

VANK HEROES RETURN ON CHRISTMAS EVE

Rejoicing Veterans Welcomed by New York Residents.

SHIP'S ARRIVAL CHEERED

American Army in France Sends Greeting to Army at Home—San Francisco Has Celebration.

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—In a cold, driving rain that in the past has suspended their ardor, 2561 American troops came into port today aboard the big French liner France, Christmas eve ship of the fleet of the transports that is bringing back the American expeditionary forces...

The returning troops included 1504 wounded men from nearly every state in the Union, their injuries ranging from bullet wounds in arms and legs to shell shock and cases which will require months of treatment.

There were in waiting at the dock a military band and delegations from the canteen service of the American Red Cross. The enthusiasm and "home for Christmas" spirit that was displayed during the trip up the harbor was more than doubled as the ship rounded into her berth.

The appearance of the Red Cross flag, the uniformed members of the Salvation Army and other relief organizations on the dock brought forth a great outburst of cheers from the happy soldiers.

French to Be Guests. The French soldiers who are awaiting transportation to Siberia are to be entertained by the French consulate and by the city's Auxiliary of the war community service in Oakland.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—With 500 French heroes of the Verdun and other west front campaigns, and more than 200 wounded American "doughboys," as her guests the American Red Cross is preparing for an eventful Christmas.

The wounded Americans are at the Letterman General Hospital. They began their celebration at 2 o'clock today with a heavily laden Christmas tree. Tomorrow a Christmas dinner is to be served.

General Pershing cabled to General March: "Please accept for the officers and men of the American Army in France my United States cordial Christmas greetings and best wishes for the coming year, from the American expeditionary forces."

General March replied: "Christmas greetings to yourself and the American Expeditionary Force, a happy New Year and a speedy return home."

NAVAL WELCOME ASSURED

Federal Heads on Way to Greet Battleship Squadron.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—Confidence that the American people will greet the officers and men of the returning battleship squadron "with pride and congratulatory greetings today by cable," General Pershing cabled to General March.

The American dreadnoughts, though denied the opportunity of winning a great sea victory, did more, said the Secretary, for they co-operated in receiving the surrender of the entire German fleet. Secretary Daniels and many Government and diplomatic officials will leave Washington tomorrow afternoon for New York.

RESERVE CORPS PERMITTED

Word From War Department.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Dec. 24.—(Special.)—The university authorities were authorized to apply for the establishment of a reserve of officers' training corps unit at the university in place of the students' Army training corps unit, which has been discontinued, at a meeting of the executive committee of the board of regents Saturday night.

Word on the authorization is expected from the War Department by January 1, when arrangements concerning its establishment will be made.

THE NUT HAVE YOU NOTICED THE NEW PACKAGE WE ARE PUTTING OUT? We call it the "CHIEF NUT BAR" and it sells for 10¢. It is the BIGGEST dime's worth of chewy deliciousness that we have ever seen! We are ALL EXCITED about it—because since we started to make it, we have been FLOODED with orders. "IT'S A BEAR!"

Have we got to send a sample to some FAMOUS person—and get them to write us a letter of recommendation—OR will YOU just stop in and buy ONE without being urged to do so? DO IT TODAY.

Yours for $5,400,000.00 The Chief Nut

BOY SCOUTS ACT AS SANTA CLAUS TO PORTLAND CHILDREN.

Youngsters, Who Set Forth Wants in Letters, Made Happy by Generous Organizations of Portland.

CHRISTMAS DREAMS OF YOUTH FULFILLED

City Covered by Santa Claus in Efficient Manner.

BOY SCOUTS CARRY TOYS

Youngsters, Who Set Forth Wants in Letters, Made Happy by Generous Organizations of Portland.

Not only in the hearts and dreams of Portland children but in the very real form of Christmas giving and open-heartedness, does Santa Claus exist. Inspired by dozens of "Santa Claus" letters and by the stories of need and poverty gathered by Portland's charitable organizations, Boy Scouts yesterday were messengers of Kria Kringle in hundreds of homes all over the city.

The city-wide distribution was the plan of the Santa Claus Club, an organization of public spirited women working in co-operation with the Public Welfare Bureau—the center of charity work in Portland.

Youngsters Made Happy. Working quietly the club covered the city in a thoroughly efficient manner. The school attendance officer and child welfare agencies were called in to cooperate in seeing that no Portland home without the Christmas celebration. Cases of need were hunted out and investigated. No stone was left unturned that might contribute to the good times of some worthy Portland youngsters.

