WALLA WALLA READY FOR TRACTOR CROWD

Rooms Listed and Entertainment Is Planned.

L. F. HART WILL SPEAK

Provisions to Feed and Transport Thousands of Visitors This Week Are Completed.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., April 20.—(Special.)—Facing the necessity of entertaining the biggest crowd in its history during the Walla Walla tractor demonstration April 22, 24 and 25, citizens have gone about overcoming the difficulty on a huge scale.

The main problem has been the housing and feeding and these matters are being solved through the cooperation of the citizens. A house-to-house canvass has been made to list every available room; various organizations have announced that they will serve meals in buildings throughout the city; automobile owners have been enlisted in a move to run courtesy autos to take the visitors about the city and to the showgrounds, and every citizen has been made a member of the reception committee and will wear a tag on his coat lapel announcing in letters which may be read for many feet that "I live here; ask me."

The spring or Blue mountain music festival has been prepared for tractor week; the sophomore class of Whitman college has hurried rehearsals of its annual play and it will be presented twice during the nights of the show, and every theater has secured special attractions.

Machines to Attract Women.

Though the tractor show itself is primarily for men the farmers' wives have not been overlooked. It is believed that the machines designed especially to lighten the labor of women on the farms will attract about as much attention as the horse-replacing machines. Washing and sewing machines, vacuum cleaners, bread mixers, churns and silver polishers will be demonstrated.

The tractor tests will be made on a 600-acre farm close to the city. A macadam connects it with the paved streets of Walla Walla and this macadam has been put in shape to stand the heavy travel. Tractors will be unloaded from cars run onto the Mill creek branch of the O.-W. R. & N. and will be driven over the hills to the Yenney farm, leaving the macadam road free for autos and other vehicles.

The farm has been surveyed and contoured. All varieties of grades are to be found on the farm and there is ample level ground for hundreds of tractors to operate if necessary. There will be hill-climbing tests, endurance tests, fuel tests and many other kinds to bring out the strong and weak points of the machines. The system of scoring worked out by the experts at Washington State college last year will be used.

The high school and Y. W. C. A. girls will serve box lunches at the showgrounds, while various church and patriotic organizations will serve meals during the day, and these, with the restaurants, will take care of the feeding problem at noon and night.

The Y. W. C. A. is having its new home, the old Palace hotel, repaired, painted and papered and otherwise fitted up so the building will be available for tractor-show visitors. The fraternities at Whitman college will open their doors to visitors, as will other organizations about the city.

Acting Governor to Speak.

Acting Governor Louis F. Hart has agreed to attend the show and give a talk to the farmers. The show is being staged under the direction of the Pacific Northwest Tractor and Power association of Spokane and the Implement and Tractor association of Portland.

Mayor D. F. Powell of Walla Walla will give an address of welcome Wednesday morning, April 22, at 9:30 o'clock. This will be followed by private demonstrations of tractors, trucks and other power farm machinery. In the afternoon official demonstrations will be made of the round-wheel tractors and track-laying type of tractors.

The second morning of the show will be given over to demonstration and private instruction in application, care and upkeep of tractors, trucks and modern power farming equipment for the farm and the farm home by factory experts and farming engineers. Demonstrations will be made in the afternoon of round-wheel and track-laying types of tractors.

On Friday morning demonstrations will be made of the operation of motor trucks for farm work, hauling capacity loads on soft ground. Another feature will be belt power demonstrations of tractors and also private tractor instruction.

In the afternoon the official demonstration of round-wheel tractors will show plowing, discing, seeding and harrowing. Similar demonstrations will be made by the track-laying type of tractor.

CENTRALIA, Wash., April 20.—(Special.)—Fred Martin, a former Pe Ell boy, was killed in action October 2, 1918, according to official word just received from the war department. The soldier's grandfather, George N. Martin, resides at Dolphin, Wash. Fred went to France with company M, 161st infantry, but at the time of his death was in company M, 109th infantry.

POLICEMEN ARE RESOLUTE

UNION TO BE ORGANIZED REGARDLESS OF MAYOR.

City Executive's Disapproval Held to Be Due to Misunderstanding; Purposes Are Stated.

Policemen yesterday declared that Mayor Baker's opposition to their union doubtless was due to a misunderstanding of its objects and expressed determination to go ahead with the organization regardless of his disapproval. They say the mayor cannot discharge them except for infringement of the regulations adopted by popular vote for civil service regulations in 1913.

Declaring that the charter, which they have asked from the American Federation, prevents their joining in or supporting strikes, the patrolmen maintain that they have as much right to organize as have federal employes.

Policemen say they now work overtime without pay, and that sometimes a patrolman is in court so much that he has not sufficient time to sleep; that attendance in court frequently necessitates their buying meals in town and that they should either be paid for this extra work or given an equivalent amount of time off.

"A shipyard employe gets time-and-a-half for overtime," said one policeman yesterday. "Why should we have to work overtime for nothing? During the war policemen were employed without having passed the civil service examinations. It was necessary then, but why keep them under such conditions now?

"Our union aims at betterment of these conditions. We want to prevent the employment of men like ex-convicts and army deserters who got into trouble last winter and brought disgrace on the police bureau. We wish to maintain a high moral standard on the force."

WOMEN'S CLUB HAS ROOMS

Marshfield Organization Has Membership of About 50.

