

RT. REV. MR. McGRATH
CONSECRATED BISHOP

St. James Cathedral Scene of Solemn Ceremony.

ALL WEST IS REPRESENTED

Bishop Is Presented With $2000 in Cash and Gold Crossier
Valued at $600.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 25.—(Special)—Imposing and solemn ceremony in the beautiful St. James cathedral this morning the Right Rev. Joseph M. McGrath was consecrated bishop of Baker. Many visiting prelates of the northwest were in attendance as well as the clergy of Seattle, Tacoma, Spokane, Portland and Baker City.

The Rt. Rev. E. J. O'Dea, bishop of Seattle, officiated as consecrator and he was assisted by the Rt. Rev. Matthias C. Lenihan, bishop of Great Falls, and the Rt. Rev. John P. Carroll, bishop of Helena, who came from Montana to participate in the service.

At 9 o'clock the large procession of priests, attendants and visiting prelates marched from the house of the bishop to the cathedral preceded by 50 altar boys garbed in white.

Church Dignitaries Present.
The papal announcement of the elevation of Father McGrath to the dignity of the Episcopacy was read by the Very Rev. D. A. Hanley, vicar-general of the diocese of Seattle, while before the altar, beautiful in its candles and Easter lilies, were grouped the bishop-elect and those participating in the service.

Right Rev. Bishop O'Dea sang the solemn pontifical high mass, at different stages of which the consecrating ceremonies were performed. Bishop O'Dea, Bishop-elect McGrath and Archbishop Christie sat on the thrones in the sanctuary. Among those in the sanctuary were Right Rev. Bishop O'Dea, Right Rev. J. Crimont, bishop of Alaska; Right Rev. Alexander Christie, archbishop of Portland; Bishop John P. Carroll of Portland; Bishop Lenihan of Great Falls; Bishop Schinner of Spokane and Right Rev. Abbot Baran, head of the Benedictine Order of the northwest, and about 100 priests.

Ceremony Is Impressive.
After receiving the profession of faith and solemn obligations, Bishop O'Dea, the consecrating prelate, following many preliminary and attendant prayers and ritual rites, anointed the forehead of the bishop-elect with holy oils and laid his hands on his head that he might receive the holy ghost, thereupon consecrating and making him bishop. Then the consecrating prelate, acting for the pope, clothed the bishop with the various rights of jurisdiction, power and prerogatives.

At the conclusion of the solemn pontifical high mass, the Right Rev. Archbishop Christie delivered a short sermon in which he explained the purpose and meaning of the ceremonies witnessed. The imposing ceremonial, he said, was preserved in appreciation of the influence of externals in imparting the real import of the service by the apparent.

Archbishop Christie Explains.
Ceremonies, he said, are necessary under present conditions and a great act requires a great setting. Its note of antiquity, he pointed out, denoted its origin far in the past. For its meaning, Archbishop Christie went back to its inception—to the beginning, when Christ vested his apostles with the authority to carry on his work, "as the father sent me, so I send you."

This, he explained, was the meaning of the ceremony in which Bishop O'Dea, by the divine right vested in him, was passing on to Bishop-elect McGrath. Archbishop Christie closed his sermon with a simple, impressive charge to the bishop-elect.

Use Beautiful Feature.
Bishop McGrath was for 12 years pastor of St. Patrick's parish in Tacoma and a large delegation of his parishioners and members of the Knights of Columbus from that city attended the service this morning. Tonight Bishop McGrath will be the guest of honor at a banquet to be held in Cathedral hall. His installation as bishop of Baker City will take place a week from today.

A beautiful feature of the service this morning was the music, under the direction of Dr. F. S. Palmer and sung by the cathedral choir.

At a banquet held following a reception Bishop McGrath was presented with $2000 cash and a solid gold crossier, valued at $600, by the priests of the Seattle diocese.

Official Casualty Report.
WASHINGTON, March 25.—Casualty lists today, in addition to corrections, contain 118 names, 4 killed, 7 died of wounds, 25 of disease, 5 of accident, 2 wounded severely, 23 deaths undetermined, 23 slightly and 1 missing. Following is the summary of all casualties reported to date:

DEATHS.—Reported Today: Total. Killed in action, 31,567 4 31,571. Lost at sea, 281 7 288. Died of wounds, 13,256 7 13,263. Died of disease, 21,871 28 21,899. Died of accident, 3,674 5 3,679.

