

JOBS FOR SOLDIERS ARE QUITE PLENTIFUL

Positions for 78 Men Were Found Yesterday.

RED CROSS RELIEF GIVEN

Swift & Co. Announce All Former Employees Will Be Given Old or Better Jobs.

The law of supply and demand came close to meeting at Liberty Temple yesterday when 78 men were found with positions as against 62 new men registered.

Because of the patriotism of Oregon employers, Captain Conville, head of the soldiers' and sailors' employment service being operated under Federal auspices, inclined to the view that the "situation is well in hand."

The man who can work with his hands, he who is a carpenter, machinist, lathe hand or is an expert at any one of a dozen trades, can usually be quickly accommodated with a job.

The Red Cross opened an office in the temple yesterday, and is relieving any financial needs the men may have. Mortimer H. Hartwell is in charge of the Red Cross office. This is an extension of the work being carried out in the Gasco building by the Red Cross home service department.

"I believe the worst of the situation is over and we shall be able to handle new arrivals almost as fast as they come," said Captain Conville. "We can place expert bookkeepers and stenographers, but have no calls for the men who just want to do office work."

"I have a number of positions for engineers, for example. Just wait until the engineers return to see those grabbed up. But none of my present registrants can handle them."

"If Portland and Oregon employers keep on the way they have begun the last few days, I think Oregon is going to take care of her own."

The local office of Swift & Co. yesterday announced that all former employees of the packing-house were being reinstated in their positions at the prevailing rate of pay as rapidly as they were discharged from the Army. All of the 7434 employees of Swift & Co. are to have back their old or better positions as soon as they are ready, were the instructions transmitted to the Portland office by President Louis F. Swift yesterday.

MAYOR TALKS TO ROTARY

DUTY OF EMPLOYERS TO RETURNING SOLDIERS STATED.

Expansion of Industries to Provide Additional Places Strongly Advocated.

Reconstruction was the theme of the Portland Rotary Club at the weekly luncheon at the crystal room of the Hotel Benson yesterday. Mayor Baker was the speaker of the day and was given the hearty endorsement of the membership in the course of the movement launched by the reconstruction committee appointed by Governor Withycombe.

The principle which he outlined to the Rotarians is that the men who have served under the colors are entitled to resume the employment they surrendered when the call to arms was sounded. Employers, he said, are called upon by the conditions that the signing of the armistice has brought to the country to expand their industries, whatever they may be, to provide places vacated by the men, while also retaining those who have loyally done their bit in carrying industry through the period of the war.

"It is up to them at home to do their duty in this matter of giving the discharged men work," said the Mayor, "and if the boys refuse to take work that is offered to them, that is their affair. There is an abundance of work to be done in Oregon, and the movement to start highway construction, bring new areas of agricultural land into production and increase the output of the foodstuffs, of which the world is greatly in need, will afford employment to thousands of men in Oregon."

KLAMATH MAN ON TRIAL

Violation of Espionage Act is Charge Filed in Federal Court.

Trial of F. W. Bold, of Bonanza, Klamath County, on the charge of violation of the espionage act, is occupying the attention of Federal Judge Wolverson. Assistant United States District Attorney Beckman is conducting the prosecution and Attorney Mills, of Klamath Falls, is attorney for the defendant.

Bold is a blacksmith at the town of Bonanza. About 20 witnesses are here. It is expected most of the testimony will be introduced today and that the case may end tomorrow.

The next case docketed for trial is that of Henry Albers.

VETERAN RESUMES STUDY

FIRST STUDENT WEARING GOLD CHEVRON ENROLLS.

Donald Smythe, University Senior, Participates in Fierce Fighting at Chateau Thierry.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Jan. 21.—(Special.)—Sergeant Donald Smythe, student of the university in 1913 and 1914, who returned today and registered as a senior, is the first University of Oregon man to enroll in his Alma Mater wearing the gold chevron indicating one year's service in France. Smythe, who attended Colorado College at Colorado Springs after he left the University of Oregon, is majoring in geology here.

at Camp Humphrey, Virginia, where he was assistant instructor. Only 25 men were left in Smythe's company out of 225 men when he left it in August and most of the rest, he thinks, were killed in the St. Mihiel and Argonne drives. The only other University of Oregon man in his regiment, Lieutenant Malcolm Johnston, of D Company, was killed the second day of the great drive at Chateau Thierry.

No man in his company, says Smythe, was taken prisoner. "The boys just wouldn't give up," he said this morning. "Our bugler one time went up a ravine which branched off and we lost track of him. When we came upon the place later we found the ground all trampled and we heard later that he had been killed, but he would not let the Germans take him."

The most successful attack of the regiment was at Vaux, says Smythe, for the attack went off exactly according to schedule. The men had about half a mile to go and took the town in exactly 45 minutes. Smythe, who returned today and registered as a senior, is the first University of Oregon man to enroll in his Alma Mater wearing the gold chevron indicating one year's service in France. Smythe, who attended Colorado College at Colorado Springs after he left the University of Oregon, is majoring in geology here.
