

NEW TERMS IN HUN ARMISTICE FIXED

Supreme War Council Announces Agreement.

PROCEDURE IS DISCUSSED

First Full Session of Peace Conference Next Saturday.

AMERICANS PRESS LEAGUE

Determination Expressed by Delegates From United States Not to Allow Question to Be Shelved.

PARIS, Jan. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Supreme Council of the Peace Congress resumed its sessions at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the French Foreign Office with the distinguished gathering of yesterday augmented by the presence of Japan among the powers represented and a notable gathering of military, naval, economic and financial representatives of the various powers.

Those present this afternoon included, besides President Wilson, Secretary Lansing, General Bliss and Herbert C. Hoover, for the United States; Premier Clemenceau, Foreign Minister Pichon, Finance Minister Klotz, Minister of Commerce Clementel, Minister of Reconstruction Loucheur, Marshal Foch, Major-General Weygand and Admiral De Bon, for France; Premier Lloyd George and Foreign Secretary Balfour, for Great Britain; Foreign Minister Sonnino for Italy, and Viscount Chinda and Ambassador Natsui, for Japan.

All the members of the Versailles War Council also attended, including General Sir Henry Wilson, the British member.

Statement is issued.

An official communication issued after the adjournment of the Supreme War Council today said:

The meeting reached an agreement as to the terms on which the armistice should be renewed on January 17. This included naval clauses, financial clauses, conditions of supply and provision for the restitution of material and machinery stolen from France and Belgium by the Germans.

The meeting also continued its discussion of procedure. It was agreed to hold the next meeting of the Supreme War Council on Wednesday at 10 o'clock and that the first full session of the peace conference will take place on Saturday, January 18, at 2:30 P. M. at the Foreign Office.

Accord is Pressed.

The proceedings today were divided into two distinct stages. The first, the morning meeting, was presided over by Marshal Foch, at which the military, naval and economic authorities reached an agreement on new terms for the armistice expiring on January 17. The United States was represented by Major-General Bliss, Admiral Benson and Herbert C. Hoover; Great Britain by General Sir Henry Wilson; France by Marshal Foch, General Weygand, his chief-of-staff, M. Klotz, Minister of Finance, and M. Leygues, Minister of Marine, and Italy by General Bobelant.

The second stage, which was held in the afternoon, was devoted to the complete embracing financial terms, whereby Germany must restore the sums taken from the cities and towns in the devastated regions; military, where Germany must restore the guns taken and promptly deliver up rolling stock and locomotives, whereby relief will reach the famished regions.

Japs in Attendance.

It was this programme completed in the morning, which confronted the council when it convened at 3 o'clock. The statesmen gathered it was seen that their ranks were increased by the two Japanese delegates, Viscount Chinda and Ambassador Natsui, while General Bliss, Mr. Hoover and Rear-Admiral Grayson accompanied President Wilson and Secretary Lansing with Bernard M. Baruch and Edward N. Taylor later added to the American representation. The British forces were similarly increased by Andrew Bonar Law and General Wilson while France, besides Premier Clemenceau and Foreign Minister Pichon, had its Ministers of Finance, Marine and Reconstruction and Admiral Deben, chief of the French naval staff.

Vittorio Orlando, the Italian Premier, was the only absentee, having been called to Rome, but Baron Sonnino, the Foreign Minister, was present with General Robilant.

The scene again was interesting as the distinguished personalities gathered. President Wilson motored to the Foreign Office with Admiral Grayson, and again carried his large leather portfolio, while the British Prime Minister, Mr. Lloyd George, had with him his dispatch case. Marshal Foch was off in a large car as he arrived, suggestive of General Grant.

Long Session is Held.

The meeting was held in M. Pichon's private office, on the large Salle de la Paix, with its huge horseshoe table, still awaits the gathering of the full delegations. The session was conducted with indications that the new terms of the armistice were receiving very full discussion.

At 5 o'clock Marshal Foch and General Weygand, M. Klotz and the various military experts filed out to the conference room, while the members of an inter-allied Supreme War Council

NINE DIE AS ENGINE PLOWS INTO COACH

FAST EXPRESS DASHES AROUND CURVE, HITTING LOCAL.

Rear Car Is Thrown Into Heap and Passengers Buried; Several Pennsylvanians Are Seriously Hurt.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 13.—Nine persons were killed and more than a score injured tonight when the Scranton Flyer on the Philadelphia & Reading Railway crashed into the rear end of a Doylestown local train while the latter was standing a quarter mile below Fort Washington station, 13 miles north of this city.

The rear car of the local was demolished. When the engine of the express struck it the seats and roof of the coach, of an old wooden type, were thrown into a heap, burying all the passengers in it. The engine plowed through the coach until it reached the last seat. Seven passengers who were killed outright were mangled almost beyond recognition. The others died while they were being rushed to hospitals in a special relief train.

All of the seriously injured live in Philadelphia suburban towns. The Doylestown local left the Reading Terminal, Philadelphia, at 5:28 P. M. and picked up munition workers at plants along the line. As it approached Fort Washington station, the engineer, it is said, observed a derailed freight engine ahead and halted. The Scranton Flyer from Philadelphia dashed around the curve at this point and crashed into the standing local.

The roof of the wrecked coach virtually covered the engine of the express train. When the wreckage was partially cleared the bodies of the dead and injured were found jammed between the wheels of the local and in the seats. Most of the injured were hurt severely and a few are not expected to live.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—(Special Cable.)—Large anti-Bolshevik armies are in the field in Southern Russia, according to the Constantinople correspondent of the Times. North of this command is another army of Don Cossacks under General Krasoff, of from 250,000 to 300,000 men.

