as will invite Government buying in this territory, the miliers were disposed to lighten the burden on feed consumers as much as possible and let the allies have a second much as possible and let the ailles pay a PORTLAND MARKET QUOTATION price, if they will, for the flour they here. They are, therefore, offering flour for expert at only a slight reduction from the old price, and if business can be worked on this basis, there may be no further rise in milifeed prices. It, on the other hand, it is necessary to cut export shortage was made more acute by shipments to outs'de points. Dealers obtained #4@46 cents Sunday and at the opening of business yesterday the market was strong at 46 cents. As the day wors on the price advanced steadily until it touched 50 and 51 cents. At least 1000 pounds are known to have moved at the lat-ter price and more could have been sold had they been available. A feature of the trade this year was the heavy buying by Califor-nians, who not only operated in the valley.

this year was the heavy buying by Californians, who not only operated in the valley, but Oakland dealers also bought turkeys on the Portiand market Sunday.

Dressed geese were scarce and wold at 42 cents and dressed ducks went as high as 50 cents. Live poultry cleaned up at firm prices.

> Prime Grade of Swine Advances to $17.25-North Portland Yards Have Large Run.

The local livestonk market was a strong and active affair. Seventy loads were received at North Portland and buying was brisk throughout the day. Steems advanced acres sown last Fall. The increase over last year would undoubtedly have been larger, but farmers were handicapped by the labor shortage. Sacrificing the fallow land in order to plant as much wheat as possible last year and the continued tendency to favor Spring wheat, were contributing factors. The
