NATION-WIDE STRIKE IS 'UP TO' PRESIDENT

Burleson oPlicy Displeasing to Electrical Workers.

GRIEVANCES HELD IGNORED

About 12,000 Linemen and Telephone Operators on Coast Affected; More Strikes Ordered.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—An increase in the wages of approximately 2500 linemen in California and Washington was authorized in advices from Postmaster-General Burleson received here today by the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company, according to a statement issued tonight by J. C. Nowell, general manager of the company. He said the increase meets the approval of the company.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 28.—A nation-wide strike of electrical workers affiliated with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers is in prospect "unless President Wilson provides some committee, commission or court," to which members of the organization can submit grievances, according to Charles P. Ford, secretry of the brotherhood, following the sending of a telegraphic appeal to the president today.

"The appeal wired to President Wilson," Mr. Ford stated, "is in substance a protest against Postmaster-General Burleson's policy of refusing to provide any means of adjusting wage controversies in California, Oregon, Washington and Nevada."

Approximately 12,000 linemen and telephone operators on the Pacific coast are affected, Ford said. In addition to these, he declared, controversies are pending in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Kansas.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—The result of a referendum strike vote of 6000 telephone linemen and other electrical workers and 9000 telephone girls in California, Nevada, Oregon and Washington was forwarded to the headquarters of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers in Springfield, Ill., by representatives of the organization here on Wednesday, February 26.

Brotherhood officials here indicated tht the vote favored a strike unless Postmaster-General Burleson agreed to meet the representatives of the workers.

OAKLAND, Cal., Feb. 28.—The East Bay machinists' unions, with a membership of approximately 4000, and the shipyard laborers with a membership of approximately 2600, last night voted to work a 44-hour week only in face of threat of discharge made by the managements of the shipyards. This means that approximately 8600 men will knock of work at noon tomorrow.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—A strike of 16,000 harbor workers, effective at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, was voted today by the executive council of the Marine Workers' affiliation as a result of dissatisfaction with the award of V. Everit Macy, umpire of the National War Labor board, granting an eight-hour day without increased wages.

SPOKANE, Feb. 28.—A resolution declaring that all building trades unions of this city will support the local painters' union in its demand for a wage increase from $6 to $7 a day, effective tomorrow, was passed by the building trades council, comprising representatives of building craft unions, at its meeting last night, it was announced today by J. N. Northway, the secretary.

WAGE CONFERENCE PROMISED

Seattle Labor Adjustment Official Makes Announcement.

SEATTLE, Feb. 28.—Henry McBride, local head of the labor adjustment division, emergency fleet corporation, was empowered to summon a Puget Sound district wage conference to discuss shipyard wage schedules effective April 1, in a telegram sent today by Dr. L. C. Marshall, assistant to Director-General Charles Piez of the emergency fleet corporation, to state strike and fedral officials.

The telegram was Dr. Marshall's answer to striking Seattle, Tacoma and Aberdeen metal trades workers, who announced that they would vote on returning to work provided a Pacific coast wage conference was assured.. It is believed that the answer means the speedy end of the strikes which have involved approximately 35,000 workers in the cities affected.

Immediately after receipt of the Marshall reply, a special session of the strikers' conference committee was called late today. Should the committee recommend an immediate referendum vote on the question of returning to work, it was said, this action would have to be sanctioned by a joint session of the Seattle, Tacoma and Aberdeen councils.

Labor leaders said the referendum vote if authorized would require from a week to 10 days.

Liquor Captured at Drain.

DRAIN, Or., Feb. 28.—(Special.)—Twenty-four quarts of liquor were captured here yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Ed Sterling. A man giving his name as "Green" from Scottsburg was arrested. Eleven quarts were found in his suitcase. He was fined $50 and costs. Later in the day 13 quarts were found concealed in the bushes just at the edge of town.

PICKERS' STRIKE IS BROKEN

Mexicans Return to Work in Inland Fruit Districts.

LOS ANGELES.—That the backbone of the attempted I. W. W.-bolshevik citrus pickers' "strike" is broken was the statement made by growers with the return to work of Mexican pickers in the Charter Oak, Covina, San Dimas and other San Gabriel valley districts. The presence of the deputy sheriffs has shown the Mexicans, it is pointed out, that they have nothing to fear from the Russian bolsheviki, who were deported, while a long-range intimidation from Los Angeles proved ineffective. There are still more than 100 Japanese pickers remaining away from work at Glendora, but it is believed that this trouble will be arranged and that the Japanese will return to work at their present pay of 30 cents an hour and 1 cent a box bonus.

