

We Give S. & H. Green Trading Stamps With Purchases Amounting to 10c or More—British War Relief Red Cross Workers Will Meet Friday in Our Auditorium on the Fourth Floor. Take Down-Town Luncheon With Your Friends in the Tea Room on the Fourth Floor—All Foods Prepared in Our Own Spotless Kitchens—Prompt, Courteous Service—Reasonable Prices.

Quality Hair Goods. Discriminating women come to this store for hair goods because they know we handle only the best quality—and moreover, our prices are as low as other stores ask for hair goods of ordinary grade.

NESTLE Hair Waving. The most successful method yet devised for permanent hair-waving. Will not injure the hair; gives an added charm to any woman. Step in and let us tell you about this wonderful process. Hair Goods Shop—Second Floor.

Men's New Spring Hats $4 to $7.50. Main Floor—Our Spring stock of Men's Hats embraces every desirable style and color for the coming season. Friday and Saturday we shall show these new arrivals and cordially invite you to come in and see them. Prices range $4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $7.50.

Men's 30c Hose 23c Pair. Main Floor—Men's Lisle Finish Hose with double heel and toe. Black, white, champagne, tan, Palm Beach. Priced special; a pair 23c.

Men's $3.50 Pajamas $2.39. $2.25, $2.50 Shirts $1.63. Main Floor—Men's Spring and Summer Pajamas of seisetette and madras cloth. Plain colors, stripes and figures. These are of excellent quality, worth $3.50—sizes 15 to 18. Special $2.39.

MEN'S WORK SHIRTS of good, heavy quality chambray, well-made and cut in full, generous sizes. Shirts from our regular lines selling at $2.00, in a special underprice offering for Friday at $1.45.

Odd Lines Women's Footwear $2. Main Floor—This is an after-inventory clean-up of several small lots of Women's Shoes—lines that we have decided to discontinue. John Kelly, Armstrong and Duttenhofer makes. All-black patent coil and dull calf shoes, laced and buttoned, medium and pointed toe, Cuban heels, cravenettes tops, Goodyear welted soles. No returns, exchanges or C. O. D.'s and no telephone orders accepted.

Friday Grocery Specials. Fourth Floor—RIPE OLIVES, Supreme brand—1-pound cans, priced for Friday at 29c. TUNA FISH tastes like chicken; priced special, can 21c. —STRINGLESS BEANS, 50c. Swing brand—3 cans for 50c. —DEMONSTRATION of Oyster Mined Claims, Grocery Dept. Headquarters for garden seeds.

188 WOMEN'S DRESSES IN 3 NOTABLE SALES

Odd Lines Embroideries At HALF PRICE. Main Floor—Just such embroideries as you will have need for in making up Spring wearables. All are from our own regular stocks. In the great assortment there are beautiful embroidery edges, beadings, allovers and insertions in a vast range of dainty patterns suitable for underwear, children's dresses, etc. Fine quality cambric, nainsook, organdy and voile materials. Embroideries of splendid quality with well-worked edges. SEE THESE!

1/2 Price. Motor Caps 1/2 Price. $1.25 Caps 63c. $7.75 Caps $3.38. Main Floor—Velvet, Poplin, Wool Velour and Caracul Caps—many are trimmed with leather, others have Shetland drapery veils attached. This season's styles—very smart for motor and street wear. All wanted colors. Caps of 1.25 to $7.75 grades on sale at half price—or 63c up to $3.88.

The Standard Store of the Northwest Olds, Wortman & King. Reliable Merchandise—Reliable Methods.

Scarfs and Sets Special $1. Main Floor—Odd lines Women's Wool Scarfs, Scarf and Cap Sets. Formerly priced $1.00 to $2.75—Friday at $1.00.

New Models in Spring Hats $7.50. Second Floor—Straws and combinations of silk and straw—decidedly smart models in the small tailored effects and in the larger styles trimmed with wings, ornaments, flowers, and bows. Black and the new suit shades. $7.50. Exceptional values at $7.50. —OTHER SPRING HATS IN TAILORED AND DRESSY EFFECTS AT $15.00 TO $35.00.

Lot 1—Women's Dresses Priced SPECIAL at $17.85. Second Floor—High-class Dresses of velveteen, satin, messaline, wool jersey, serge and velour. Straight-line, high waist. Russian blouse and various other good styles. Many are braided and embroidered. Navy, green, taupe, plum, black. All sizes.

