WARSHIPS BRING 2000 MEN

Virginia and Rhode Island Reach Newport News—Agamemnon Comes With 5824 Men.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Uniforms of 50 different British regiments were worn by 2700 Americans from 32 states, who returned today on the steamship Mauretania. The men had enlisted in the British service early in the war. There also were a number of negroes from the British West Indies. Included in the contingent were some former Arizona cowpunchers, attired in kilts and tam-o'-shanters. They were welcomed at the pier by a band of Scott's pipers. Major H. H. Burne of Sydney, N. E. W., who commanded the men, went from New York to England to enlist at the outbreak of the war. He was wounded in 1917 and earned the military cross. Lieutenant A. E. McKenzie of Portland, Or., spent more than a year in a German prison camp. He was captured when wounded at Passchendaele in August, 1917, and sent to Villingen. There he met Lieutenant Edouard V. Isaacs of the steamship President Lincoln, for that vessel was torpedoed, and another American, Corporal Harold Willis of Boston. Lieutenant McKenzie said he aided the two men to escape by short-circuiting the electric current light supply at the camp, darkening the entire place. Lieutenant Alex Gordon of Portland, Or., wore the uniform of the Scotch guards, which he joined at Halifax in 1917.

CHINESE IS BOOTLEGGER

Laundry Bundle Found to Contain Dozen Quarts of Whisky.

MEDFORD, Or., April 7.—(Special)—Lou Jew, a local Chinese laundryman, was fined $500 and given a 20-day jail sentence today by Justice Taylor for having enough liquor in his laundry bundle to stock a California roadhouse. For several weeks Lou had been observed making regular weekly visits to Ashland by the local police and at ways carrying a large laundry bundle. Charles Adams, night policeman, decided to investigate Saturday night, and when Lou boarded an Ashland jitney ordered a deputy to follow him. In Ashland the old Chinaman with many protests was forced to open his bundle and reveal a dozen quarts of whisky, which he said was being taken to a fellow oriental in the Granite City for "washes." The court decided Lou was not ignorant of the contents of the package or the kind of "washes" intended, so his conviction was speedily brought about.

FOCH PLANS FOR CRUSHING OF BOLSHEVIKI REJECTED.

Proposal That Bids Fair to Be Adopted Provides for Commission for Relief of Russia.

BY HERBERT BAYARD SWOPE

(Copyright by the New York World. Published by Arrangement.) PARIS, April 6.—(Special wireless).—With the definite rejection of Marshal Foch's plan to make the fight against bolshevism a military operation, the council of four has under consideration a plan that shows surface indications of eventual adoption. It is the outcome of a detailed suggestion made by Herbert C. Hoover and has won the favor of the American and British missions and the qualified assent of the Italians and French.

CRISIS REACHED AT PARIS

American participation was brought to an early close if the delays over dealt to be treated as was Belgium, and that a commission for Russian relief is to be organized under the auspices of some northern neutral, such as Denmark, which will assume the responsibility of importing and distributing foodstuffs and raw materials that shall feed and provide work for the millions now starving and idle in Russia. These supplies are not to be given as charity but are to be paid for by the Russians themselves, who under the plan will assume the responsibility of the bolshevik government except in so far as it may be necessary to treat with the ruling forces, which will be equally true of those other governments now contending for supremacy in the empire. Lenin has given definite assurance that his party does not contemplate aggressive action and has sent word to Paris that he will carry out this promise by ceasing hostilities on condition that the forces now operating against him be withdrawn. This may be done at least to the extent of declining to supply such bodies with ammunition and material for which they have been asking. It can be said that there has been partial assent to the plan in principle and it is being reduced to a working formula for final approval. The need of such a plan became manifest at the meeting when Marshal Foch sprang his suggestion upon the Big Four. He took two hours to make his exposition, which was conceived without the knowledge of his military associates, namely, General Bliss, Sir Henry Wilson and General Diaz. These three were summoned to Premier Clemenceau's office, where the meeting was held, and asked to give their opinions. Because of lack of time to give a thorough examination they could not acquiesce in the theory that bolshevism should be fought by military measures. In the opinion of the British and American advisers such an undertaking would commit the world to a ten-year war and none was ready to take the responsibility.

Huns Denied Foreign Credit. Germany's ability to continue paying for the food shipments made under the Brussels agreement, it is learned, cannot be determined before April 15, when the German government expects to have a report on the surrender to the government of German-owned foreign securities which is in progress. The export of raw materials from Germany, which also will play a part in the payment for food, is in progress across the German frontier to adjacent neutrals, but because of the disturbed industrial conditions the amount is rather disappointing. The German delegates at Senlis persist in their requests that Germany be given foreign credit to be used in purchasing food. There has been no change, however, in the disposition of the allies to insist on payment in cash, securities and exports.

Premier Paderewski of Poland had long conferences this morning with Premier Clemenceau and Foreign Minister Pichon. Among the peace conference commissions holding meetings today was that on Polish affairs.