The sheriff's office received a report yesterday that Russians from Los Angeles had attempted an agitation among lemon pickers at San Fernando, but with no success. The deputy sheriffs reported that there had been no disturbance and the agitators had returned to Los Angeles. All other points reported full picking crews yesterday, following the rainy days when there was no picking.

William Goldberg, the second of the seven Russian I. W. W. trouble-makers to be found guilty of trying to prevent Mexicans from work, will be sentenced this morning by Justice of the Peace Thomas B. Reed at Covina. It is understood that the sentence will be 30 days in jail, the same as given M. Sastre, the first one found guilty. Attorney J. H. Ryckman will appeal the case of Goldberg to the superior court, and the justice court hearings of the remaining five defendants will be halted pending the outcome of the appeals of Goldberg and Sastre.

"Lieutenant" Zennon Undrevitch Bem, who says he is a Russian, was taken into custody yesterday by Deputy United States Marshal O'Leary, on a complaint sworn to by Colonel Emil Kosteritzky, special agent of the department of justice, who charges that Bem has been illegally wearing the uniform of a friendly nation.

Bem, who attires himself in the uniform of a Russian officer, claims to have fought in Serbia with the Russian division sent into the country.

Colonel Kosteritzky says that Bem speaks Russian, not as a native, but as one who had learned the language from books and instructors. He is an expert in the Syrian language, however.

The suspicion that Bem was in the United States as an agent of bolshevism started the investigation that led to his arrest, it is said.

OBJECTORS ARE HARD HIT

EARLY RELEASE FROM CAMPS DECLARED DOUBTFUL.

Secretary of War Baker, in Outlining Policies, Places Men in Two Distinct Classes.

WASHINGTON.—In reply to the frequent charges that the war department is exercising undue lenity toward the conscientious objectors now confined in military prisons or disciplinary barracks, Secretary Baker outlined his policies toward these persons, indicating that certain of them need have no hope of early release.

The fact that large numbers were turned loose shortly after the signing of the armistice aroused rather widespread criticism, but Mr. Baker indicated that these did not fall within the description of the objectors who properly should be subject to further restraint.

There are two classes, the Secretary said, for whom a discharge at this time cannot be expected. They are:

1. Those men adjudged sincere in their conscientious objections to all warfare who, in recognition of such objections, have been offered service in the national interest under civilian direction, through farm or other furlough, but who have refused to accept such service and have, since such refusal, received a court-martial sentence based upon a refusal to comply with the regulations.

This class of man will not receive discharge from military obligations in advance of the return and discharge of the great body of citizens now in the military service in the United States and France.

2. Those men who, in the judgment of the board of inquiry, do not hold conscientious scruples against all warfare, but who are opposed to participation in this particular war. The war department finds no justification for the discharge of this class upon the basis of such opposition.

A survey of 3000 prisoners at the United States disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth was recently undertaken by the section of neurology and psychiatry of the surgeon-general's office.

The case of each prisoner was carefully examined in regard to physical and mental qualifications as well as in regard to the social factors and difficulties in and out of the army.

While the results of this survey for the most part are not yet available, the following tentative conclusions may be of interest. As a result of the examination, the prisoners seem to fall into three general groups of personality, those whose difficulties result:

1. From an excessively egocentric personality.

2. From an extreme emotional instability.

3. From inadequate intelligence of judgment.

"By egocentric personality," Mr. Baker explained, "is meant one which is individualistic, opinionated, self-willed or vain to an extreme degree."

More than two-thirds of the present population at the disciplinary barracks were found to belong to the first group. The intelligence distribution among the prisoners was about the same as in the general community.

It would appear from this that the problem of delinquency in the army is chiefly that of the individual who is by nature insubordinate, or at any rate unadaptable. That this is not due to the strict discipline of the army is attested by the finding that more than 40 per cent of all the prisoners had histories of delinquency previous to their admittance into the army.

WAR VETERAN IS AGED 13

Czecho-Slovak Youth Tells Story After He Is Arrested.

LOS ANGELES.—The devotion of a 13-year-old Czecho-Slovak boy to the nation now coming into being, was demonstrated when Ian Koutniff, an orphan, detained on suspicion that he was the innocent bearer of messages from bolsheviki in Russia to agents in this country, strenuously resisted when officers took the emblem of the newborn nation from the lapel of his coat.

The lad, unable to speak English, as he suffered the ignominy of being stripped of his prized emblem, broken down and wept as only a frightened child can.

But when a Russian interpreter was found the facts came out. Instead of being a bolshevist emissary, the boy developed into a staunch little patriot of the Czecho-Slovak cause, who had spent years fighting the Hun and the bolsheviki.