Wounded slightly.—Deland, Joseph H., Gervais, Or. Wounded, degree undetermined.—Van George R., 100 North Eighteenth street, Portland, Or. Killed in action (previously reported missing).—Hutch, Paul C., Klamath Falls, Or. Wounded slightly (previously reported missing).—Hanson, Henry, Seattle, Wash. IDAHO.—Wounded slightly.—McBride, Melvin, Spalding, Idaho. ALABAMA.—Died of wounds.—McCullum, Leonard P., Portersville, Ala. ARKANSAS.—Died of disease.—Zachary, Booker, Elm Lomond, Ark. Died of accident.—Wilson, Joe, Ark. CALIFORNIA.—Died of disease.—Green, Richard, Anaheim, Cal. COLORADO.—Died of disease.—Fenden, Ivan H., Boulder, Colo. ILLINOIS.—Killed in action.—Wells, Walter J., Chicago, Ill. Died of wounds.—Martin, Robert, McHenry, Ill. Died of disease.—McFadden, Frank (Wag.), Chicago, Ill. Soper, Edward, Chicago. INDIANA.—Died of disease.—Hardy, Roy, Terre Haute, Ind. Killed.—Raymond E. Anora, Ind. Swanson, Walter R., Ellettsville, Ind. Smith, Jesse, Rolling Prairie, Ind. Missing (letter received November 15, 1918, en route to Marquette, France, and has not been heard from since).—Eisenbarth, Robert J. (Lt.), Indianapolis.

IOWA.
Died of disease.—Morris, James E. (Capt.), Forrest City, Ia. Erickson, Andrew E., Stratford, Ia. Larson, Axel Herman, Red Oak, Ia. KENTUCKY.
Died of disease.—Egan, Henry J. (Cook), Rush, Ky. Died of accident.—Mann, William, Sandy Hook, Ky. King, James P., Bond, Ky. LOUISIANA.
Died of disease.—Lise, Julia (Nurse), Shreveport, La. Williams, Empress, New Orleans, La. MARYLAND.
Died of disease.—Saffield, Edward H., Baltimore, Md. MASSACHUSETTS.
Died of disease.—Adams, D. F. (Sgt.), North Bedford, Mass. MICHIGAN.
Died of disease.—Hagendon, Jay G., Harbor Beach, Mich. MINNESOTA.
Died of wounds.—Haber, Hennes, Barnesville, Minn. MISSISSIPPI.
Died of disease.—Harris, Percy, Shell Mound, Miss. MISSOURI.
Died of disease.—Hornet, Howard J., Jefferson City, Mo. MONTANA.
Died from wounds.—Martin, Jesse (Capt.), Billings, Mont. NEW YORK.
Died of disease.—McKinlay, Arthur W. (Capt.), Niagara Falls, N. Y. Vrooman, Marjorie (Y. M. C. A. Sec.), New York. Hastings, Lemuel D., Canasta, N. Y. Lane, Alfred W., Rhinebeck, N. Y. Williams, Francis A., New Berlin, N. Y. Died of accident.—Roelands, Charles, New York. NEW JERSEY.
Died of disease.—Cahill, William Aloysius, Trenton, N. J. OHIO.
Killed in action.—Hasselbaker, Elmer L., Olway, Ohio. Died of disease.—Henna, William, Cleveland, O. Died of disease.—Luna, Earl (Mech.), Ashland, O. Mortimer, Thomas (Mech.), Columbus, O. OKLAHOMA.
Died of disease.—Egan, Herbert A. (Wag.), Duncan, Okla. PENNSYLVANIA.
Killed in action.—Mason, Angelo (Capt.), Philadelphia, Pa. Died of disease.—Hosley, John, Coatsville, Pa. Hertz, Harry, Philadelphia, Pa. Died of disease.—Brown, Irvin H. (Mech.), Lewisburg, Pa. Feltner, William, Elm M., Roxboro, Pa. Schwicker, William H., Philadelphia. SOUTH CAROLINA.
Died of disease.—Settle, Paul E., Jaman, S. C. Died of accident and other causes.—Smith, John (Capt.), New Brooklyn, S. C. TENNESSEE.
Died of disease.—Hill, Horace J., Lost Creek, Tenn. TEXAS.
Died of disease.—Davis, Fatty, Cotterville, Tex. Hanks, Max F., Beaumont, Tex. VIRGINIA.
Died of disease.—Hinga, Howard W., Melba, Va. WEST VIRGINIA.
Died of disease.—Stone, Charles W., Corcoran, W. Va. CORRECTIONS.
Killed in action (previously reported missing).—Price, Wilson C. (Sgt.), Lawrence, Kan. Stanley, Elmer (Sgt.), Holton, Kan. Rouse, Edwin (Sgt.), Caldwell, Kan. McGuire, Daniel, Mason City, Pa. Messer, John W., Atkins, Va. Feltner, William, Elm M., Roxboro, Pa. Richardson, David A., Desoto, Mo. Svec, James, Millington, Neb. Walters, Charles J., Greeley, Ia. Zieg, William A., Regent, N. D. Died (previously reported missing).—DeWitt, David, Brookings, S. D. Eronomously reported died from wounds.—Antonello, Frank, Brookings, S. D. Eronomously reported died of disease.—Williams, John, Gunterville, Ala. Died of disease.—Hanna, John (previously reported killed in action).—Reville, Felix, Peever, S. D. Wounded, undetermined (previously reported died from wounds).—Donnanville, Henry J., Pasadena, Cal. Killed in action (previously reported wounded severely).—Steinbauer, William T., Brooklyn, N. Y. Killed in action (previously reported wounded, undetermined).—Reitz, John, Philadelphia, Pa. Died (previously reported wounded, undetermined).—Walker, Harry (Capt.), Philadelphia, Pa.