Lot 2—Women's Dresses Priced SPECIAL at $19.95. Second Floor—Dresses of satin, crepe de chine, messaline, jersey, serge, tricotine and Georgette crepe. Beautiful models for street and afternoon wear. Basque, straight-line and novelty styles. All from our regular stock. Good assortment of colors.

Lot 3—Women's Dresses Priced SPECIAL at $29.98. Second Floor—This lot embraces a wide range of charming dresses of Georgette crepe, serge, velour, velvet and satin. All the season's best styles—many are trimmed with wide silk fringe or beaded and embroidered. Splendid styles for Spring wear. Good assortment of all wanted colors.

Portland Agency for Betty Wales Dresses

Motor Caps 1/2 Price. $1.25 Caps 63c. $7.75 Caps $3.38. Main Floor—Velvet, Poplin, Wool Velour and Caracul Caps—many are trimmed with leather, others have Shetland drapery veils attached. This season's styles—very smart for motor and street wear. All wanted colors. Caps of 1.25 to $7.75 grades on sale at half price—or 63c up to $3.88.

Marabou Scarfs and Capes Special at $4.95. Main Floor—Fashion says capes and scarfs will be much the vogue for wear with Spring suits and dresses. In this sale you may choose from a number of Marabou Scarfs and Capes in black and brown lined with silk and well made. Priced very special for this sale at only $4.95.

Children's Spring Apparel. —New Middy Dresses. Second Floor—New Paul Jones Middy Blouses for girls from 4 to 14 years of age. White, tan or blue. Very attractive. Prices range, $1.08 to $3.50. —New Paul Jones Middy Dresses with yoke—ages from 2 to 6 years—priced at only $2.25 and $3.75. —New Middy Skirts of galatee, priced at $2.50.

Wash Dresses $4.50 to $13.75. —fresh becoming little frocks in best grade ginghams in plaids, stripes and plain colors. Ages 6 to 16 years—$4.50 to $13.75. Sateen Bloomers. —New White Sateen Bloomers for girls 2 to 14 years of age—priced 85c and $1.00. —New Black Sateen Bloomers 75c to $1.35.

Sale of Carpet Samples 89c, 98c and $2.48. Bargain Circle, First Floor—Manufacturer's sample pieces of high-grade Wilton, Velvet, Axminster and Brussels Carpets. Pieces suitable for rugs. Good assortment of sizes and patterns. Finished edges; ready for use. Special, 89c, 98c and $2.48 each.

Pillows at Special Prices. —FULL SIZE, standard quality Bed Pillows, covered with fancy art ticking. Special, each, $1.09. —LOT 2—Feather Pillows $1.14. —RAG RUGS—a special lot underpriced for Friday at the Bargain Circle. Size 27x54 inches. Special, each $1.35.

New Bird Cages $1.60 to $12. Third Floor—We show the largest and best stock of Bird Cages in the entire city. —WHITE ENAMELED CAGES in various sizes and styles—priced $1.60 to $2.65. —STEEL TOP CAGES with brass bases; assorted sizes and styles—$2.40 to $4.10. —BRASS CAGES priced $2.65 to $10.00. —PARROT CAGES—all styles—$5 to $12. —BREEDING CAGES and Mocking Bird Cages in large assortment of sizes, styles.

5000 Yards New Gingham 25c Yd. Main Floor—Opening display and sale of new spring gingham Friday and Saturday in the Aisle of Cottons. New plaids, stripes and checks in delightful new colorings for women's and children's 25c dresses. Priced, the yard.

Outing Flannels 35c. Main Floor—Good heavy quality outings suitable for pajamas and night gowns. Full 36 inches wide. Neat striped patterns. Only 35c a limited quantity—a yard.

Cotton Batts At 68c. Main Floor—Pure White Comforter Batts 2 pounds in weight. Size for large comforters. Priced special at 68c.

Sale of Wilton Rugs, Third Floor. —$75.00 Wilton Rugs, size 9x12 feet, Special at $64.50. —$110.00 Wilton Rugs, size 9x12 feet, Special at $79. —$125.00 Wilton Rugs, size 9x12 feet, Special at $87.50.

