Not even in the palmy days of 1915, when San Francisco was the mecca of tourist travel, have the railroads experienced such movement of passenger traffic in spring season as at the present time.

"It appears that the Pacific coast will experience the greatest tourist travel of its history this summer," said Mr. Estabrook.

There is much inquiry concerning resort hotels and reservations already made denote that there has come a realization of the exceptional attractions of the mountains, streams and forests of the western coast and of the matchless beaches that extend along the Pacific.

"Dining car service on all of the lines west of Chicago has returned to the la carte system. On the whole it seems to me the table d'hotel service was good and its introduction a splendid thing."

There was often heard the suggestion that it would be better and it gave excellent value to travelers, but it demonstrated that a majority of people prefer to select what they want and did not relish the necessity of choosing between a limited variety of orders.

It is still in effect on lines east of Chicago and those making transcontinental trips have the chance to try both kinds of service when they travel.

Trains Loaded to Capacity. "Our overland trains are loaded to capacity every day as they come from the east—a condition that has never been had before at this season of the year."

Winter tourists are returning homeward, but their places are being taken by new arrivals and, to judge by the number of passengers arriving every day it might be considered the beginning of the tourist season.

It appears to me it is the beginning of a summer season of tourists to rival the winter travel. Thousands of people are becoming acquainted with the Pacific coast states and a great many who came last year were so well pleased with what they found that they are returning again to spend their vacation period this year.

CONDITION FINE, STATES FARMER. "Tanlac Is First Medicine I've Seen That Does What They Say It Will Do," He Says.

"I have been trying for ten long years to find something that would overcome my troubles, but my efforts failed completely until I got hold of Tanlac," said George M. Sealy, a well-known farmer who lives on R. F. D. No. 2, Linnton, Oregon.

While talking to a Tanlac representative in Portland the other day:

"When I commenced taking Tanlac," continued Mr. Sealy, "I don't believe I could have lifted as much as five pounds if my life had depended upon it. My kidneys have given me a great deal of trouble for about ten years, but this condition has been very much worse for the last three or four years."

"I had such awful pains in my back at times that if I was sitting down I was scarcely able to get up again, and was hardly able to turn over in bed. Sometimes these pains would get around to my sides and cause me all sorts of suffering. I was badly constipated all the time, too, and very often had raging headaches, and sometimes I would get so dizzy that I would actually fall if there was nothing handy for me to grab hold of."

"I had had a very good appetite, but in had condition and, while my appetite was very poor, what little I did eat would sour and cause gas to form and I would be perfectly miserable for hours afterwards. I was in this condition so long that it pulled me down to almost nothing, and I was weak and run down that I was hardly able to do any work at all."

"I had been reading about Tanlac, and had heard so many people talking about the good Tanlac had done for them that I decided to give it a trial, although, to tell the truth, I was about disgusted with medicine of any kind. I will frankly say, however, that Tanlac is the best medicine I ever got my hands on, and has done more for me than all the rest of the medicines and treatments I have taken in ten years put together. And I will also state that it is the only medicine I ever saw that does just what they say it will do."

"Why, I feel as well as I did when I was a young man in my 'teens,' and that is saying a good deal for a man sixty years old, but it is a fact just the same. My kidneys seem to be in perfect condition, and I never have those terrible pains in my back, and sleep like a log over night. My stomach is in first-class condition, too, and I eat just anything that is put before me at meal time, and I never have any bad after effects from it. I have gained ten pounds in weight, and am as well as I could expect to be in my life. Tanlac is a great medicine and I am glad of the opportunity to recommend it to others."

Tanlac is sold in Portland by the Owl Drug Co.—Adv.

The Invisible Conflict. From the moment of birth—before—until the hour of death, there is going on within the body a constant conflict, unseen and usually unfeared, between forces that seek to defend, and others that strive to destroy.