Stacks of toys—all new and all good—were piled up and made ready for distribution by the women, working under the direction of Mrs. A. F. Giles, secretary. Dolls—real ones—candy, the kind that make you know it's Christmas; teddy bears, big United States flags, balls and bats—in fact, every kind of toy that might make glad the heart of the Portland youth was included in the list.

The Boy Scouts, assembling yesterday morning, added another to their list of patriotic acts by carrying the toys to homes in all parts of Portland, which Santa, by some hook or crook, might have overlooked in his hasty journey.

Although all of the dozens of Santa Claus letters were not answered by the Santa Claus Club organization, all those indicating real need were included in the list. From the dozens of letters carried from Postmaster Myers' desk, these were sorted out.

"I am trying to be a good little girl and mind my daddy. Please bring me a doll, rabbit and some wash things," said one little girl in her letter to Santa.

War Toys in Demand. A set of paints, some ruber paints, crayon and drawing paper, was the wish of another little girl. That the war has had its effect on the minds of these trusting children was shown by the dozens of requests for toy cannons, guns, drums, trucks, ships and even a submarine.

"Please bring me a doll, buggy, piano, a set of dishes and a little store," was the modest request of another. "A child's pitcher and a good little girl and mind my daddy. Please bring me a doll, rabbit and some wash things," said one little girl in her letter to Santa.

Another youngster illustrated his desires with a page of a catalogue from a large mail-order house. "I want for Christmas a nice suit for Mary, a green and white sweater, cap and scarf. Oh, yes, and a cap for Mary," said the bright little fellow. "I guess you know Ruth and Mary, don't you? You brought me Ruth year before last and Mary about four years ago. And bring the things to 53 Morrison street, and please send something to every other little girl, 'specially Belgians."

The real obscurity of the future of Germany in Europe, in his view, lies in the obscurity of the future of Russia. The statesmen at the Paris conference, he thinks, should consider that conditions in Russia, as they develop, may affect every European problem.

As for Russo-German relations in the near future, the correspondent writes, "all we can know is that they will be vastly influenced by the restoration of Poland, the disruption of Austria-Hungary, the essentially non-German settlement of every Slav question are killing and arresting on the slightest pretext and driving people mad by their cruelties, while hunger and famine are stalking through the land." Problems to be faced by the peace conference furnish the subject for a long article in the Times from a correspondent formerly in Berlin. He says the German situation will stand out conspicuously in every phase of the coming deliberations.

Germany in Europe, in his view, lies in the obscurity of the future of Russia. The statesmen at the Paris conference, he thinks, should consider that conditions in Russia, as they develop, may affect every European problem.

As for Russo-German relations in the near future, the correspondent writes, "all we can know is that they will be vastly influenced by the restoration of Poland, the disruption of Austria-Hungary, the essentially non-German settlement of every Slav question are killing and arresting on the slightest pretext and driving people mad by their cruelties, while hunger and famine are stalking through the land." Problems to be faced by the peace conference furnish the subject for a long article in the Times from a correspondent formerly in Berlin. He says the German situation will stand out conspicuously in every phase of the coming deliberations.

Germany in Europe, in his view, lies in the obscurity of the future of Russia. The statesmen at the Paris conference, he thinks, should consider that conditions in Russia, as they develop, may affect every European problem.

As for Russo-German relations in the near future, the correspondent writes, "all we can know is that they will be vastly influenced by the restoration of Poland, the disruption of Austria-Hungary, the essentially non-German settlement of every Slav question are killing and arresting on the slightest pretext and driving people mad by their cruelties, while hunger and famine are stalking through the land." Problems to be faced by the peace conference furnish the subject for a long article in the Times from a correspondent formerly in Berlin. He says the German situation will stand out conspicuously in every phase of the coming deliberations.

Germany in Europe, in his view, lies in the obscurity of the future of Russia. The statesmen at the Paris conference, he thinks, should consider that conditions in Russia, as they develop, may affect every European problem.

As for Russo-German relations in the near future, the correspondent writes, "all we can know is that they will be vastly influenced by the restoration of Poland, the disruption of Austria-Hungary, the essentially non-German settlement of every Slav question are killing and arresting on the slightest pretext and driving people mad by their cruelties, while hunger and famine are stalking through the land." Problems to be faced by the peace conference furnish the subject for a long article in the Times from a correspondent formerly in Berlin. He says the German situation will stand out conspicuously in every phase of the coming deliberations.