MUCH LIQUOR IS SEIZED

21,911 QUARTS TAKEN IN PERIOD OF TEN MONTHS.

War Emergency Squad Makes 3757 Arrests and Fines Totalling $30,088 Are Collected.

Liquor of every flavor and color, but principally "neutral" whisky, amounting to 21,911 quarts, was confiscated by the war emergency squad from February 1, 1918, when Police Lieutenant Harvey Thatcher was placed in command, until November 1, 1918, the end of the city fiscal year. Lieutenant Thatcher's report was filed yesterday with Mayor Baker.

During the period included in the report 3757 arrests were made and a total of $30,088 was collected in fines for violations of the ordinance which the war emergency squad specializes in enforcing. Most of the arrests made by this squad were for alleged violations of the prohibition law, a total of 482 persons having been haled into the municipal court to answer to the charge of violations under this class. The squad arrested 458 persons on a charge of gambling and 179 persons were arrested, accused of being intoxicated.

One hundred and fourteen men and women arrested by the squad for sedition, violation of laws governing alien enemies and other similar laws, were turned over to the federal officials for prosecution or investigation. The war emergency squad did the major portion of the work necessary in enforcing the hotel license law, passed by the city council upon recommendation of Mayor Baker as a means of removing vice from the city in the interest of thousands of soldiers, sailors and marines who visited or passed through Portland during the past year. Round-up of bootleggers, gamblers and others of the same ilk formed the principal work for this busy squad.

LECTURES TO CONTINUE

Much Interest Shown in Education at Housing Bungalow.

Due to the interest shown in the regular Friday evening lectures of the "own-your-home" campaign at the housing bungalow, Fourth and Stark streets, the series will be continued for an indefinite period. It was announced yesterday by O. H. Skocheim, executive secretary of the campaign.

Previous lectures of the series have attracted a large number of persons to the housing bungalow. The lectures are delivered by architects and other artists of the city and touch upon such subjects as home construction, gardening, landscaping and interior decorating. A committee headed by Mrs. Anton Gleiblich, president of the Monday Musical club, furnishes music and entertainments at the meetings, which are free and open to the public.

One hundred and fourteen men and women arrested by the squad for sedition, violation of laws governing alien enemies and other similar laws, were turned over to the federal officials for prosecution or investigation. The war emergency squad did the major portion of the work necessary in enforcing the hotel license law, passed by the city council upon recommendation of Mayor Baker as a means of removing vice from the city in the interest of thousands of soldiers, sailors and marines who visited or passed through Portland during the past year. Round-up of bootleggers, gamblers and others of the same ilk formed the principal work for this busy squad.

FEDERAL BUREAUS DESIRED

Council to Pass on Establishing Homes Registration.

The question of establishing a homes registration committee under federal management, in charge of a competent secretary, to compile data on available homes for the use of returning soldiers, sailors and marines as well as all other home-seekers, is still before the city council and probably will be acted on today. City Commissioner Bigelow, although not committed to oppose the plan, has indicated that he believes such a bureau would mean duplication of effort and that there are sufficient rental bureaus already established in the city.

NEW EPIDEMIC IS FEARED

Twelve More Cases of Influenza Are Reported During Day.

Twelve new cases of influenza were reported to the city health office yesterday, indicating what might be the beginning of the third flare-up of the disease in Portland. Acting City Health Officer Able is optimistic, however, and states that if all residents of the city will take ordinary precautions as were suggested during the two previous epidemics a third flare-up might be avoided. The changes in climatic conditions, such as we have been experiencing during the past few days do not augur well for the holding down of the disease and everyone should co-operate to prevent a third epidemic in Portland, he said.

KENT WILSON HUNTS DEER

Oregon City Sergeant on ex-Crown Prince's Estates.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Feb. 20.—(Special.)—Sergeant Kent R. Wilson, of Oregon City, a former student in the university, now located at a base hospital in France, has been hunting wild deer on the ex-crown prince's estates, according to a letter written to his father, which has been forwarded to the university. Sergeant Wilson has been in France for a year and in Germany three months. During this time he has seen active service in the St. Mihiel sector, Verdun, the Somme and Argonne drives. He has also been in Aix-les-Bains, Switzerland, the Mediterranean sea and Coblenz. Wilson was gassed once, but only slightly.

At the Theaters.