The two armies have practically cleared South Russia of Bolsheviks. Their main purpose is to establish communications with the anti-Bolshevik forces in Siberia.

BRITISH PRINCE FINDS U. S. DANCES DIFFICULT

AMERICAN OFFICERS SPEND AFTERNOON TEACHING STEPS.

Heir to Throne Attends Affair in Honor at Coblenz, Where He Is Guest of Yank Officers.

COBLENZ, Jan. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Prince of Wales, who has been visiting the American area of occupation as the guest of Major-General Dickman, returned to the British sector this afternoon. He said good-by to General Dickman at a luncheon at which he was the guest of Major-General Hines in the castle of the Prince of Wied at Neuwied.

Since his arrival in the American zone the Prince had been treated as an ordinary Captain, the rank designated by his uniform, rather than as the heir to the British throne.

At the dance the Prince attended last night it was intended that he should be exempted from "cutting in," which meant that one officer could claim the partner of another officer, there not being enough nurses from the American and British armies to go around. One officer accidentally "cut in" on the Prince. The Prince passed the incident aside and for the remainder of the evening "cut in" and submitted to the loss of his partner with the same grace as the others.

The first girl that the Prince danced with was Miss Agnes Kann, a nurse of Baltimore. When the music began the Prince was standing near Miss Kann and at once offered her his arm. Afterward he danced virtually every number, treating the American and British nurses impartially.

The Prince was not a good dancer. American officers, it developed later, had spent a good part of the preceding afternoon teaching him the steps of the American dances.

INFLUENZA IS FORGOTTEN

Legislators Show No Indication of Any Adjourment.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Jan. 13.—(Special.)—Spanish influenza, sole absorbing topic the past few days, was entirely forgotten, apparently, when the Legislators landed on the scene, and not a mention was made of it in either House throughout the day today.

The way in which both Houses got down to business indicates that any idea of adjournment has been abandoned, unless possibly the disease became prevalent among the members. Legislators, however, came armed with sprays, gargles and miscellaneous preventive appliances.

ELK HUNTING IS PROPOSED

Herts on Olympic Peninsula Said to Be Over-Large.

HOQUIAM, Wash., Jan. 13.—Elk hunting in the Olympic Peninsula may be the unique sport offered Washington hunters this year, if the State Legislature approves a recommendation by Forest Supervisor R. L. Fromme to permit a limited open season on elk.

Supervisor Fromme sets 400 as the number that could be slain because of greatly increased herds and lack of forage in certain sections. Hunters would be required to take licensed guides commissioned as deputy game wardens.

CONSOLIDATION IS NOT CLEAR SAILING

Sentiment Flows in Divergent Channels.

JOINT COMMITTEE OPPOSED

Representative Richardson to Have Special Chairmanship.

DIMICK SENATE'S CHOICE

Commission's Programme Declared Only Partly Satisfactory to Members of the House.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Jan. 13.—(Special.)—No time was lost by the Oregon Legislature in organization. Within the opening hour Senator Vinton occupied the President's chair and Speaker Jones was installed in the House.

The unanimity with which both houses organized bodes well for constructive work during the session. Only one little cloud appeared in the horizon. Consolidation sentiment appears to flow in divergent channels in the two houses.

Richardson Mystery Solved. Report from an authoritative source has it that Representative J. G. Richardson, of Multnomah County, will head a special consolidation committee in the House, and Senator Walter Dimick, of Clackamas, will be given that place in the Senate.

This solves the mystery of what reward Richardson was to receive for having a large part in the engineering of the election of Jones to the Speakership, but it also will apparently prevent some complications in the two houses getting together on the question of consolidation.

House Opposes Joint Committee. Dimick introduced a joint resolution in the Senate providing for a joint committee on consolidation. House members declare that they won't stand for this and that they intend to have a purely House committee.

House members who will be connected with the special committee also make it plain that the consolidation commission's programme will meet with approval from them only in certain details. In the main it will be shoved into the discard. They also made it plain that they will have a programme of their own.

Other States Have Been Studied. Richardson, who will be the committee's chairman, has visited other states recently and it has developed that his visits have been for the purpose of studying other state governments with the consolidation plan in view. His friends assert he will accept no minor place on a joint committee and that the House members will demand that they be allowed to work out their own programme.

On the other hand, Dimick wishes to head the joint committee, and complications already loom ahead which seem certain to dash the consolidation commission's programme onto the rocks, but may evolve some other definite and concrete plan before the session is over.

VETERANS TO GET PREFERENCE

Compulsory Employment on Public Work Proposed by Bill.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Jan. 13.—Compulsory employment of returned soldiers and sailors by the state, county, city and other municipal corporations within the state is provided in a bill introduced in the Senate today by Senator Farrell, of Multnomah.

The bill, which is the first of a flood of reconstruction measures to be ground through the legislative mill this year, provides that soldiers and sailors who have been honorably discharged must be given preference in employment by state, county, city or other municipal corporations. It applies to veterans of the Civil War, Spanish War and the war with Germany.

It is likewise provided that in case any contract of more than $500 is awarded by any political subdivision of the state, such contract must contain a clause providing that the contractor shall give preference to returned soldiers and sailors. Failure to do so would invoke heavy penalties, according to the terms of the bill.

In case a soldier has been maimed or crippled, he is to be given employment adapted to his physical condition. If any subdivisions affected by the provisions of the proposed law shall find it necessary to cut down their forces, the bill provides that the soldiers and sailors are the last to be dismissed from service.

The same concessions are to be granted to the widows and orphans of soldiers and sailors. It applies to Senator Farrell's measure. Failure of any public officer to comply with the provisions of the law can be punished by fine, imprisonment or removal from office.
