COLORED WATER CAPTURED

120 BOTTLES LABELED WHISKY PUT MEN IN JAIL.

Auto Said to Have Been Loaded in Seattle, But Men Say Stuff Was "Found" in Chehalis.

"Aged in the Wood" stock took another drop in the cold, dark hours of early morning yesterday, when an automobile carrying George Goldberg and A. E. Lloyd on the front seat and 120 quarts of colored water in the rear of the tonneau was halted by Deputy Sheriffs Rexford, Wilson, Bailey and Lamont a mile from Linnton. The bottles were contained in cartons which bore the label "Royal Life, blended whisky, LeVergel company, San Francisco, CAL." Labels on the bottles read "P. S. R. Private Stock Reserve" or "Monogram" and were wrapped in green tissue. The corks were covered with a strip of green figure paper bearing the words "Aged in the Wood," made famous by the Baker Bros.

ICE WAGONS DON'T SUIT

Delivery Company Asks That New Firm Be Enjoined.

An injunction seeking to restrain Christ Ekness and John Jougles, partners in the American Ice Delivery company, from continuing in business so long as they keep up an alleged practice of trading upon the name of the Ice Delivery company, which has been in business for 12 years, is asked in the circuit court in an action filed yesterday by Attorneys Malarkey, Seabrook & Dibble. Jougles, one of the partners sued, was employed by the Ice Delivery company as salesman and driver in 1917, alleges the plaintiff, building up a large personal acquaintance among customers of the ice concern. On April 23, 1918, Jougles went into partnership with Ekness as the American Ice Delivery company. The plaintiff contends that the defendants have painted their wagons so as to resemble closely the wagons of the Ice Delivery company with "Ice Delivery Company" in smaller red letters, and "Ice Manufactured from Pure Bull Run Water" in large letters near the top. The only difference in appearance, even to style of lettering, it is alleged, is that the defendants' wagons have "American" in small red letters above "Ice" and have the rest of the wagon side painted blue instead of yellow.