Hippodrome. THERE is unqualified approval voiced in heartiest applause of the big animal act which tops the list of attractions on the Hippodrome's new bill. The animals are huge spotted leopards, five in number, and sufficiently wicked looking and temperamental to satisfy anyone looking for thrills. Princess Olga, a good looking woman who has tamed many animals of all sorts and who has been a feature of animal acts in many motion pictures, especially in the Selig photo plays and in "The Adventures of Kathlyn," a thrilling serial of a few seasons ago has leopards and in a monster cage, safe barred to still the fears of nervous souls in the audience, she puts her pets through a series of clever tricks which reflect greatly to her own patience and to the sagacity of the animals as well. The act is unusually attractive and startling. "The Manhaters" is the title of a remarkably clever playlet set to pretty music, in which Ned Nestor and a group of attractive singing, dancing maids, plus Olivette Haynes are featured regularly. The story, which is timely, has to do with suffrage and when the charming Haynes girl is elected mayores and begins to put into execution her radical ideas, things assume humorous proportions and begin to hum for one young doctor, a sad flirt, played cleverly by Mr. Nestor. The little musical act sparkles with farcical ideas and bright lines, all set to smart music. "Hydrophobia" is the catchy title of a keen little domestic episode featuring Hallet and Howe, a pair of good actors in a home argument which finds ready appreciation from the audience. The Musical Conservatory presents a quartet of excellent vocalists, all comedians, with Happy Golden in the role of an ambitious music teacher who opens a school of music, with hilarious harmonious results. De Albert and Weaver present a delightfully entertaining song and step-pure number all around with pretty scenic effects. Gardner and Levere are sponsors for a clever turn in which the guitar melodies of Gardner are well worthwhile. The photo play is a Pathe entitled "A Little Sister to Everybody" in which Bonnie Love plays the role of a patriotic girl of foreign blood, but American impulses in a capital story.

At the Theaters.

Hippodrome. THERE is unqualified approval voiced in heartiest applause of the big animal act which tops the list of attractions on the Hippodrome's new bill. The animals are huge spotted leopards, five in number, and sufficiently wicked looking and temperamental to satisfy anyone looking for thrills. Princess Olga, a good looking woman who has tamed many animals of all sorts and who has been a feature of animal acts in many motion pictures, especially in the Selig photo plays and in "The Adventures of Kathlyn," a thrilling serial of a few seasons ago has leopards and in a monster cage, safe barred to still the fears of nervous souls in the audience, she puts her pets through a series of clever tricks which reflect greatly to her own patience and to the sagacity of the animals as well. The act is unusually attractive and startling. "The Manhaters" is the title of a remarkably clever playlet set to pretty music, in which Ned Nestor and a group of attractive singing, dancing maids, plus Olivette Haynes are featured regularly. The story, which is timely, has to do with suffrage and when the charming Haynes girl is elected mayores and begins to put into execution her radical ideas, things assume humorous proportions and begin to hum for one young doctor, a sad flirt, played cleverly by Mr. Nestor. The little musical act sparkles with farcical ideas and bright lines, all set to smart music. "Hydrophobia" is the catchy title of a keen little domestic episode featuring Hallet and Howe, a pair of good actors in a home argument which finds ready appreciation from the audience. The Musical Conservatory presents a quartet of excellent vocalists, all comedians, with Happy Golden in the role of an ambitious music teacher who opens a school of music, with hilarious harmonious results. De Albert and Weaver present a delightfully entertaining song and step-pure number all around with pretty scenic effects. Gardner and Levere are sponsors for a clever turn in which the guitar melodies of Gardner are well worthwhile. The photo play is a Pathe entitled "A Little Sister to Everybody" in which Bonnie Love plays the role of a patriotic girl of foreign blood, but American impulses in a capital story.

