

LEAGUE OF NATIONS FIRST PEACE POINT

President Wilson Succeeds in First Objective.

BRITAIN GIVES SUPPORT

Initial Step Will Be Treaty Binding
Nations to Submit Differences.

BY JOSEPH W. GRIGG,
(Copyright, 1919, by the New York World,
Published by Arrangement.)

LONDON, Jan. 7.—(Special cable.)—Great interest centered in President Wilson's visit to Italy, and opinion was expressed in well-informed quarters that his return to Paris will conclude the most important phase of the preliminary discussions with the allies. In the words of a prominent authority on international law:

"It also will mark the erection of a preliminary league of nations structure."

It is freely asserted that the President's pre-conference consultations have succeeded definitely in placing his cardinal point—the League of Nations—first, with indemnities and punishment in their proper relation and that Britain and America now stand squarely for such a policy.

Representation Causes Worry.
Some authorities on international law foresee as the first efforts in launching of a League of Nations, treaty binding all nations to submit disputes to the league, for, as they say, it will be at first necessary merely to outline a drawing of the eventual league, which will insure world peace. Many minor considerations will be debated after the conclusion of peace.

What is concerning the heads of the allied nations and the President, it is declared, is how Russia can be represented, and with Germany in the condition it is at present, who and what will be the representation which will be satisfactory to the associated nations.

Enemies to Be Interested.
Some persons who a few weeks ago were relegating the League of Nations to secondary consideration in the peace conference are now supporting it as a cardinal principle of world peace. In view of the Bolshevik menace, and the sudden alignment of neutrals in favor of the league has been hastened by the fear of its spread.

The Westminster Gazette tonight says: "To bring the League of Nations out of generalities into practice, down from heaven to earth, is, in the opinion of some of us, the most pressing business of the peace conference. It will be done, we believe, less from any theoretic preference for one form of institutions over another than from the sheer necessities of the case."

It will be necessary, if Europe is to carry on, for the surviving authorities to guarantee order in the regions which are swinging into anarchy and to prevent internecine strife among its own friends and so gradually to evolve a system which will be to the interest of enemy countries eventually to take up and to guarantee in their turn.

HUN SIGNATURE IS WANTED

North Dakota Senator Advocates
Immediate Establishment.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Immediate establishment of a league of nations, with Germany as a member, was urged in the Senate today by Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, the first Republican member of the Senate to voice approval of President Wilson's proposal for such an organization.

The first clause of a compact for such a league, Senator McCumber said, should declare that "each independent nation of the world as it exists at the time this compact shall be executed, has the right to live and work out its own destiny free from any imposing danger of any mighty military neighbor."

"I want this bond, and I want Germany's signature to this bond. She has been the only country that has threatened the peace of the whole world for the last 45 years, and to meet her threat every other nation has had to keep itself armed to the teeth."

Senator McCumber said the league would strengthen the Monroe Doctrine as all nations would be bound to respect the territorial integrity of the Central and South American republics, whereas now only the United States guarantees their independence and integrity.

Senator McCumber said the congress at Versailles may find it necessary to return to Belgium all of the territory

Don't Let Soap
Spoil Your Hair

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff—Adv.

"The allies," he said, "may deem this necessary to place Germany in a position where the wicked teachings of her military and political rulers which brought on this war cannot in the future influence any great portion of Europe and thus re-endanger its peace and safety."

LONDON MAIL OUTLINES PLAN

British Not Only Accept, but Will Go Much Farther, Says Paper.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—What it calls the American plan for a league of nations is outlined today by the Paris edition of the London Daily Mail. The paper says that the British government not only has accepted the plan, but is prepared to go much farther.

The framework of the American scheme, according to the Daily Mail, follows:

The working organization to be located in a small country such as Belgium or Holland. Each nation shall send an Ambassador, who also will be a member of the Council of the league. The Ambassadors would sit continuously and would act always in agreement with their home government.

Arbitration in case of disputes would be voluntary, if desired, compulsory if necessary. In case of a refusal to arbitrate, it is added, the league would appoint some of its members to exercise pressure.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—Lord Robert Cecil, the British authority on the league of nations question, arrived in Paris today. Exchanges on preliminary details of the league of nations have begun.

COBLENZ DEEP IN POLITICS

AMERICAN MILITARY AUTHORITIES ACCORD FREEDOM.

Only Restriction Is Presence of German
Speaking Officers to Listen to Speeches Made.

BY CYRIL BROWN.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION, via Nancy, Jan. 7.—Politics is now the principal occupation of the natives of Coblenz in the American area. The initial novelty of occupation having worn off, the natives are paying virtually no attention to the Americans and appear almost to ignore the presence of the American Army.

They are minding their own business in a quiet, orderly manner, but the German horizon of the American area is bounded by politics. One notes increasing political activity everywhere as the elections for a constituent assembly draw near.

The American military authorities are permitting the natives the utmost political freedom and the Germans are taking the fullest advantage of the American moderation. Large numbers of political meetings of all parties are being held throughout the area, the sole restriction being the presence of German-speaking American officers to see that nothing is said or done against the interests of America or the allies.

The Germans here are unfolding a tremendous home propaganda. Their activity is particularly directed toward the German women, whose votes are expected. There is a strong fusion movement of the bourgeois elements of parties throughout the area in an attempt to present a solid bourgeois front against Socialism on election day.

