

WENATCHEE APPLES FIND READY DEMAND

Reversal of Market Conditions Relieves Growers.

SEASON'S OUTPUT IS HUGE

Total Sales for Year, Based on Estimated Output of 8000 Cars, May Exceed $12,000,000.

WENATCHEE, Wash., Feb. 5.—(Special)—The most extravagant expectations and dreams of investors in apple orchards are being realized in the Wenatchee apple district. Of the 8000 carloads of box apples raised in this district during this season all but a few hundred have been sent to the markets and it is now figured that $12,000,000 will have come into the district from this year's crop. Also the Wenatchee district shipped 1200 cars of soft fruits, for which high prices were also received.

Wenatchee has been known as the Balkans of the apple industry. The tendency has not been to join together and form a strong marketing organization, but instead the growers have been for each large grower and small group of growers to build warehouses in which to store their apples until buyers come with cash to purchase them. In past years this policy has frequently resulted in disaster.

This season, however, there has been a mad scramble on the part of the speculators, wholesalers and jobbers to get the apples. The result has been that the market has advanced upon extra fancy apples to $2 and over. The prices received, viz., from $2 to $3 a box of c. b. Wenatchee, have enabled the owners of orchards to make $1000 an acre clear profit where there were full crops. Wenatchee is full of offices and warehouses of brokers who do not independently of each other in buying fruit for Eastern buyers. As the price of apples has been steadily rising during the season, these brokers have been able to buy apples and resell them at a large profit a few days or few weeks later. The brokers who have neither connections nor are willing to pay cash nor are willing or able to risk the investment of cash themselves have little standing in Wenatchee.

The consignment of fruit has been personified in Wenatchee and now is considered the common enemy of the community. This year's conditions have enabled the growers of the Wenatchee Valley to reverse the market conditions and to receive returns from the markets they have insisted that the market men do the worrying as to just how much money it will cost them to get their needed supplies of box apples. One farmer after another will tell stories like this: "I have ten acres of Winesap apples. The orchard produced this year 7000 boxes of apples, that is, about one car to the acre. I sold apples at first for $2 on board the cars here, then $2.50 and now the price is $3, and I am waiting."

Mr. Dierdorff was recommended by the university examining committee from six applicants in a competitive examination held January 15 at the university.

MAN FOUND DEAD IN BOAT

Body of E. B. Miller Discovered by Wife and Daughters. FLORENCE, Or., Feb. 5.—(Special)—E. B. Miller, whose home on Tailcoons Lake has been the resort of hunters and fishermen for years, was found dead in his boat at his landing on the lake last Sunday morning. His wife had spent a day or two with her daughters in Florence, returning home Sunday morning. Not seeing Mr. Miller around, she began a search for him. It is thought he may have gone to a grain farm of Lower Cove, where he thought he was improving recently. He brought his family to the present home in 1888. He is survived by his widow, one son and three stepchildren.