Princess Olga, a good looking woman who has tamed many animals of all sorts and who has been a feature of animal acts in many motion pictures, especially in the Selig photo plays and in "The Adventures of Kathlyn," a thrilling serial of a few seasons ago has leopards and in a monster cage, safe barred to still the fears of nervous souls in the audience, she puts her pets through a series of clever tricks which reflect greatly to her own patience and to the sagacity of the animals as well. The act is unusually attractive and startling. "The Manhaters" is the title of a remarkably clever playlet set to pretty music, in which Ned Nestor and a group of attractive singing, dancing maids, plus Olivette Haynes are featured regularly. The story, which is timely, has to do with suffrage and when the charming Haynes girl is elected mayores and begins to put into execution her radical ideas, things assume humorous proportions and begin to hum for one young doctor, a sad flirt, played cleverly by Mr. Nestor. The little musical act sparkles with farcical ideas and bright lines, all set to smart music. "Hydrophobia" is the catchy title of a keen little domestic episode featuring Hallet and Howe, a pair of good actors in a home argument which finds ready appreciation from the audience. The Musical Conservatory presents a quartet of excellent vocalists, all comedians, with Happy Golden in the role of an ambitious music teacher who opens a school of music, with hilarious harmonious results. De Albert and Weaver present a delightfully entertaining song and step-pure number all around with pretty scenic effects. Gardner and Levere are sponsors for a clever turn in which the guitar melodies of Gardner are well worthwhile. The photo play is a Pathe entitled "A Little Sister to Everybody" in which Bonnie Love plays the role of a patriotic girl of foreign blood, but American impulses in a capital story.

Princess Olga, a good looking woman who has tamed many animals of all sorts and who has been a feature of animal acts in many motion pictures, especially in the Selig photo plays and in "The Adventures of Kathlyn," a thrilling serial of a few seasons ago has leopards and in a monster cage, safe barred to still the fears of nervous souls in the audience, she puts her pets through a series of clever tricks which reflect greatly to her own patience and to the sagacity of the animals as well. The act is unusually attractive and startling. "The Manhaters" is the title of a remarkably clever playlet set to pretty music, in which Ned Nestor and a group of attractive singing, dancing maids, plus Olivette Haynes are featured regularly. The story, which is timely, has to do with suffrage and when the charming Haynes girl is elected mayores and begins to put into execution her radical ideas, things assume humorous proportions and begin to hum for one young doctor, a sad flirt, played cleverly by Mr. Nestor. The little musical act sparkles with farcical ideas and bright lines, all set to smart music. "Hydrophobia" is the catchy title of a keen little domestic episode featuring Hallet and Howe, a pair of good actors in a home argument which finds ready appreciation from the audience. The Musical Conservatory presents a quartet of excellent vocalists, all comedians, with Happy Golden in the role of an ambitious music teacher who opens a school of music, with hilarious harmonious results. De Albert and Weaver present a delightfully entertaining song and step-pure number all around with pretty scenic effects. Gardner and Levere are sponsors for a clever turn in which the guitar melodies of Gardner are well worthwhile. The photo play is a Pathe entitled "A Little Sister to Everybody" in which Bonnie Love plays the role of a patriotic girl of foreign blood, but American impulses in a capital story.

Princess Olga, a good looking woman who has tamed many animals of all sorts and who has been a feature of animal acts in many motion pictures, especially in the Selig photo plays and in "The Adventures of Kathlyn," a thrilling serial of a few seasons ago has leopards and in a monster cage, safe barred to still the fears of nervous souls in the audience, she puts her pets through a series of clever tricks which reflect greatly to her own patience and to the sagacity of the animals as well. The act is unusually attractive and startling. "The Manhaters" is the title of a remarkably clever playlet set to pretty music, in which Ned Nestor and a group of attractive singing, dancing maids, plus Olivette Haynes are featured regularly. The story, which is timely, has to do with suffrage and when the charming Haynes girl is elected mayores and begins to put into execution her radical ideas, things assume humorous proportions and begin to hum for one young doctor, a sad flirt, played cleverly by Mr. Nestor. The little musical act sparkles with farcical ideas and bright lines, all set to smart music. "Hydrophobia" is the catchy title of a keen little domestic episode featuring Hallet and Howe, a pair of good actors in a home argument which finds ready appreciation from the audience. The Musical Conservatory presents a quartet of excellent vocalists, all comedians, with Happy Golden in the role of an ambitious music teacher who opens a school of music, with hilarious harmonious results. De Albert and Weaver present a delightfully entertaining song and step-pure number all around with pretty scenic effects. Gardner and Levere are sponsors for a clever turn in which the guitar melodies of Gardner are well worthwhile. The photo play is a Pathe entitled "A Little Sister to Everybody" in which Bonnie Love plays the role of a patriotic girl of foreign blood, but American impulses in a capital story.

