NEW YORK, Jan. 10.-Dun's tomorrow will may: With the country passing through the readjustment stages, after an era of artificial stimulus, it is not illocitait to look for signs of hesitation and caulion. That such evidences are plainly discernisic is not a symptom of watkness, nor an indi-cation of dwindling confidence, but is merely a demonstration that natural forces are again coming into operation. The fact is that the inevitable economic transformation is proceeding the more smoothly and will be the more quickly com-plete, because of the disposition in many quarters to act prudently, while great fun-damental changes are in motion, and to await a clearer determination of the va-rious problems of reconstruction. Among these, the question of prices is one which compets thoughtful attention. Meekly bank clearings were $6,894,728,653. tion. CASCARA BARK-New and eld, 180 per FORECASTS.