STATE GAME WARDEN
TO ANSWER CRITICS

Lively Session of Sportsmen's
League Is Expected.

POLITICAL CHARGE IS MADE

President of Multnomah Anglers'
Club Issues Circular Advocating
Resolution Passage.

When the resolution making allegations against the State Fish and Game commission and presented by the Oregon Sportsmen's league to the Multnomah Anglers' club comes up for adoption at the meeting of the latter organization in the green room of the Portland Chamber of Commerce Friday night, a lively fight likely will ensue.

Stripped of all other considerations, the resolution deals with the main subject expressed in the concluding sentence: "We urge that you (the governor) investigate the matter fully and that you determine upon a policy that definitely eliminates the commission from its domination by political and commercial interests."

Carl D. Shoemaker, state fish and game warden, deluged by the commission to present its answer to the resolution, will do so Friday night. He declares that he will make the position which has been taken by the leading lights back of the resolution appear to be absurd.

At the special meeting of the Multnomah Anglers' club held March 14, there was presented a resolution purporting to come from the Oregon Sportsmen's league. It was planned to have this adopted by anglers' clubs and game protective organizations throughout the state. This was withdrawn and an amended resolution was forwarded to the committee of the Oregon Sportsmen's league.

Committee Is Appointed.
In order that members of the Multnomah Anglers' club might fully understand the situation, a committee was appointed at the meeting of March 14 consisting of Dr. Earl C. McFarland, John Gill and Chester Moore, who were to advance arguments against the resolution and a like number of sportsmen were named as a committee to advance arguments for the adoption of the resolution.

There are five general allegations as follows: (1) that for the last four years the dominating influence has been that of commercial interests; (2) that police have been the main work of the state game warden; "No servant is higher than his master," and, therefore, the political efforts of the employes are justly charged to the commission; (3) that it is unknown to us what portion of the general office expense is charged to the cost of commercial and game fish; and (4) that the propagation of game fish, especially with the elimination of commercial steelheads, is and has been at a standstill, if not actually less than four years ago; (5) that the general public has never been advised as to the cost of trout propagation nor as to the segregation at the Bonneville hatchery of the cost of commercial and game fish.

The report of the committee against the adoption of the resolution touches on all five allegations. In part it reads that it must be understood that the fish and game commission's work consists in handling both the commercial fishing laws and the game laws of the state. The report says that Mr. Shoemaker has been requested to be present at the coming meeting when all data appertaining to the charge of his playing politics and other charges will be answered in detail, and adds that Mr. Shoemaker has never lost sight of the idea that the state was building up a strong sentiment for game conservation.

Salmon Pays Salary.
Office overhead expense is divided as nearly as possible on the basis of the work done, it is explained, and it must be considered in any discussion regarding the cost of commercial and game fish, as a game fish by most sportsmen. It says that in reference to the Bonneville hatchery, the salary of superintendent of hatcheries, Clinton, is paid entirely from the salmon fund and no part of it comes from the game protective fund.