Germany in Europe, in his view, lies in the obscurity of the future of Russia. The statesmen at the Paris conference, he thinks, should consider that conditions in Russia, as they develop, may affect every European problem.

As for Russo-German relations in the near future, the correspondent writes, "all we can know is that they will be vastly influenced by the restoration of Poland, the disruption of Austria-Hungary, the essentially non-German settlement of every Slav question

WILSON TO FORCE POINTS

EUROPEAN TRIP IS DISCUSSED BY BRITISH PRESS.

Fourteen Principles Held Bulwark Against Revolution, General and Sanguinary Idiocy.

(Copyright, by the New York World, published by arrangement, Special cable dispatch.)

LONDON, Dec. 19.—Arnold Bennett discusses in a two-column article in the Daily News the question: "Why Has President Wilson Come to Europe?" He says:

"The sole credible answer is that, after an overwhelming allied victory, the allies were no longer as ready as before to accept his 14 points of enlightened justice, and that little by little, under the influence of selfish passions aroused by conquest, some of the allies have shown signs of an intention to throw over some of the essential points."

"If this is not so, and if the President is not afraid of the safety of his 14 points, then his visit is meaningless. But the President is not a man addicted to meaningless acts. And one may reason further.

"One may fairly argue from Mr. Wilson's presence in Europe that he is not only a man who has not only abandoned some of them—those very points upon the faith of which Germany laid down her arms.

"My reason may be wrong. I hope it is, for if the President fails to get all his main points at the peace conference and retires baffled, revolution throughout Europe will be the outcome. The 14 points are the only possible bulwark against revolution and a general and sanguinary idiocy."

Foreign Minister in the first revolutionary Cabinet, retaining that position until May 16, 1917.

Woman, Accused of Fraud, Walks Out of Butte Jail.

BUTTE, Mont., Dec. 24.—Walking past two jailors and a policeman, Jewell Leclair, who had been arrested Sunday on a charge of impersonating a Red Cross canteen worker as a means of defrauding returned sailors and soldiers, escaped from the County Jail last evening, her third escape from the authorities within 24 hours.

The woman escaped from the City Jail Sunday evening by crawling through a transom, but was caught later in a cabaret. After receiving sentence of 10 days in jail on conviction of technical vagrancy she escaped from the courtroom, but was again captured by a detective after a chase through the downtown section.

Idaho Murderer Gets Loan for Supposedly Worthless Stock Which Turns Out to Be Valuable.

DENVER, Dec. 24.—When Mrs. Alice Mahalia Julia Anderson, of Barcelona, Spain, died a few days ago in Albuquerque, N. M., her friends believed she was comparatively poor. But when her attorney, Joseph R. Wilson, of Albuquerque, came to Denver today and opened her safe deposit boxes in local banks, he found $320,000 worth of lib- eral bonds and thousands of dollars' worth of other securities.

Mrs. Cardoner was the widow of a wealthy Spaniard who owned a large block of stock in a chain of stores in mining camps in Idaho. She spent considerable time in America.

Harry Orchard, now serving sentence in the Idaho Penitentiary for murder in connection with mine troubles some years ago, was "broke" once when Cardoner was visiting in Boise. Orchard owned one-sixteenth interest in the famous Hercules mine at Burke, Idaho, and induced Cardoner to accept this interest as collateral for a loan.

When Cardoner died his widow inherited his estate. After she came to America she sold the one-sixteenth interest in the Hercules mine for $170,000 cash and placed the securities purchased with this money in Denver safe deposit vaults. Later, Mrs. Cardoner removed to Albuquerque, lived modestly and told only her attorney of her wealth. A daughter, the only heir lives in Spain.

TREE DEMOLISHES HOUSE

Lane County Residents Have Narrow Escape From Death.

COTTAGE GROVE, Or., Dec. 24.—(Special.)—To have their house smashed to kindling wood and yet to escape almost unharmed was the experience of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Cline, of Mosby Creek. During the storm Thursday night a tree, two feet in diameter, fell across the center of the house, going through the building to the floor. Mr. and Mrs. Cline were in their night clothes when the tree struck. A limb of the tree knocked the lamp out of Mr. Cline's hand. Mr. Cline suffered bruises to the face. Mrs. Cline escaped injury.