Four years ago the little chap entered the war as a mascot with his father. He bears on his face the scars of two bayonet wounds and on his leg a bullet wound inflicted by Germans.

Ian was sent to this country by a Y. M. C. A. secretary in Vladivostok. He arrived in San Francisco and was given a ticket to Chicago, where a fellow countryman had arranged to adopt him. In Los Angeles he was to meet a man named Janovich at the Rosslyn hotel.

Arriving at the Southern Pacific station, he was bewildered. Passengers on the train had taken a liking to him and secured the aid of Mrs. Josephine V. Shaver of the Travelers' Aid society of the Y. W. C. A. to assist him while here.

Whisky Is Colored Water.

ALBANY, Ga.—Three well-known Albany men "chipped in" and bought two cases of whisky recently from two well-dressed strangers, who stated they were "passing through" and were afraid to take the contraband any further. Therefore they were willing to sell the two cases for $144, which would have been cheap according to prevailing prices, except for the fact that the "whisky" proved to be H2O with caromel coloring to give it the liquor color. The strangers, who gave their names as Smith and Brown, were arrested, but as they had violated no federal law and the state could take no cognizance of a transaction in liquor unless it was liquor, they were released.

EYES OF SOLONS ON SEATS IN CONGRESS

Legislators Return to Portland Stirred by Ambition.

SOME PREFER OLD PLACES

Terms of Multnomah Senators, A. W. Orton, G. C. Moser, F. C. Howell, R. S. Farrell Expire.

Most of the members of the recent legislature were in Portland yesterday, and their unanimous verdict was that it was a very good legislature, and that they had made good with their constituents. This expression was loudly voiced by members serving their first term, whereas the older lawmakers advised them to wait until the journals are published and they look over the bills to see how they voted.

In the enthusiasm of the moment a number of retiring legislators declared that they intend to "come back." As a rule, house members are eyeing positions in the senate. W. G. Hare thinks that the senate looks pretty good—Dr. Wood's term as senator from Washington county expiring with this session—but P. J. Gallagher says the house is the best place to work in.

Contrary to an earlier impression, K. K. Kubli announces that he will run again, and D. C. Lewis is a standing candidate from St. Johns.

Labor Delegates Satisfied.

Mayor Hurd, of Seaside, says that once is enough, but he has started a boom for Joe Roman of Astoria for two years hence. E. I. Ballagh hasn't decided whether he cares to return to Salem for 40 days two years hence. Both Oscar Horne and E. E. Smith of Portland, the labor representatives, are particularly well satisfied over the session, inasmuch as labor received more this session than ever before. Among legislators there is gossip that E. E. Smith will run for city commissioner or perhaps congress. Dr. C. C. Moore and Dr. E. C. McFarland enjoyed their experience so well that Dr. Moore says he may try it again, despite whatever opposition other "paths" may put up, but Dr. McFarland says for what it costs a member to live in Salem it would be cheaper to take a post graduate course in some special dentistry subject in New York.

Many Are Ambitious.

All sorts of candidates are in prospect for other jobs. Three members of the senate are discussed as aspirants for congress in the first district These are Louis Lachmund of Salem, C. M. Thomas of Medford and A. W. Norblad of Astoria. There is also said to be a similar ambition stirring in Ben Sheldon, lately of the house, and W. G. Hare is said to have no hateful thoughts on the same topic. Julian Hurley, whose term now expires, has canvassed for support for president of the senate in 1921, and Roy W. Ritner is considered as aiming at that mark, and likewise A. W. Norblad. It is also considered possible that W. W. Banks may go after it. Mr. Banks developed into one of the aggressive leaders in the senate, albeit not in sympathy with the senate organization which started to run over him at first.

Farm Calls Mr. Pierce.

Two of the three democratic senators have ended their terms, these being Walter M. Pierce and G. T. Baldwin. Mr. Pierce will return to his white-faced calves, of which he so feelingly spoke in most of his speeches, and intimated publicly that there didn't appear to be any place in public life for men of his ideas. As for W. T. Vinton, president of the senate, he may or may not be appointed lieutenant-governor, if such an office is created by the people. An effort was made to write his name into the bill, but met with so much opposition that the plan was abandoned.

Multnomah senators whose terms have expired are S. B. Huston, A. W. Orton, G. C. Moser, F. C. Howell and R. S. Farrell, so there will be five senators to elect next time from this county. Nominations are now in order. Captain O. W. Hosford decided after leaving Salem that it isn't such a bad game to play, and he will try it again. John B. Coffey said he was tired of it all, but—.

And so it goes.

