Track Meet Between Washington and Franklin High Schools to Be Cartain Raiser.

Portland's many track and field followers will be able to get a real line en the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club track squad for the first time this season tomorrow afternoon when Head Coach George Philbrook's cohorts will omp through a duar meet against the Oregon Agricultural college stellar combination of athletes on Multnomah field, starting at 2 P. M. A meet between Washington and Franklin bigh ols will serve as a relish to the big meet. The academic events will follow meet. The academic events will follow in order the big-time events. Coach Hargiss has one of the best track teams at O. A. C. that that institution has ever boasted of, and the team got away on the 1519 season with a flying start by taking high honors at the northwest open indoor meet at the Columbia university collsoum several weeks ago, edging out Multnomah club by four markers. The relay race decided the Columbia meet and with several more field added events in Saturday's meet the battle for supremacy may be even closer.

Grant Swan, the Oregon Aggie who wen the mile race at the Columbia meet may not have it so easy tomorrow. It could be plainly seen out at the coliseum that many of the M. A. A. C. men were not in near the best of shape and could not stand up at top speed throughout the grind races. Unless a guess is missed, things will be different this time. The Winged M distance men have been paying more attention to conditioning the past two weeks and have been taking advantage of every good day to get out on the Multnomah field oval and take some spins around the path. Halph Coleman, Vere Windnagle and "Mose" Payne will handle the 850 and mile and may also enter the 440.

The high-school students are warming up to the meet and promise to turk out en masse to the "twin" dual gathering. Dow Walker, superinfendent of Multnomah Amateur Athletic club, has made arrangements to admit all of the high-school students to the meet at half the price of the regular admission. In this way they may make the gate for 25 cents. The regular admission to all others will be 50 cents.

Pure and unaduiterated rain is the enly thing that will put a crimp in the meet. Of course, if old Jupe continues to tip his can of rain over the fair city he could do the meet a lot of dirt.