The house, which was new and of one story, is now a pile of kindling wood. Every window was broken.

MILUKOFF LEAVES CAPITAL

Former Russian Minister Leader in 1917 Revolution.

PARIS, Dec. 24.—Paul N. Milukoff, former Russian Foreign Minister, who was accused last July of conspiring with the Germans, has been obliged to leave Paris, according to the Matin. His presence here was believed to be unnecessary.

Professor Milukoff obtained a passport for France at Constantinople by mistake, the newspaper says. He had been in Paris four days.

Professor Paul N. Milukoff for many years has been one of the most prominent Liberal leaders in Russia. He played an important part in the revolution of March, 1917, and was appointed Upper Picture Shows Scouts Leaving Courthouse Yesterday Morning to Take Toys and Other Christmas Gifts to Needy Youngsters. Master Dean Elliott, Loaded With Bundles of Good Cheer, Is Shown in Lower Cut.

Foreign Minister in the first revolutionary Cabinet, retaining that position until May 16, 1917.

NATIVES DIE BY HUNDREDS

INFLUENZA TURNS ISLAND INTO CHARNEL PLACE.

Fully One-Tenth of the Population of Paopae Are Dead as Result of the Epidemic.

PAPETE, Tahiti, Dec. 9.—(Mail.)—Spanish influenza has turned the Island of Tahiti into a charnel place. At the great Paopae burn great pyres, with the stanzas regulations bodies of many natives waiting to be thrown into the glowing ashes of those who have been consumed by the flames.

The Associated Press correspondent has learned that fully one-seventh of the population of Paopae are dead. Bodies of victims are everywhere surrounded by the dying. In almost every native home families are lying about with no medicine and little attention. They beg in vain for food. Those Europeans and Americans who escaped the disease formed a volunteer corps to carry food and medicine to the sick and to take measures for the disposal of the dead.

The start of the epidemic has been traced to the arrival of a steamer here on November 17 with many cases on board. The disease spread to the island of Moorea, where there are no doctors, and is exacting an enormous toll there.

Two big public meetings and other gatherings were held after the arrival of the steamer from Moorea. Medical authorities here stated it was the most widespread and destructive epidemic in the historic islands. As Paopae is the only port of call and departure in the islands, the epidemic naturally started here.

LIBERTY THEATER IS OPEN

Vancouver Soldiers to Enjoy Playhouse During Last Days in Service.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Dec. 24.—(Special.)—The Liberty Theater in Vancouver Barracks, built for soldiers, is open. To soldiers and their guests the admission price is 5 cents to officers and guests 10 cents. Friday will be known as amateur night, and soldiers will be encouraged to compete for $15 in gold prizes offered every week. The theater was built by soldiers from lumber cut by the cutup plant. The theater seats 1000. The most amusement fund furnished the necessary funds to build the theater, which will make the last few weeks of the men in the service considerably more enjoyable.

"Boys in Fine Spirit," Is the Message From Overseas.

President Assures America That World Is on Eve of Just and Lasting Peace.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—President Wilson in Paris sent to American people today the following Christmas message: "I hope that it will cheer the people at home to know that I find, following over her in fine form and in fine spirits, esteemed by all those with whom they have been associated in the war and trusted wherever they go and they will also, I am sure, be cheered by the knowledge of the fact that throughout the great nations with which we have been associated in this war public opinion strongly sustains all proposals for a just and lasting peace and a close co-operation of the self-governing peoples of the world in making that peace secure after its present settlements are formulated.

"Nothing could constitute a more acceptable Christmas reassurance than the sentiments which I find everywhere prevalent."

Idaho Accountants Organize. BOISE, Idaho, Dec. 24.—(Special.)—Accountants in Idaho have completed the organization of the Idaho Association of Certified Accountants. Following are the officers: O. E. Cannon, Mountain Home, president; James Munro, Caldwell, vice-president; J. W. Robinson, Boise, secretary-treasurer. These officers, with the following, compose the board of directors: Byron Drenbach, Lewiston; Edwin A. Wilson, Twin Falls; C. E. Folsom, Boise, and Clarence VanDeusen, Boise.