In a circular mailed to members of the Multnomah Anglers' club by R. W. Price, its president, he gives reasons why the resolution should pass. Excerpts from his circular read: "The resolution has two main issues. The first is that commercialism has become too dominant a factor in the fish and game commission, and the second is that there has been too much politics mixed with the work of game protection and propaganda. I take it that there can be no logical objection

STATE GAME WARDEN
TO ANSWER CRITICS

Lively Session of Sportsmen's
League Is Expected.

POLITICAL CHARGE IS MADE

President of Multnomah Anglers'
Club Issues Circular Advocating
Resolution Passage.

When the resolution making allegations against the State Fish and Game commission and presented by the Oregon Sportsmen's league to the Multnomah Anglers' club comes up for adoption at the meeting of the latter organization in the green room of the Portland Chamber of Commerce Friday night, a lively fight likely will ensue.

Stripped of all other considerations, the resolution deals with the main subject expressed in the concluding sentence: "We urge that you (the governor) investigate the matter fully and that you determine upon a policy that definitely eliminates the commission from its domination by political and commercial interests."

Carl D. Shoemaker, state fish and game warden, deluged by the commission to present its answer to the resolution, will do so Friday night. He declares that he will make the position which has been taken by the leading lights back of the resolution appear to be absurd.

At the special meeting of the Multnomah Anglers' club held March 14, there was presented a resolution purporting to come from the Oregon Sportsmen's league. It was planned to have this adopted by anglers' clubs and game protective organizations throughout the state. This was withdrawn and an amended resolution was forwarded to the committee of the Oregon Sportsmen's league.

Committee Is Appointed.
In order that members of the Multnomah Anglers' club might fully understand the situation, a committee was appointed at the meeting of March 14 consisting of Dr. Earl C. McFarland, John Gill and Chester Moore, who were to advance arguments against the resolution and a like number of sportsmen were named as a committee to advance arguments for the adoption of the resolution.

There are five general allegations as follows: (1) that for the last four years the dominating influence has been that of commercial interests; (2) that police have been the main work of the state game warden; "No servant is higher than his master," and, therefore, the political efforts of the employes are justly charged to the commission; (3) that it is unknown to us what portion of the general office expense is charged to the cost of commercial and game fish; and (4) that the propagation of game fish, especially with the elimination of commercial steelheads, is and has been at a standstill, if not actually less than four years ago; (5) that the general public has never been advised as to the cost of trout propagation nor as to the segregation at the Bonneville hatchery of the cost of commercial and game fish.

The report of the committee against the adoption of the resolution touches on all five allegations. In part it reads that it must be understood that the fish and game commission's work consists in handling both the commercial fishing laws and the game laws of the state. The report says that Mr. Shoemaker has been requested to be present at the coming meeting when all data appertaining to the charge of his playing politics and other charges will be answered in detail, and adds that Mr. Shoemaker has never lost sight of the idea that the state was building up a strong sentiment for game conservation.

Salmon Pays Salary.
Office overhead expense is divided as nearly as possible on the basis of the work done, it is explained, and it must be considered in any discussion regarding the cost of commercial and game fish, as a game fish by most sportsmen. It says that in reference to the Bonneville hatchery, the salary of superintendent of hatcheries, Clinton, is paid entirely from the salmon fund and no part of it comes from the game protective fund.

In a circular mailed to members of the Multnomah Anglers' club by R. W. Price, its president, he gives reasons why the resolution should pass. Excerpts from his circular read: "The resolution has two main issues. The first is that commercialism has become too dominant a factor in the fish and game commission, and the second is that there has been too much politics mixed with the work of game protection and propaganda. I take it that there can be no logical objection

Portland Y.M.C.A.
Man Overseas

BY W. A. BLOTT.
CHATELAIN, SEINE-ET-MARNE, France—

This is a large military center. About four divisions are scattered around in the numerous little towns in a circle of about 25 miles. The "Y" is very active, having a large force of men in this district. The regional director of education is a very able man, and he is doing a wonderful work among the boys.

Our agricultural team is being taken from town to town by auto and we are speaking three times a day at 10 A. M., 3 P. M. and 7 P. M. My talks are varied according to circumstances. Generally I speak on the economic value of birds, but if one of the team fails to show up I fill the vacancy by leading the discussion on whatever phase of farm life that particular group wants to discuss.

When we have a movie machine I give one or two evenings of Oregon films as well as the lectures with the birds. When I show the film of the eagles' nest and others, I tell of the wonderful work in bird photography that has been accomplished by Herman T. Bohlman, who is the treasurer of the Oregon Audubon society. While with the slides I generally speak of America's former general artist, now living in Portland, R. Bruce Horsfall, who painted the originals of most of these slides. And with both slides and films I tell of Portland's Rose city, and Oregon, the land of opportunity.