Princess Olga, a good looking woman who has tamed many animals of all sorts and who has been a feature of animal acts in many motion pictures, especially in the Selig photo plays and in "The Adventures of Kathlyn," a thrilling serial of a few seasons ago has leopards and in a monster cage, safe barred to still the fears of nervous souls in the audience, she puts her pets through a series of clever tricks which reflect greatly to her own patience and to the sagacity of the animals as well. The act is unusually attractive and startling. "The Manhaters" is the title of a remarkably clever playlet set to pretty music, in which Ned Nestor and a group of attractive singing, dancing maids, plus Olivette Haynes are featured regularly. The story, which is timely, has to do with suffrage and when the charming Haynes girl is elected mayores and begins to put into execution her radical ideas, things assume humorous proportions and begin to hum for one young doctor, a sad flirt, played cleverly by Mr. Nestor. The little musical act sparkles with farcical ideas and bright lines, all set to smart music. "Hydrophobia" is the catchy title of a keen little domestic episode featuring Hallet and Howe, a pair of good actors in a home argument which finds ready appreciation from the audience. The Musical Conservatory presents a quartet of excellent vocalists, all comedians, with Happy Golden in the role of an ambitious music teacher who opens a school of music, with hilarious harmonious results. De Albert and Weaver present a delightfully entertaining song and step-pure number all around with pretty scenic effects. Gardner and Levere are sponsors for a clever turn in which the guitar melodies of Gardner are well worthwhile. The photo play is a Pathe entitled "A Little Sister to Everybody" in which Bonnie Love plays the role of a patriotic girl of foreign blood, but American impulses in a capital story.

Princess Olga, a good looking woman who has tamed many animals of all sorts and who has been a feature of animal acts in many motion pictures, especially in the Selig photo plays and in "The Adventures of Kathlyn," a thrilling serial of a few seasons ago has leopards and in a monster cage, safe barred to still the fears of nervous souls in the audience, she puts her pets through a series of clever tricks which reflect greatly to her own patience and to the sagacity of the animals as well. The act is unusually attractive and startling. "The Manhaters" is the title of a remarkably clever playlet set to pretty music, in which Ned Nestor and a group of attractive singing, dancing maids, plus Olivette Haynes are featured regularly. The story, which is timely, has to do with suffrage and when the charming Haynes girl is elected mayores and begins to put into execution her radical ideas, things assume humorous proportions and begin to hum for one young doctor, a sad flirt, played cleverly by Mr. Nestor. The little musical act sparkles with farcical ideas and bright lines, all set to smart music. "Hydrophobia" is the catchy title of a keen little domestic episode featuring Hallet and Howe, a pair of good actors in a home argument which finds ready appreciation from the audience. The Musical Conservatory presents a quartet of excellent vocalists, all comedians, with Happy Golden in the role of an ambitious music teacher who opens a school of music, with hilarious harmonious results. De Albert and Weaver present a delightfully entertaining song and step-pure number all around with pretty scenic effects. Gardner and Levere are sponsors for a clever turn in which the guitar melodies of Gardner are well worthwhile. The photo play is a Pathe entitled "A Little Sister to Everybody" in which Bonnie Love plays the role of a patriotic girl of foreign blood, but American impulses in a capital story.

Princess Olga, a good looking woman who has tamed many animals of all sorts and who has been a feature of animal acts in many motion pictures, especially in the Selig photo plays and in "The Adventures of Kathlyn," a thrilling serial of a few seasons ago has leopards and in a monster cage, safe barred to still the fears of nervous souls in the audience, she puts her pets through a series of clever tricks which reflect greatly to her own patience and to the sagacity of the animals as well. The act is unusually attractive and startling. "The Manhaters" is the title of a remarkably clever playlet set to pretty music, in which Ned Nestor and a group of attractive singing, dancing maids, plus Olivette Haynes are featured regularly. The story, which is timely, has to do with suffrage and when the charming Haynes girl is elected mayores and begins to put into execution her radical ideas, things assume humorous proportions and begin to hum for one young doctor, a sad flirt, played cleverly by Mr. Nestor. The little musical act sparkles with farcical ideas and bright lines, all set to smart music. "Hydrophobia" is the catchy title of a keen little domestic episode featuring Hallet and Howe, a pair of good actors in a home argument which finds ready appreciation from the audience. The Musical Conservatory presents a quartet of excellent vocalists, all comedians, with Happy Golden in the role of an ambitious music teacher who opens a school of music, with hilarious harmonious results. De Albert and Weaver present a delightfully entertaining song and step-pure number all around with pretty scenic effects. Gardner and Levere are sponsors for a clever turn in which the guitar melodies of Gardner are well worthwhile. The photo play is a Pathe entitled "A Little Sister to Everybody" in which Bonnie Love plays the role of a patriotic girl of foreign blood, but American impulses in a capital story.