French Offer Appreciated. PARIS, Dec. 24.—(Havas.)—Secretary of War Baker and General Pershing have replied to offers made by Andre Tardieu, head of the general commission for Franco-American war matters, to place at the disposal of American soldiers French universities, libraries and technical schools. They express thanks for the spirit which prompted the offer. Details of the proposed organization are being considered by a committee.

THOMPSON'S DEEP CURVE LENSES (Trademark Registered) THE SIGN OF PERFECT SERVICE

Eyes carefully examined and properly fitted with glasses without the use of drugs by skilled specialists. Complete lens grinding factory on the premises.

SAVE YOUR EYES THOMPSON OPTICAL INSTITUTE Portland's Largest, Most Modern, Best Equipped, Exclusive Optical Establishment.

209-10-11 COLBERT BLDG. FIFTH AND MORRISON SINCE 1908.

RUSSIA CLOSELY WATCHED PEACE FRAMERS HAVE EYE ON DIVIDED NATION. London Hears View Expressed That Obscurity Means Crushing Blow to Germany.

IRPLANE STOCK IS LARGE British Columbia Produces More Than 35,000,000 Feet.

HAWLEY'S BILL FAVORED Aid for Water Supply of Corvallis, Dallas and Oregon City Prospects.

CHRISTMAS DREAMS OF YOUTH FULFILLED

City Covered by Santa Claus in Efficient Manner.

BOY SCOUTS CARRY TOYS

Youngsters, Who Set Forth Wants in Letters, Made Happy by Generous Organizations of Portland.

Not only in the hearts and dreams of Portland children but in the very real form of Christmas giving and open-heartedness, does Santa Claus exist. Inspired by dozens of "Santa Claus" letters and by the stories of need and poverty gathered by Portland's charitable organizations, Boy Scouts yesterday were messengers of Kria Kringle in hundreds of homes all over the city.

The city-wide distribution was the plan of the Santa Claus Club, an organization of public spirited women working in co-operation with the Public Welfare Bureau—the center of charity work in Portland.

Youngsters Made Happy. Working quietly the club covered the city in a thoroughly efficient manner. The school attendance officer and child welfare agencies were called in to cooperate in seeing that no Portland home without the Christmas celebration. Cases of need were hunted out and investigated. No stone was left unturned that might contribute to the good times of some worthy Portland youngsters.

Stacks of toys—all new and all good—were piled up and made ready for distribution by the women, working under the direction of Mrs. A. F. Giles, secretary. Dolls—real ones—candy, the kind that make you know it's Christmas; teddy bears, big United States flags, balls and bats—in fact, every kind of toy that might make glad the heart of the Portland youth was included in the list.

The Boy Scouts, assembling yesterday morning, added another to their list of patriotic acts by carrying the toys to homes in all parts of Portland, which Santa, by some hook or crook, might have overlooked in his hasty journey.

Although all of the dozens of Santa Claus letters were not answered by the Santa Claus Club organization, all those indicating real need were included in the list. From the dozens of letters carried from Postmaster Myers' desk, these were sorted out.

"I am trying to be a good little girl and mind my daddy. Please bring me a doll, rabbit and some wash things," said one little girl in her letter to Santa.

War Toys in Demand. A set of paints, some ruber paints, crayon and drawing paper, was the wish of another little girl. That the war has had its effect on the minds of these trusting children was shown by the dozens of requests for toy cannons, guns, drums, trucks, ships and even a submarine.

"Please bring me a doll, buggy, piano, a set of dishes and a little store," was the modest request of another. "A child's pitcher and a good little girl and mind my daddy. Please bring me a doll, rabbit and some wash things," said one little girl in her letter to Santa.

Another youngster illustrated his desires with a page of a catalogue from a large mail-order house. "I want for Christmas a nice suit for Mary, a green and white sweater, cap and scarf. Oh, yes, and a cap for Mary," said the bright little fellow. "I guess you know Ruth and Mary, don't you? You brought me Ruth year before last and Mary about four years ago. And bring the things to 53 Morrison street, and please send something to every other little girl, 'specially Belgians."

The real obscurity of the future of Germany in Europe, in his view, lies in the obscurity of the future of Russia. The statesmen at the Paris conference, he thinks, should consider that conditions in Russia, as they develop, may affect every European problem.