Not only the political campaign, but the elections as well, will be under American military auspices here. Americans will supervise at the polls as a police measure. Provision already has been made for elected members of the constituent assembly to obtain permission from American authorities to leave the area, while candidates and political speakers from the outside can come into the area for the campaign with the permission of American authorities.

Governor Warns Legislature Revenues Will Decline.

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 7.—Declaring that the state is in a better condition now than they have been for several years because of the revenues received from the corporation tax which was imposed by the Legislature two years ago, Governor Sam V. Stewart in his message to the 16th Legislative Assembly, delivered today, warned the members of that body that the state's revenue will be depleted from now on by reason of the loss of liquor license money. The Governor said a glowing tribute to Montana soldiers.

Governor Stewart asserted his belief that action should be taken to bring about a reorganization of the National Guard.

POLISH CITIES UNDER ROLE OF ANARCHISTS

Agitators Parade Streets and Employers Are Jailed.

REDS TAKE PORT OF RIGA

British Government Announces It
Has No Intention of Sending More Troops to Russia.

WARSAW, Jan. 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—Lithuania and other Polish cities are reported in a state of virtual anarchy, with the rougher element doing as they please. There has been frequent firing of rifles but no casualties as yet have been reported.

The workers, the reports state, have adopted the habit when they feel the need of money of demanding it from the employers if they see them in the streets or in surrounding houses and imprisoning them until they give what is asked. The employers have already made up a fund of 10,000,000 marks for the laborers, but this does not satisfy them, and the workmen are now demanding 250 marks each.

The reports say the men frequently spend the day parading the streets with red flags and listening to agitators deliver speeches.

Agitators Parade Streets.
The agitators are said to be spreading the report that if the allies come they will not much as did the Germans who are credited with having stolen so thoroughly that a Jew is quoted as saying:

"When the Russians were here I wanted to hang myself, but after the Germans came not even a rope was left."

The waiters and janitors of Warsaw, who are among the few having steady work and good pay, have gone on strike and the house servants are expected to follow their example. The domestics even now are only consenting to work if the mistress does her share of the laboring of the household, especially the dishwashing and similar services.

The waiters demand 15 per cent of the profits of the hotels and restaurants, while the cooks are asking 25 per cent.

The janitors demand a 10-hour day, with the front doors closed at 9 o'clock in the evening. As the tenants have no key to the front doors of the apartment-houses they are obliged to stay indoors through fear of being compelled to go out after 9 o'clock and come in late if they pay a fine of one mark for each time they thus trouble the janitor.

Most of the evening engagements of apartment dwellers are being given up owing to this situation, and the streets are virtually deserted at night.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Ruthenian troops have surrounded Lemberg, which is defended by the Poles, according to a Central News dispatch from Coppenhagen quoting advices from Vienna. It is added that the Poles have been driven from Lubahoff, northwest of Lemberg. The advance of the Ruthenians is attacked with 20,000 rifles on a front of 12 miles. All the Polish forces in Lemberg took part in the fighting, including a division made up of Polish women. This division, it is added, suffered severe losses and many of the women were captured.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The British government has not the slightest intention of sending any more troops to Russia, it was announced today. Not more than 20,000 British troops are in Russia today, a number of which are non-combatant, the announcement states, and these are being brought back as quickly as possible.

DANIELS STIRS BRITISH

THREAT OF GREATEST NAVY IN WORLD BRINGS PROTEST.

Newspapers Suggest President Wilson
Should Take Steps to Curb Secretary's Language.

(Copyright, 1919, by the New York World, Published by Arrangement.)

LONDON, Jan. 7.—(Special Cable.)—The Daily Graphic takes exception to the recent attitude of Secretary Daniels in urging that the United States create for itself the greatest navy in the world. In an editorial characterizing such utterances as "threats," the Graphic says:

"The speeches of Secretary Daniels appear to have been framed almost as if it were his deliberate purpose to give offense to Great Britain. A few days ago he was insisting that the United States must have a navy equal to that of any other country. He goes further now and declares, if the Versailles conference does not agree upon limitations of naval armaments, the United States must bend its energies toward the creation of the greatest navy in the world."

"In plain language, that is meant for this country, and between friends threats are out of place. It would be well if President Wilson were to cable Mr. Daniels to put a little restraint upon his language."

"In this country we have every desire to reduce our naval expenditure to the lowest limit consistent with our peculiar needs as an island empire. That is, indeed, our set purpose, but Mr. Daniels will not make that purpose easier of accomplishment by holding a pistol at our heads."

In an editorial discussing the prospects of peace, the Daily News says: "It is useless to shut our eyes to the fact that all is not well. It has been notorious for weeks past that schemes of annexation based on secret treaties were being secretly pressed forward, and that obscure designs in Russia were taking vague and menacing shape. Now we are confronted with Premier Clemenceau's declaration in favor of the restoration of the system of the balance of power."

"If this policy is insisted upon it means one thing and one thing only. It means that France repudiates the idea of a League of Nations and that the world is not to be organized for peace, but reorganized for war."

"If that policy is pursued the peace conference is doomed to failure. America will have no choice but to leave Europe to its own ways and its own fate. She will, of course, suffer the penalty which all will suffer. Since she has failed to induce the world to disarm she will have to arm herself, and so the world will be started again on a race of competitive armaments."
