Pacific Coast League Standings.

Table with 4 columns: Team, W, L, P.C., and other stats.

Yesterday's Results.

At Portland—Seattle 7, Portland 1. At Sacramento—Salt Lake 4, Sacramento 4.

BY HARRY M. GRATSON.

Southpaw Walter Mails let Portland down with three scattered hits yesterday, turning the Beavers back like a lot of sore-footed soldiers striding to the band.

Kenneth Penner pitched the first six innings for the Beavers and lost for the second time this week. He was as ineffectual as a pack of geese babbling at a vulture. Flye runs were scored off Ken on nine swats.

Mails Does Good Work.

Mails proved a thorn in the side of the locals all week. He got credit for last Tuesday's Seattle victory, although he was taken out in the eighth when the Mackmen commenced to fling him.

President James R. Brewster, a regular fellow and seven other stockholders of the Seattle club, accompanied by a party of friends, occupied a set of boxes and enjoyed the Rainiers' triumph immensely.

Walsh Stars at Third.

Walsh starred at third for Seattle, handling eight difficult assists perfectly. At times he went into Derrick's territory to head off what appeared to be base hits.

Jack Knight's error, Rader's sacrifice, Sligh's first and second registered the only Beaver hits in the third.

Gloomy Gus Gleichmann's home-run which cleared the right field barrier with yards to spare, was the count in the fourth. The northerners registered one run in both the eighth and ninth off young Mr. Crumpler.

Eddie Bogart was unconditionally released last night. Pitcher Tommy Lukanovic and Ray Crumpler were also abandoned like the waves left behind. The two young pitchers will be placed somewhere with the well-known club in the latter class.

Ernie Fallentine and Outfielder George Malsel will be awaiting the team's return to Seattle.

Members and officials of the re-organized Portland Kennel club are making plans for a one-day show the latter part of June or the first of July, which will be followed up by a big three or four-day dog show in the fall, at which the best dogs of the West will be entered for championship honors.

The 1919 show season will open in Seattle this Thursday, lasting through Friday and Saturday, and will be followed by a show in Vancouver, B. C., May 24 and 25. The Portland Kennel club was planning on staging a show on those dates, but when the American Kennel club, the governing body, awarded the dates to Vancouver, they had to give up the plan.

William T. O'Brien, one of Portland's foremost dog fanciers, will take two of his prize Boston terriers to the Seattle bench show this week, accompanied by Howard Farrell, secretary and treasurer of the Portland Kennel club, and a well known fancier, the two dogs Mr. O'Brien will enter in the Seattle show are Sis Punch and Gordon Spidder. Sis Punch is considered by the best Pacific coast champion. She was sired by champion Sunny Punch from dam Silvia. Gordon Spidder is a number of other dogs and in a short time will have a kennel equal to any in the country.

All receipts derived from the one day show to be staged by the Portland Kennel club in the near future will be turned over to some charitable institution, according to Secretary Howard Farrell.

C. J. Kraft, prominent Salt Lake fancier, will bring a string of his best point winners to the first show staged by the Portland Kennel club.
