

CHURCH PLANS WORK IN LUMBER CAMPS

Evangelism Among 30,000 Employees Demanded.

LOCAL PASTORS TELL NEED

Employment of Red Cross Nurses as Foreign Missionaries Proposed at Presbyterian Conference.

A carefully planned bomb exploded and fell about the New York and Philadelphia representatives of the New Era movement of the Presbyterian Church at the conference discussion yesterday afternoon when an appeal was made in the interests of 30,000 lumber workers in the logging camps of the Northwest for evangelism promised by the Presbyterian Church as a protection against industrial radicalism. The sessions are being held in the First Presbyterian Church.

Led by Rev. John H. Boyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, who has assisted the Loyal Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen in establishing industrial chaplains; Rev. E. H. Pence, pastor of Westminster Church, and Rev. T. H. Simpson, welfare representative of the logging camps, a barrage of demands concerning the lumbermen of the Oregon and Washington districts at the three visiting representatives of the National movement—Dr. John R. Davies, of Philadelphia; George Mahy, member of the national board of the New Era movement, and David McCaughy, of Philadelphia. It was to the effect that the $3,500 provided by the Board of Home Missions in the budget for the coming year, although a 100 per cent increase over the allowance for last year, was insufficient to meet the needs of the fight against the spread of Bolshevism in the lumber camps of the Pacific.

Church to Work in Camps.

"It is up to the Presbyterian Church to save the country from it," said Dr. Pence. "Through Dr. Boyd we have been given carte blanche to pursue our evangelism in the logging regions. The Presbyterian Church represents the united churches in this work and it is our opportunity, it is the great challenge of the lumber church to save the country from real menace. If we do not do something today there will be no churches nor anything else good to save by tomorrow."

Mr. Mahy asked if there was not a general feeling among the lumber workers that the church represented capital and not the Gospel. His query was answered by Rev. Simpson, who said:

"There is this feeling, I find, among the loggers: There is a tendency to regard the church as the long arm of the law. The church has been blessed and Jesus Christ applauded. The one solution of that problem is to destroy denominational ties and to become among the men simply an apostle of the gospel of Jesus. Personally, I have been six months living down the stigma put upon the church by the loggers, but I have found victory in personal contact with the men which has ended in the destruction of these prejudices."

Status of Chaplain Interests.

Mr. Mahy questioned the advisability of the industrial chaplain as an employee of the company. His statement was answered with the explanation that the chaplain was first a member of the Loyal Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen, which insisted upon his employment by the company.

The chance that the industrial work might be given over to the Y. M. C. A. was discussed, and members of the National board were asked to strengthen the work in the Northwest in order to evade the possibility that it will be handed over to another organization.

At the morning session W. E. Biedorff, of Chicago, secretary of the Family Altar League, made a spirited plea for maintaining the church's fight against any menace which threatened the individual community—anarchy, prohibition or disease. He urged that the custom of family worship be re-

GIRLS! TRY IT! HAVE THICK, WAVY, BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Every Particle of Dandruff Disappears and Hair Stops Coming Out.

Draw a Moist Cloth Through Hair and Double Its Beauty at Once.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yet—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it, surely invest a few cents in a bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

Save your hair! Beauty it! You will say this was the best money you ever spent.—Adv.

Superfluous Hair

Why not remove it by a paste made by adding a little water to Dermoant, a perfumed powder, and allow it to remain on the affected part two or three minutes. Upon its removal, the skin will be found smooth and hairless; the delicate skin neither injured nor discolored. A single application usually suffices for the most obstinate growths. Dermoant is perfumed, and will not irritate or discolor. Does not stimulate the growth of new hair. It is fully guaranteed. For 75 cents one can obtain a generous supply either by mail in plain wrapper from the Elizabeth Laboratories, Portland, Or., or any druggist or department store can supply it.

established as a part of the wave of the new spirit of the world.

Dr. John E. Davies, of Philadelphia, presented the spiritual phases of the movement at the session yesterday afternoon, urging that the solemnity and beauty of the sacrament be presented anew to the people of the church and its reverence encouraged.