Princess Olga, a good looking woman who has tamed many animals of all sorts and who has been a feature of animal acts in many motion pictures, especially in the Selig photo plays and in "The Adventures of Kathlyn," a thrilling serial of a few seasons ago has leopards and in a monster cage, safe barred to still the fears of nervous souls in the audience, she puts her pets through a series of clever tricks which reflect greatly to her own patience and to the sagacity of the animals as well. The act is unusually attractive and startling. "The Manhaters" is the title of a remarkably clever playlet set to pretty music, in which Ned Nestor and a group of attractive singing, dancing maids, plus Olivette Haynes are featured regularly. The story, which is timely, has to do with suffrage and when the charming Haynes girl is elected mayores and begins to put into execution her radical ideas, things assume humorous proportions and begin to hum for one young doctor, a sad flirt, played cleverly by Mr. Nestor. The little musical act sparkles with farcical ideas and bright lines, all set to smart music. "Hydrophobia" is the catchy title of a keen little domestic episode featuring Hallet and Howe, a pair of good actors in a home argument which finds ready appreciation from the audience. The Musical Conservatory presents a quartet of excellent vocalists, all comedians, with Happy Golden in the role of an ambitious music teacher who opens a school of music, with hilarious harmonious results. De Albert and Weaver present a delightfully entertaining song and step-pure number all around with pretty scenic effects. Gardner and Levere are sponsors for a clever turn in which the guitar melodies of Gardner are well worthwhile. The photo play is a Pathe entitled "A Little Sister to Everybody" in which Bonnie Love plays the role of a patriotic girl of foreign blood, but American impulses in a capital story.

Princess Olga, a good looking woman who has tamed many animals of all sorts and who has been a feature of animal acts in many motion pictures, especially in the Selig photo plays and in "The Adventures of Kathlyn," a thrilling serial of a few seasons ago has leopards and in a monster cage, safe barred to still the fears of nervous souls in the audience, she puts her pets through a series of clever tricks which reflect greatly to her own patience and to the sagacity of the animals as well. The act is unusually attractive and startling. "The Manhaters" is the title of a remarkably clever playlet set to pretty music, in which Ned Nestor and a group of attractive singing, dancing maids, plus Olivette Haynes are featured regularly. The story, which is timely, has to do with suffrage and when the charming Haynes girl is elected mayores and begins to put into execution her radical ideas, things assume humorous proportions and begin to hum for one young doctor, a sad flirt, played cleverly by Mr. Nestor. The little musical act sparkles with farcical ideas and bright lines, all set to smart music. "Hydrophobia" is the catchy title of a keen little domestic episode featuring Hallet and Howe, a pair of good actors in a home argument which finds ready appreciation from the audience. The Musical Conservatory presents a quartet of excellent vocalists, all comedians, with Happy Golden in the role of an ambitious music teacher who opens a school of music, with hilarious harmonious results. De Albert and Weaver present a delightfully entertaining song and step-pure number all around with pretty scenic effects. Gardner and Levere are sponsors for a clever turn in which the guitar melodies of Gardner are well worthwhile. The photo play is a Pathe entitled "A Little Sister to Everybody" in which Bonnie Love plays the role of a patriotic girl of foreign blood, but American impulses in a capital story.