MARSHFIELD, Or., April 20.—(Special.)—The Marshfield Business Women's club is the first organization of women to establish clubrooms in this city. The organization was formed of young women and others who are self-supporting, and will have a membership of about 50. They have engaged a clubroom in the heart of the city, in the Bank of Southwestern Oregon building, and will maintain headquarters there. The purposes of the club are to assist members in securing equitable wages, sociability and perhaps uplift work. The club established a regular Saturday noon luncheon, at which times matters of interest are discussed and acted upon. Mrs. Nellie B. Scott is president, Ethel Josephson secretary and Jennie Hall treasurer.

TROOP TRAIN AWAITS AUTO

YAKIMA, Wash., April 20.—(Special.)—While a Northern Pacific train carrying troops of the 347th and 348th field artillery was at the Yakima station last night, two second lieutenants, busy eating apples and drinking cider, failed to notice the train leaving.

They sent a message to the conductor at Selah, and he agreed to wait for them at the next station north. They enlisted the sympathies of the owner of a sport roadster. The machine could seat only one besides the driver, but one youngster stretched himself on the running board and told the driver to "cut 'er loose." They caught the train.

MILITARY AREA PROTESTED

General Strike Passes From Trades Council to Irish Council.

LIMERICK, Ireland, April 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—The conduct of the general strike on Monday will pass from the Limerick trades council to the Irish trades union congress, whose headquarters will be moved from Dublin to Limerick. The congress is the executive authority of the labor movement in Ireland and its removal means united support for the Limerick strike.

A meeting of merchants, employers and strikers, summoned by Mayor O'Hara, was held yesterday afternoon to discuss the situation. A resolution was adopted protesting against the establishment of a military area, and demanding instant and unconditional withdrawal of the military cordon.

COAST DISTRICTS TO BOOST SHEEP RAISING

County Agents Will Act as Purchasing Agents.

POOLING PLAN IS DRAWN

Lewis County, Washington, Bids Fair to Make Wool Producing One of Its Principal Industries.

CHEHALIS, Wash., April 20.—(Special.)—The sheep industry, which already has attracted considerable attention in Lewis county, is likely to receive considerable of an impetus the coming few months as the result of an effort being put forth under the direction of Commissioner Benson of the department of agriculture of the state of Washington, W. A. Linklater of the western Washington experiment station and County Agent A. B. Nystrom of Lewis county.

Recently these gentlemen, accompanied by County Agent Floyd L. Rader of King county, held a meeting at which a well-defined plan was outlined for placing many additional sheep on western Washington farms, not only in Lewis, but in any other counties where farmers may wish to take an interest in the project.

Under the scheme as outlined it is believed that splendid coarse-wooled sheep, suitable for the foundations for flocks in western Washington can be purchased from owners on the sheep ranges east of the Cascades at prices ranging from $10 to $14 per head in the fall for high-class ewes ranging from one to three years of age. It has been figured that these animals can be delivered at west of the mountain points at an approximate outside additional cost of 75 cents a head. If sheep are sent to the island counties the cost will be slightly higher.

The plan for purchasing sheep contemplates that prospective buyers shall pool their orders and place them with the county farm agents of the various counties, or if there is no county agent, then some arrangement can be worked out with the county agent nearest to their shipping point. The arrangement is so that sheep suitable for western Washington may be selected with care, properly inspected as to health and otherwise, contracted for and later shipped with the cost kept at an absolute minimum. Commissioner of Agriculture Benson's department will cooperate with the men in charge of the work by having inspectors from his branch on hand to look after this part of the work.

September is figured as the best time for shipping the ewes into this section, following the weaning of their lambs. By purchasing ewes either two or three years of age that have had their first lambs much loss could be saved. Breeding rams, it is figured, can be secured at from $35 to $50 per head east of the mountains, the price depending on breeding and quality. Whoever sets out to buy the sheep must do so early in the season. To finance the project prospective buyers will be asked to sign an application blank for breeding sheep, in which the prospective sheep grower declares his intention to engage in the business of breeding and growing sheep and also pledges himself to make necessary financial arrangements to pay for the animals as they are later delivered.

The contract is for protection of the buyers as well as the agents who are working out the pooling plan and it is thought that many farmers in not only Lewis county but in other western Washington counties will take advantage of the chance to get a few head of good animals that will during the next few years make them big money.

A number of farmers in the country tributary to Chehalis have for years kept sheep with success. Passage by the last legislature of a strict law that will probably eliminate the sheep-killing dog will also prove a strong factor in encouraging the industry.

According to the best authority on the subject of wool prices there is to be a scarcity of wool during the next four or five years, if not a real shortage in the United States and with the high prices prevailing for mutton and other meats there is little doubt but that men who give the handling of sheep proper care will greatly profit.

Happy Mothers Prepare in Advance

A Wonderful Influence For Expectant Mothers.

Mothers for over half a century have used with the utmost regularity the time-honored preparation, Mother's Friend, before the arrival of baby. Here is a truly wonderful penetrating application for the abdomen and breasts. It softens and makes elastic the muscles, rendering them pliant to readily yield to nature's demand for expansion. By its use the anxious months of pregnancy are made comfortable. The usual wrenching strain, bearing-down and stretching pains are counteracted. The system is prepared for the coming event and the use of Mother's Friend brings restful nights and happy anticipation, for the nerves are not drawn upon with the usual strain.

By its regular application the muscles expand easily when baby arrives; the time is less at the crisis and naturally the pain and danger is less.

Mother's Friend is on sale at every drug-store. It is for external use only, is absolutely safe and is wonderfully effective.

Write the Bradfield Regulator Company, Dept. C, Lamar Building, Atlanta, Georgia, for their interesting Motherhood Book, free to users of Mother's Friend, and obtain a bottle of Mother's Friend from the druggists and begin this grateful treatment.