Much of the success of this greater work is going to depend upon your own relationship to Jesus Christ," he warned the pastors of the conference. "The pulpit will be shorn of its power unless you surrender your whole life to Christ and consecrate upon his message."

Pastor Entertained at Luncheon.
Portland pastors and visiting pastors of the state were entertained at luncheon at the Hazelwood yesterday by Mr. Mahy. At 6 o'clock William Ralph Hall and Miss M. Josephine Pettibone presided at dinner at the Y. M. C. A.

Women of the Presbyterian church are sharing the load of church expansion and the five-year program for a fund of $13,000,000 annually to be spent on home and foreign missions and for church development.

The board of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society will observe its jubilee in 1920, and plans to mark the occasion with a series of events to the general fund. A plan creating much interest among the women in the church is to enlist returned Red Cross nurses and canner workers in the home and foreign missionary field. The experience which these women have had in Europe will render them invaluable in the missionary field, according to Miss Margaret Hodge, of New York, executive secretary of the woman's board of foreign missions.

100 New Missionaries Goal.
"We want the women of the small community to feel that the success of the new era movement is depending greatly upon their efforts," said Miss Hodge yesterday. "We look to the small community for our missionaries and we are interested with an increase in the salaries of teachers in Presbyterian colleges, to educate young women to become deaconesses, and to help young men to study for the ministry, to pension Sunday school missionaries and ministers' widows."

"Pray, give, serve and go, are the watchwords of our drive. We mean to make it possible by the efforts of the 180,000 women of the church to put 100 new missionaries in the home and foreign field this year with an increase for each year in the program."

Mrs. L. M. McCoy, of Chicago, first vice-president of the Chicago board of foreign missions, told the women of the field open in the education of foreign girls and the rebuilding of the mission in Syria and Armenia.

Mrs. Guy Davis, of New York, secretary of the woman's board of home missions, gave examples of the work done by the 661 home missionaries in America who are working among the Mexicans, the Eskimos, Indians and literate whites of the South.

David McCaughy, whose addresses on stewardship have interested all delegates to the conference, asked the women to put aside a definite proportion of their income for the fund of the movement and to give systematically and proportionately.

Funeral services for Stanley Norvell auditor of the Portland branch of the Federal Reserve Bank and prominent choir director and musician, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from J. P. Finley & Son's Undertaking Parlor.

Mr. Norvell's death resulted from Spanish influenza which developed into pneumonia. He was ill only five days and died yesterday morning at his home, 1115 East Washington street. His widow, baby, and parents—Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Norvell—survive.

Coming to Portland about two years ago from Kansas City, where he was employed with the Federal Reserve Bank, Mr. Norvell had become a prominent figure in Portland musical and business circles. He was a member of the Apollo Club male chorus, and was director of the Rose City Presbyterian Church choir. His education in music was begun in Kansas City where he was director of a number of large church choirs. Later he went to New York City where he studied under Turpin and the Metropolitan operatic star, Arthur Middleton. He possessed a powerful basso voice.

In 1915 he was married to Miss Fay Rice, a Portland girl, in Kansas City. Shortly afterward they came to Portland to make their permanent home. Mr. Norvell was 35 years of age.

Among witnesses summoned by Miss O'Brennan was C. A. Rogers, secretary of the I. W. W., who testified that on the occasion of Mrs. O'Brennan's name being proposed for membership it was voted down.

There may be further time devoted to the case today, Mr. Bond having allowed until this afternoon for the woman to determine if she wishes to introduce further testimony in her behalf. Afterward he will file a detailed report to Washington with recommendations.

A HOME MADE GRAY HAIR REMEDY
You Can Make at Home a Better Gray Hair Remedy Than You Can Buy.

Gray streaked or faded hair is not only unbecoming, but unnecessary. You can darken it without using a dye.

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken gray hair and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost, or the druggist will put it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It is not a dye, it does not color the most delicate scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."