We are billeted in comfortable quarters, sleeping in the main "Y" but in Chatillon. The secretary is Irwin R. Nye, a cousin of "Bill" Nye, the famous humorist. Mr. Nye has been in charge of nine months and is "dad" to all the boys. He is an old newspaper man from Wisconsin and is a great character, a typical old school westerner.

I find the soldiers very appreciative of all that is being done for them. They are a splendid lot of fellows, just big-hearted boys, and the officers are fine men that it is a pleasure to meet. This particular division is made up mostly from the southern states, but scattered through the ranks are men from all parts of the Union.

The whole country in this region is rolling hills covered with fine-looking fawns and small stone villages, nestling at the base of the hills in all directions. Just now everything looks like an old-fashioned Christmas card. As I write great trains of motor trucks are filing by the "Y," also immense loads of baled hay, drawn by four-mule teams, and great truck loads of men are moving, ever moving onward.

I have been in this district for four days and between motor trips and lectures I have had several short walks of interest. On the hill back of the town still stands the little chapel of St. Vorie, which was built in the third century and belonged to the chateau from which Chatillon received its name. A part of the surrounding wall is all that remains of this old castle and the space within this wall is now a cemetery. It was in Chatillon that the congress was held in 1814 that pronounced the deposition of Napoleon I.

$6,000,000 Left to Cousins.
CHICAGO.—The will of William Scott Keith, Waukegan, lumberman and philanthropist, containing bequests totaling $146,000, has been filed for probate. The bulk of the estate, except for charitable bequests, is left in trust for ten years for the children of a cousin, William Scott Keith, II, and Marion Allen Keith, who are to divide the residuary estate at the end of that period. The estate has been estimated

Hart Schaffner & Marx
The New Styles in Spring Clothes
are here. Our assortment of patterns is as great as pre-war times—all wool, wear better and last longer; they're tailored to retain their shape. The styles are different, more exclusive. You'll find them here to fit you regardless of your build. Suits for men and young men.
Hats
The new shapes and colors
$3 to $10
$35, $40, $45 and Up
Sam'l Rosenblatt & Co.
The Men's Store for Quality and Service
Gasco Bldg.
Fifth and Alder
Copyright 1919 Hart Schaffner & Marx

Workers of the World and any other agitators who attempt any seditious activities.
War workers in American shipyards received as high as $15 a day, while war wages of the best workers in the Belfast, Ireland, shipyards were about $17 a week.
at as much as $6,000,000. Mr. Keith died February 14 in the home of Fred W. Buck after heading a delegation to persuade Mr. Buck to run for Mayor as the reform candidate.
Refinery Workers Organize.
CASPER, Wyo.—Refinery workers of the Midwest here, with the encouragement of their employers, have organized a local union of the International Association of Oil Field, Gas Field and Refinery Workers, the first union organization in the oil fields. One object of the organization is to weed out and banish from the district industrial

A Dash - of Chocolate
"Your Nose
Knows"
All foods are flavored to make them palatable. All smoking tobaccos are treated with some flavoring for the same reason. But there is a big difference in the Quality and kind of tobacco flavorings. Tuxedo, the finest of properly aged burley tobacco, uses the purest, most wholesome and delicious of all flavorings—chocolate! That is why "Your Nose Knows" Tuxedo from all other tobaccos—by its delicious pure fragrance.

Try This Test: Rub a little Tuxedo briskly in the palm of your hand to bring out its full aroma. Then smell it deep—its delicious, pure fragrance will convince you. Try this test with any other tobacco and we will let Tuxedo stand or fall on your judgment.
"Your Nose Knows"
Have you tried Tuxedo in the New Tea Foil Package? It has many advantages—Handier—fits the pocket. No digging the tobacco out with the fingers. Keeps the pure fragrance of Tuxedo to the last pipeful. Not quite as much tobacco as in the tin, but—10c.
Tuxedo
The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette
Guaranteed by
The American Tobacco Co.
GUARANTEED TO SATISFY
OR YOUR MONEY BACK
PATTERSON'S
Tuxedo
TOBACCO
SPECIALLY PREPARED FOR PIPE & CIGARETTE

Grape-Nuts
contains the mineral elements of the grain so necessary for well balanced bodies, brains & nerves.