

INTER-SERVICE MEN AT CAMP TO MEET

Series of Semi-Monthly Boxing Shows Arranged.

TUCKER AND MOORE SIGNED

Four Bouts of Four Rounds Each Are on Programme for Opening Event.

CAMP LEWIS, American Lake, Wash., Jan. 20.—(Special.)—The first of a series of semi-monthly boxing shows in which inter-service men will be the main attractions will be held here tomorrow night under the direction of Sergeant George Thompson, boxing instructor for the 13th Division and Camp Lewis.

Frankie Tucker, of the Naval Training Station at Seattle, and Bobby Moore, of the First Infantry, Camp Lewis, are billed to appear in one of the six-round bouts with Harry Anderson, also of the Naval Training Station, meeting Harry Schuster, of the 213th Engineers, in the other six-round main event.

It was through the kindness of Dan Salt, the Seattle boxing promoter, that Tucker was able to make the raffle to appear at the Butte building tomorrow night. Announcements had been made that Muff Bronson, of Portland, and Tucker would exchange wallops at Seattle on Tuesday night, but Manager Salt said that as long as it was an inter-service programme, he would call off the Tucker-Bronson affair until a later date.

Four bouts of four rounds each have been listed by Sergeant Thompson for his opening show. Jimmy Ford, of the 35th Field Artillery, is anxious to show that he is the master of Leo Krieg, of the 76th Infantry, and Sergeant Charley Davidson is matched with Alex Eckstein, of the 7th Infantry. Davidson is of the Ordnance Corps and has been seen in Portland rings several times.

Two good preliminaries yet to be decided on will complete the card. Just when the next bill will be staged is hard to say, now that the recent demobilization orders have been received at Camp Lewis. However, it has been decided to work right along, up until the last man is given his honorable discharge.

Leo J. Hartnett, athletic director for the Knights of Columbus here, has been instrumental in drawing big crowds to boxing shows because of the caliber of goes put on. Secretary Hartnett has had every principal boy in camp don the miter for a few rounds in K-C building No. 1. Only recently he took an all-star card and programme to Fort Worden to appear in a benefit in the Masonic Temple and it was a decided success.

Next Thursday night will find the basketball teams racing again for honors in the regimental series. The United States First Infantry representatives had a tough match against the Quartermaster's Corps quintet and during this engagement the Ammunition Train meets the 75th Infantry, the 213th Engineers tangle with the 76th Infantry, the 37th Field Artillery battles the Machine Gunners, the United States Army Base Hospital against the 83th Field Artillery, and the 13th Sanitary Train against the 35th Field Artillery.

Corporal Andy Wardrobe, the star center of the 13th Sanitary Train basketball team, is a former University of Idaho athlete. Wardrobe has been out of the game a couple of years, but he has managed to get back his old zip and dash. He is a member of the 252d Motor Ambulance Company.

Up to tonight's games the 213th Engineers are leading the regimental league with the highest number of points scored. In two contests 73 markers have been made by the engineers as against 16 for their opponents. Next in line is the First Infantry with 51 for themselves against 61 for their opponents, and the Base Hospital has registered 45 points against 33 for the opposition.

DOUGLAS HAS GAME REFUGE

100,000 Acres Designated by Game and Forestry Officials.

Through agreement between the Oregon Fish and Game Commission and the United States Forestry Service 100,000 acres in eastern Douglas County has been set aside as a game refuge. The papers effecting this arrangement were placed on record yesterday, signed by State Warden Shoemaker and Forester Graves.

The section selected as a reserve is described as an ideal breeding place for deer and elk, already there in goodly numbers. By means of the wider protection now to be afforded these animals, their number is expected to increase materially. The present agreement runs for a period of five years and may be renewed for a longer time if then desired.

Through the working agreements under which the game commission and the forestry service co-operate many mutual benefits result, and sportsmen of the state come in for a share of the good results. The deputy wardens who operate in and near a reserve assist the Government service as fire patrols and the forestry employees keep a watchful eye for armed trespassers. Most of the forest rangers are special deputies, with power to arrest violators of the game restrictions and all give full co-operation by reporting any suspicious acts for investigation.

MEDICS, PARKWAY TO MEET

GAME SCHEDULED AT Y. M. C. A. GYMNASIUM TONIGHT.

Camp Lewis Team Arrives in Portland, and Practices for Hard Contest.

The big attraction tonight in the athletic line will be the basketball contest between the South Parkway team, of Portland, and the Fighting Medics quintet, of Camp Lewis, on the Y. M. C. A. floor. Manager Bill Smythe and his scrappy aggregation of soldier basket tossers arrived in Portland Sunday and worked out for an hour at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon. The team is in great shape.

Manager and Coach Dave Schneiderman, of the South Parkway five, has been drilling his proteges overtime the last two weeks, getting them on edge for the long-heralded game. From all advance notices a capacity crowd will be on hand tonight to witness the game, which is the first big independent contest of the 1919 season. It will start about 8:30 o'clock. A preliminary contest will start at 7:30 o'clock between the Arieta basketball team and the Benson Tech squad, of the Intercollegiate League. A good deal of interest is centering in the preliminary game.

The recently organized Maroon F basketball team would like to schedule games with teams in and out of the city. The Maroon F club consists of former and present Franklin High School stars and is replacing the Franklin Alumni team. For games call H. Busch, Tabor 2430.