As for Russo-German relations in the near future, the correspondent writes, "all we can know is that they will be vastly influenced by the restoration of Poland, the disruption of Austria-Hungary, the essentially non-German settlement of every Slav question are killing and arresting on the slightest pretext and driving people mad by their cruelties, while hunger and famine are stalking through the land." Problems to be faced by the peace conference furnish the subject for a long article in the Times from a correspondent formerly in Berlin. He says the German situation will stand out conspicuously in every phase of the coming deliberations.

Germany in Europe, in his view, lies in the obscurity of the future of Russia. The statesmen at the Paris conference, he thinks, should consider that conditions in Russia, as they develop, may affect every European problem.

As for Russo-German relations in the near future, the correspondent writes, "all we can know is that they will be vastly influenced by the restoration of Poland, the disruption of Austria-Hungary, the essentially non-German settlement of every Slav question are killing and arresting on the slightest pretext and driving people mad by their cruelties, while hunger and famine are stalking through the land." Problems to be faced by the peace conference furnish the subject for a long article in the Times from a correspondent formerly in Berlin. He says the German situation will stand out conspicuously in every phase of the coming deliberations.

Germany in Europe, in his view, lies in the obscurity of the future of Russia. The statesmen at the Paris conference, he thinks, should consider that conditions in Russia, as they develop, may affect every European problem.

As for Russo-German relations in the near future, the correspondent writes, "all we can know is that they will be vastly influenced by the restoration of Poland, the disruption of Austria-Hungary, the essentially non-German settlement of every Slav question are killing and arresting on the slightest pretext and driving people mad by their cruelties, while hunger and famine are stalking through the land." Problems to be faced by the peace conference furnish the subject for a long article in the Times from a correspondent formerly in Berlin. He says the German situation will stand out conspicuously in every phase of the coming deliberations.

Germany in Europe, in his view, lies in the obscurity of the future of Russia. The statesmen at the Paris conference, he thinks, should consider that conditions in Russia, as they develop, may affect every European problem.

As for Russo-German relations in the near future, the correspondent writes, "all we can know is that they will be vastly influenced by the restoration of Poland, the disruption of Austria-Hungary, the essentially non-German settlement of every Slav question

May All Christmas Merriment Be Yours May the Dawn of This Day of Days Bring You Both Joy and Peace. Joy in the knowledge of accomplishment and service well received and graciously given. Peace in the satisfaction of being right with the world, true with your friends and kindly with your enemies. May every little thing that comes to brighten the day reveal anew that friendliness and kindness which, on this one great day of the year, opens our hearts to one another in the broad spirit of good fellowship freed from every consideration save that of creating happiness between us all. May All Christmas Merriment Be Yours

Great Three-Days Cleanup Sale Remnants, Odds and Ends and all soiled or mused goods from holiday display. The most important and unusual price reductions prevail throughout every section of this great store. It is an occasion that Prudent and Thoughtful Shoppers will not fail to take advantage and profit by.

Roberts Bros. THIRD & MORRISON The Most in Value—The Best in Quality

Farm Labor Division Created. WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—Farm labor furnished through the United States Employment Service hereafter will be directed by a special division created today in the Department of Labor. M. A. Coykendall, of Nebraska, is director.

MEVES RESTAURANT 311 WASHINGTON ST. D. L. CAPPA, Manager. Christmas Dinner $1.00 Teed Celery, RELISHES, Ripe Olives, Soups, Manhattan Clam Chowder, Cream of Chicken with Rice, Consomme, Flsln, Cream of Chicken with Rice, MEATS, Roast Turkey, Dressing and Cranberry Sauce, Roast Spring Chicken, Dressing and Stuffing, Prime Rib Roast au Jus, Chicken Stew with Dumplings, Roast Goose, Apple Sauce, VEGETABLES, Mashed Potatoes, Sweet Corn, Candied Sweet Potatoes, String Beans, SALAD, Fruit or Shrimp, DESSERT, Choice of One, Pumpkin Pie, Vanilla Ice Cream, Plum Pudding, Lemon Sauce, Mince Pie, Bread and Butter, Tea, Coffee, Milk, Buttermilk.

NO RUBBING LAUNDRY HELP YOUR GROCCER SHOULD HAVE IT. HAVE YOU TRIED NO RUBBING LAUNDRY POWDER? Get a 25c package, sufficient for 10 big washings. Use it and you will have cleaner and whiter clothes, and with less labor than anything you have ever used. It's cheaper, too. Grocers Have It. Broadway 1802