Princess Olga, a good looking woman who has tamed many animals of all sorts and who has been a feature of animal acts in many motion pictures, especially in the Selig photo plays and in "The Adventures of Kathlyn," a thrilling serial of a few seasons ago has leopards and in a monster cage, safe barred to still the fears of nervous souls in the audience, she puts her pets through a series of clever tricks which reflect greatly to her own patience and to the sagacity of the animals as well. The act is unusually attractive and startling. "The Manhaters" is the title of a remarkably clever playlet set to pretty music, in which Ned Nestor and a group of attractive singing, dancing maids, plus Olivette Haynes are featured regularly. The story, which is timely, has to do with suffrage and when the charming Haynes girl is elected mayores and begins to put into execution her radical ideas, things assume humorous proportions and begin to hum for one young doctor, a sad flirt, played cleverly by Mr. Nestor. The little musical act sparkles with farcical ideas and bright lines, all set to smart music. "Hydrophobia" is the catchy title of a keen little domestic episode featuring Hallet and Howe, a pair of good actors in a home argument which finds ready appreciation from the audience. The Musical Conservatory presents a quartet of excellent vocalists, all comedians, with Happy Golden in the role of an ambitious music teacher who opens a school of music, with hilarious harmonious results. De Albert and Weaver present a delightfully entertaining song and step-pure number all around with pretty scenic effects. Gardner and Levere are sponsors for a clever turn in which the guitar melodies of Gardner are well worthwhile. The photo play is a Pathe entitled "A Little Sister to Everybody" in which Bonnie Love plays the role of a patriotic girl of foreign blood, but American impulses in a capital story.

Princess Olga, a good looking woman who has tamed many animals of all sorts and who has been a feature of animal acts in many motion pictures, especially in the Selig photo plays and in "The Adventures of Kathlyn," a thrilling serial of a few seasons ago has leopards and in a monster cage, safe barred to still the fears of nervous souls in the audience, she puts her pets through a series of clever tricks which reflect greatly to her own patience and to the sagacity of the animals as well. The act is unusually attractive and startling. "The Manhaters" is the title of a remarkably clever playlet set to pretty music, in which Ned Nestor and a group of attractive singing, dancing maids, plus Olivette Haynes are featured regularly. The story, which is timely, has to do with suffrage and when the charming Haynes girl is elected mayores and begins to put into execution her radical ideas, things assume humorous proportions and begin to hum for one young doctor, a sad flirt, played cleverly by Mr. Nestor. The little musical act sparkles with farcical ideas and bright lines, all set to smart music. "Hydrophobia" is the catchy title of a keen little domestic episode featuring Hallet and Howe, a pair of good actors in a home argument which finds ready appreciation from the audience. The Musical Conservatory presents a quartet of excellent vocalists, all comedians, with Happy Golden in the role of an ambitious music teacher who opens a school of music, with hilarious harmonious results. De Albert and Weaver present a delightfully entertaining song and step-pure number all around with pretty scenic effects. Gardner and Levere are sponsors for a clever turn in which the guitar melodies of Gardner are well worthwhile. The photo play is a Pathe entitled "A Little Sister to Everybody" in which Bonnie Love plays the role of a patriotic girl of foreign blood, but American impulses in a capital story.

Pineapple Desserts—2c. The bottle in each package of Pineapple Jiffy-Jell contains all the rich essence from half a ripe pineapple. The dessert has a wealth of this exquisite flavor, and a package serves six people for 12 1/2 cents. You owe to yourself a trial of this new-type gelatine dainty.

Jiffy-Jell. 10 Flavors, at Your Grocer's. 2 Packages for 25 Cents.

HAYNES. The photo play is a Pathe entitled "A Little Sister to Everybody" in which Bonnie Love plays the role of a patriotic girl of foreign blood, but American impulses in a capital story.

DIXIE BREAD. HAYNES-FOSTER BAKING CO.

Back From The War Why It Went. YOUR old friend G. Washington's Coffee is back from the war. When the U. S. Government wanted coffee for the boys in the trenches, they commandeered G. Washington's. They did this because it was the best coffee to be had. It tastes good. It is not a "substitute" and doesn't taste like one. It's the real coffee. It has the regular old ambrosial fit-for-the-gods flavor. The real, commanding reason why people eat any one particular foodstuff is because they like it. The palate is a better customer than the brain. The boys in the trenches wanted G. Washington's Coffee, because it is "lickin' good," and it puts pep into you as all coffee should. You know what you're getting. It is absolutely soluble. Every bit of it dissolves, in either cold or hot water. There is no waste, not an atom. There are no grounds, not a speck. G. Washington's COFFEE is back from the war—at your grocers. G. WASHINGTON SALES CO., INC., NEW YORK.