POLICE FLYERS SECURED

NOTED AVIATORS TO BE IN NEW YORK'S RESERVES.

Other Cities of Country Expected to Adopt Plan Similar to That to Be Used in Metropolis.

NEW YORK.—Plans for the organization of an aero squadron for the New York police department as a unit of the police reserve were announced yesterday, following a conference between Colonel Jefferson De Mont Thomson, chief of the aviation section of the police reserve, Special Deputy Police Commissioner Rodman Wanamaker, and officials of the Aero Club of America.

It was decided to make the aero section of the police force a volunteer organization, and to form it as a separate unit of police reserves. It will be based as far as possible upon the system used by the United States army.

The formation will be the aero squadron as followed out by the government. This provides for 20 officers, including the executive, technical and medical officers and 12 pilots. Usually 154 non-commissioned officers and enlisted men make up an aero squadron, but the war department has changed the strength from time to time. Colonel Thomson declared that the police squadron will always comply with the latest army regulations.

The New York police aero squadron will be of military value, therefore, and it is the belief of officials of the Aero club that other cities will form similar aerial bands, accepting the New York plan as a model. A squadron is composed of three companies. It is thought that other cities can begin by forming a company, which is the smallest practical unit in aviation. Efforts will be made by Aero club officials to induce Chicago, Philadelphia and other large cities to organize aerial police patrol.

A feature of the contemplated New York aero squadron will be its distinguished personnel. Colonel Thomson declared that he will invite numerous American aces who live in New York to join. Among the men mentioned by Colonel Thomson are:

Captain Edward V. Rickenbacher, former automobile speed king and now America's leading ace. He has felled 26 hostile planes.

Lieutenant-Colonel William Thaw, dean of American air fighters, who has five German machines to his credit! Major James A. Meissner, who brought down eight enemy planes; Major Cushman A. Rich, who was in command of four American aero squadrons which acted in co-operation with the British air forces. He was wounded and gassed during the second battle of the Somme.

Lieutenant Lansing G. Holden, who is officially credited with seven German planes, and Second Lieutenant Howard Brodick of Brooklyn, who lowered six Hun machines. Lieutenant F. M. Symonds, with five German planes credited to him.

Three aces from New York state will be asked to join also, if their respective cities do not form aero units. They are Lieutenant E. P. Curtis of Rochester; Lieutenant E. M. Haight of Astoria, and Lieutenant H. H. George of Niagara Falls.

Colonel William A. Bishop, the Canadian ace who has brought down 72 planes, discussed the plan with Colonel Thomson and expressed hearty approval. He declared it could be made a great success, and said other cities would surely adopt it.

EARNINGS CONTRACT ASKED

CHARLES M. LEVY OF WESTERN PACIFIC SHOWS NEED.

Fair Income in Annual Earnings Requested of United States Railroad Administration.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Charles M. Levey, president of the Western Pacific Railroad company, who has returned from Washington, D. C., stated that he hoped the company would be able to sign the contract with the United States Railroad Administration within the next 30 days by which it would obtain a fair income in the way of annual earnings. President Levey's statement follows:

"On January 8 last the Western Pacific Railroad company was given a formal hearing before what is known as the compensation committee of the United States Railroad Administration. Since then there has been a number of informal conferences relative to the matter of compensation to be allowed by the government as rental to be paid the Western Pacific company for the use of its railroad. Up to this time no decision has been reached, but hope we shall be able to come to some agreement within the next 30 days.

"The United States Railroad Administration officials who handled these questions are very much congested with work and the process of reaching a settlement is a slow one, as there are many things to be considered and necessarily there must be careful analysis made of the different items set out in our claim.

"Our company is asking for a special contract as provided for by the six paragraphs of section 1 of the federal control act.

"The so-called three-year test period, ending with June 30, 1917, would be inequitable as a fair measure of our company's just compensation, because during all of the test period our system was in an undeveloped condition by reason of its recent construction, and for more than one-half of the test period was in receivership and in process of reorganization.

"The new company was organized and took over the property from the receivers July 15, 1916, with ample capital for the purpose of developing its property. In a broader sense of the term it was proceeding with its execution of the time the road was taken under federal control, since July, 1916. The new company has made large expenditures for additions and betterments, for branch lines and for equipment which were not reflected in a net railway operating income for any part of the test period.

"We anticipate our agreement with the government will be concluded soon."

Congressman Moore, of Pennsylvania, has a pet tree at his country home at Island Heights, an oak which grew up alongside of a rail fence and gradually absorbed the rails within its trunk. He sawed off the rails and keeps the projecting ends painted. The tree is an object of interest to all visitors.
