British Share in Cost of Production of English Housing More Than Million Dollars.

WASHINGTON, May 15—A complete settlement of war claims by Great Britain to the United States, following the Japanese precedent, was consummated here today. The agreement provides for an immediate payment to the United States of $35,000,000 as a settlement of all claims resulting from the World War. This is in addition to previous payments totaling $40,000,000. The agreement was signed by Secretary of State Kellogg and Mr. Joseph A. M. Wadsworth, the British minister.

The settlement is regarded as an important precedent for the settlement of war claims by nations which at the outbreak of the war were enemies. It is expected to reduce considerably the claims placed on Great Britain by the United States, and it is likely to provide a basis for similar settlements with other nations.

The agreement was concluded after several weeks of negotiation between the American and British representatives.
