

VETERANS OF FLYING SERVICE WELCOMED

Aerial Detachments Arrive on Way Back to Camp Lewis.

BOYS GLAD TO BE BACK

Members of 27th Squadron Return With Record of Having Brought Down 55 Boche Planes.

Ninety-seven soldiers, all of them with more than a year's service in France and several with three gold chevrons on the left sleeve, passed through Portland yesterday on their way to Camp Lewis, Wash., where they will receive their honorable discharges.

It was an aerial detachment listed as the casual company of Garden City, N. Y., and all the boys with a few exceptions came from Oregon. Washington and Idaho had representatives aboard, but Oregon predominated.

First Lieutenant T. J. Taylor of Kentucky was in charge of the detachment and was assisted by Lieutenant R. E. Ballinger of South Carolina. Both were fliers and Ballinger was overseas for more than 18 months.

Quite a number of squadrons had men in the casual company and chief among them were boys from the 27th aero squadron. A total of 55 Boche planes had been destroyed by members of the 27th, and while not the record for the United States forces, still it is one that many other squadrons would like to have.

Short Stop Is Made. Squadron 13 had its quota of men arriving yesterday, but they didn't have much chance to tell of their experiences. The train pulled in from the east at 3:30 o'clock P. M. and half an hour later the boys were bundled onto a train headed toward Camp Lewis.

One of the returned heroes was an excited meeting his parents and family that he paid no attention to time and when he "came to" the train had pulled out and he was last seeing his automobile to Vancouver, Wash. to try to head off his comrades.

Meeting the train at the Union station were Acting Adjutant General Frank H. Hilton, acting secretary general reception committee; George Arthur Brown and Colonel L. P. Campbell, who assisted the Salvation army in disposing of cream puffs, doughnuts and coffee.

"We were with western men all the time we were in France," said Lieutenant Ballinger, "and we found them to be a great bunch. There is only one difficulty with those from the states other than California. You don't have to ask a Californian where he's from, for he volunteers the information the first time you meet him. You have to inquire about the homes of the others. It's a good thing for the state to have it so well advertised, but too much is a plenty."

Cardinal Reception Pleases. When Lieutenant Ballinger wasn't talking, Lieutenant Taylor was praising the treatment received by his boys after they had struck the Oregon line. "If you give us such a fine reception in 30 minutes I'm afraid we wouldn't be able to stand several hours' stay in Portland, but I can't say just as soon as we get straightened out at Camp Lewis I'm coming back to Portland before going east," said Lieutenant Taylor.

Among the Portland boys of the 27th squadron who were here for the short stay yesterday were G. C. Moir, Allen Porter, Ray Walker, Charles I. Hebband, Harry A. Wert, Stuart McKie, Bob Harrison, while Archie Abdill of Dayton, Or., and Ray Sanford of Portland were members of the 155th aero squadron.

Members of the 27th squadron pulled out of the Union station on May 13, 1917, for the war zone, and they went to San Antonio, Tex., for their early training. Finally they went to Canada and worked under Canadian royal fliers, after which they departed for France, remaining there 18 months and three days. They have the time of their stay in Europe down to the minute. They came back to the United States on board the America and landed March 12.

Majestic.
"HER GREAT CHANCE," a picture-ization of Fannie Hurst's novel, "Golden Fleece," with Alice Brady in the stellar role, comes to the Majestic theater today for a three-day engagement. Pathe Weekly and comedy also will be screened today.

David Powell, Orni Hawley and Jefferson de Angelis are among the players in support of Miss Brady in this picture, which vividly portrays the role a fortune plays in the lives of a young couple. The girl is poor and the man rich, and she, thinking of his fortune, refuses him. A series of unusual and notoriety-earning incidents cause the girl to change her mind.

Sunset.
"Kiss or Kill," a spectacular melodrama of many laughable moments with a cast headed by Herbert Rawlinson and beautiful and sparkling Priscilla Dean, opens at the Sunset today. Charlie Chaplin is another headliner on the new three-day bill, appearing in that very funny comedy-hit, "Easy Street," while Tom Mix will appear in the two-reeler, "A Soft Tenderfoot."

"Kiss or Kill" is said to have the speed and action of a serial, the kind of picture that holds the interest unflagging from first to last reel. Rawlinson has been starred in some successful pictures, while Miss Dean's latest hit was "The Wildcat of Paris."

Screen Gospel.
Here's a new kind of villain. He's Lamar Johnstone. Lamar wrecks the happiness of the girl and her friends, etc., in "A Man in the Open," but doesn't produce a cigarette case once. Neither does he flick the dust

MME. ALDA HERE TONIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO PROGRAMME TO BE REPEATED.

Musical Event to Be Given at Hellig Includes Variety of Well-Known Selections.

Mme. Alda, star of the Metropolitan Opera, who sings at the Hellig tonight, directed Sistrup, Conman, will give the same programme she gave in San Francisco on Sunday, March 24, of which Walter Anthony in the San Francisco Chronicle says:

"Since we have no other place large enough to be adequate to the numbers her audiences should tally, why not put Mme. Alda in the civic auditorium? Here is a singer who ought to be heard by the city en masse.

"Of course there were a great many of us whose souls need the refreshment of such art as Alda yields. Perhaps it is the fault of eastern managers—I like to blame things on them, they are so comfortably distant—for not giving us this art often.

"It was five years ago that this star sang for us. We need her once a year, and the Metropolitan opera house from whence she comes would do its western reputation good to send her annually. "The audience at the Columbia yesterday kept her at encores long after the programme proper was supposed to be over, and I am grateful in particular for one. It was "The Years at the Springs," the upswing splendor of that voice, firm, free, vibrant, winged and pure was spring in its impid essence.

Following is the programme for tonight: "Polonaise" (MacDowell), Miss Ballard, "Amarilli" (Caccini), Je ne suis qu'un Berger" (Fildor), "My Lovely Cells" (Cunro), "The Lass With the Delicate Air" (Dr. Arne), "Jag lever," Swedish, (Merikanto); "Kobolaud," Finnish, (Jarnoveldt); "Somewhere in France," written and dedicated to Mme. Alda, (Hartman); "Chans on Norwegian" (Fouadain); "Gavotte from Mignon" (Massenet), Mme. Alda; "Craqueviene Fantastique" (Paderewski), Miss Ballard; aria, "Unbel di" from "Madame Butterfly" (Puccini); group of popular songs: "The Birth of Morn" (Leoni), "The Star" (Rogers); "The Singer," written for and dedicated to Mme. Alda, (Ella Maxwell); "A Khaki Lad" (Asyward), "An Open Secret" (Woodman), Mme. Alda.

"DANDERINE" FOR FALLING HAIR

Try it! For a few cents you can dry clean everything.

Save five to ten dollars quickly by dry cleaning everything in the home with gasoline that would be ruined by soap and water—suits, coats, waists, silks, laces, gloves, shoes, fur, draperies, rugs—everything!

Place a gallon or more of gasoline in a dishpan or washbowl, then put in the things to be dry cleaned, then wash them with Solvite soap. Shortly everything comes out looking like new. Nothing fades, shrinks or wrinkles. Do not attempt to dry clean without Solvite soap. This gasoline soap is the secret of all dry cleaning.

A package of Solvite soap containing directions for home dry cleaning, costs little at any drug store. Dry clean outdoors or away from flame.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.—Adv.
