Two Distilleries Discovered.—Deputy Sheriff Harry Bentley yesterday confiscated two complete whisky distilleries at 915 Prescott street, following the arrest of Joe Sagala, who is said to have served time for bootlegging. The authorities found the address of the stills among Sagala's effects, although they have no evidence connecting him with the operation of the plant. Deputies say the two stills are capable of producing six or seven gallons of corn whisky daily, and that they found a variety of contraband articles, including an odor of which neighbors complained, giving an additional clue. Investigation as to who owns the place and who had it rented will be completed today. Another still was located at 1005 Fifty-eighth avenue southeast. In both cases the moonshiners had deserted the plant before the officers arrived.

WOMAN JUMPS 30 FEET FROM WINDOW

Mrs. Joe Papolo Picked Up for Dead by Passerby.

WIFE ILL, SAYS HUSBAND

Woman Refuses to Admit Physician Called to Attend Her; Injuries Are Believed Serious.

Mrs. Joe Papolo, 35, jumped 30 feet from the window of her home, 647 1/2 First street, yesterday, and injured herself so severely that passers-by picked her up for dead, and had taken her half way to the morgue before she recovered consciousness. She is in St. Vincent's hospital.

The case first came to the attention of the authorities when an autoist hailed Patrolman Trout at Second and Montgomery streets, informed the policeman that he was taking the body of a dead woman to the morgue. The policeman, on hearing that the autoist had picked the body up in the street, ordered the man to drive to police headquarters instead.

Before they reached the police station Mrs. Papolo had recovered consciousness. Her husband arrived at headquarters a few minutes later and explained the case.

Mr. Papolo said his wife had been sick for some days, and that yesterday when he went out to call her physician she was dead, and he had taken her half way to the morgue before she recovered consciousness. She is in St. Vincent's hospital.

Meantime the autoist, whose name the authorities did not learn, drove by and saw her lying in the street. As no one else was in sight, he decided that she was dead, and, loading the body into his machine, started for the morgue.

Intense at St. Vincent's hospital says Mrs. Papolo has a fractured thigh, injuries to her kneecap and probably a broken nose. It is believed that she jumped from the window while delirious or hysterical.

dieters and sailors of Linn county, the Pioneer association will stage an old-time barbecue this year, a roast beef feast such as the pioneers used to prepare "back in the states." The last day of the three days' picnic and reunion will be especially dedicated to Uncle Sam's children, marines, soldiers and sailors, and the veterans of other days and other wars will hobnob over the feast with the boys of Ypres, Verdun and Chateau Thierry.

Plans are being made so that 9999 to 10,000 people may be fed at the barbecue. At a meeting of the Linn county Brownsville business body, entertained the directors and officers of the Pioneer association at luncheon, and ways and means were devised for the raising of funds to finance the barbecue. According to barbecue experts it will require several hundred head of cattle to put the thing through. It is probable that the county will be divided up into districts and canvassed for funds.

PLANTING TIME HAS COME

EVERYTHING FAVORABLE NOW FOR VICTORY GARDENERS.

Land, Plowmen and Seeds Available for All—What Are You Going to Do About It?

With the heavy spring rains mostly over, garden soil is now in prime condition for plowing and planting, and the duty of every home owner to add to America's store of food is of first and immediate importance, according to bulletins issued by the victory garden drive organization.

For the purpose of providing plowmen to aid in preparing garden plots, Ferdinand E. Reed, director of the local victory garden drive, has listed a number in every part of the city. Those who wish to engage plowmen may do so without delay, by calling Mr. Reed, at Main 2521, room 400, Oregonian building. The price has been standardized and will be $3 per lot, to be plowed eight inches deep and harrowed twice.

At victory garden headquarters, Director Reed also has a large amount of free garden seeds, forwarded for the Portland drive by members of the congressional delegation from Oregon. Packages of seeds, both flower and garden, will be given to all who call at room 400, Oregonian building.

There have also been listed for gardening purposes a number of Laurel-horned huts, 100x100 feet, which have been erected twice, of which are in fine condition. Application for these should be made without delay.

Ten thousand copies of the victory editions of "War Gardening" and "Home Canning and Drying," issued by the National War Garden commission, have
