

CARD COMPLETE FOR NEXT BOXING SHOW

Matchmaker George Henry Announces Programme.

TWO WARM EVENTS LISTED

Returning 18th Engineers Bring at Least One Boxer Back to Portland's Fight Circles.

George Henry, matchmaker of the Portland boxing commission, announced his complete card of six bouts for the next show of the commission at the Regis theater on May 21, last night. The six bouts that he has lined up for the coming week's "bill of fare" are Billy Mascott vs. Danny Edwards; Johnny Schauer, St. Paul, vs. Stanley Willie; Johnny Conde vs. Danny Frush; Billy Emke, St. Paul, vs. Tom Williams; Niel Zimmerman vs. Tod Hoke, and Billy Ryan vs. George Franklin.

Johnny Conde and Tom Williams will be newcomers in Portland fight circles. Conde hails from Oakland. He has fought a number of good boys, and Henry figures him to give Frush a battle.

Williams is a former Olympic club boxer of San Francisco and is said to wield a wicked mitt. In training Billy Emke, Williams will have plenty to keep him busy in his debut.

Danny Edwards and Billy Mascott will divide the main event honors with Johnny Schauer and Stanley Willie. Edwards and Mascott met here last year, putting up a good scrap. Both boys are going in much better style now and a good bout is expected.

Johnny Schauer has made good with the Portland fight fans and will try to score a win over Willie.

Both of the first two bouts on the programme loom as real battles. Zimmerman and Hoke are both sluggers, while Ryan and Franklin are not noted for any great boxing ability but have demonstrated a knack of getting in and battling.

Herman Politz, well-known Portland sportsman and business man, returned yesterday from a month's sojourn of business and pleasure in New York. Politz occupied a ringside seat at the Benny Leonard-Willie Ritchie bout and was the following to say about the fight: "Ritchie put up a great bout for a man having been out of the game so long, but did not have a chance with the champion. His best round was the third, when he rocked Leonard with a punch to the jaw. Willie came near leaving the show under him in the second round, but rallied. The referee stopped the bout in the eighth, Leonard winning fairly enough on a technical knockout."

Mike Gibbons will box "Knockout" Brown in Memphis, Tenn., on Monday night. They will go to rounds or less.

Among the troops of the 18th engineers who arrived in Portland Tuesday was Carl Martin, well-known Oregon City boxer, who fought a number of battles at the old Ross City Athletic club. In his last bout before leaving for France Martin gave Weldon Wing a whale of a battle over at the Vancouver Barracks. Martin is in fine shape and has taken on a few pounds.

Another well-known boxer who came back with the 18th engineers was Frankie Huelat, former Multnomah club battler, who turned pro and met some of the best boys in the northwest. Frankie has never been any too strong for the mitt game and will likely devote all of his time to business.

FAR WEST MEET PLANNED

FRESNO PROBABLE PLACE AND SEPTEMBER THE MONTH.

Seattle Seeks Event, but Probability of Its Going to Northern City Said to Be Small.

Although nothing definite has been made known regarding the staging of the Far-Western track and field championships several Pacific coast cities are bidding actively for the big meet, which is the western classic of the year. The latest dope cards the 1919 Far-Western gathering for Fresno, Cal., in September. Seattle is making a strong bid for the event and while the northern city has not been officially turned down there seems to be little possibility that the athletes will so there to compete.

If the meet is held it will be the first time in four years, during the period of the war. The last meet was in Fresno and attracted quite a galaxy of star performers. All of California's leading colleges and athletic clubs have signified intention of entering their athletes and it is more than likely that Multnomah Amateur Athletic club will send a team as would other northwest institutions.

Three big meets are scheduled for the northwest this season. The first will be the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate conference meet in Seattle on May 31. The second will be the Pacific northwest championships in Portland on June 14, and the third, the Pacific Coast Amateur Athletic association championships, in Tacoma the first week in July. All three meets will be big affairs and large entry lists will predominate.

George Philbrook, coach of the Multnomah club team, is busy completing arrangements for the "O. A. meet and looks for a successful event."

LINN WANTS GAME FARM

SANTIAM FISH AND GAME ASSOCIATION HOLDS MEETING.

Denny Farm, Near Lebanon, Is Urged for Site—State Biologist Inspects It.

LEBANON, Or., May 14.—(Special.)—

A meeting of the Santiam Fish and Game Protective association in Lebanon last night was largely attended from all over the county. This association is composed of sportsmen from all over Linn county and that part of Marion county tributary to the North Santiam river, and its purpose is the protection and propagation of fish and game birds and other wild game.

One of the matters considered at last night's meeting was the establishment of a game farm in Linn county, and to that end a resolution presented by Senator Garland was unanimously adopted.

A committee consisting of L. G. Lewelling, president of the association, Senator E. D. Cusick, Dr. J. G. Gill and Senator S. M. Garland was appointed to meet with the fish and game commission at its next meeting to present this matter of the game farm to it for its consideration, and the Denny farm as the ideal location for same.

State Biologist W. Le Finley, present at the meeting last night, this morning went out and looked over the proposed tract.

The next meeting of the association will be held at Harrisburg on Monday, June 3. The association now has a membership of about 500 and it is the purpose to increase this to 1000.

HOW TO PLAY GOLF

"HE who can putt is a match for anybody," is a saying attributed to Willie Park, winner of two open championships, and J. H. Taylor, the first champion of the succeeding generation, capped it with the observation that the man who can approach does not need to putt. The sentiment of the rubber-core age can best be summed up by adding that it is the man who can drive who gets the chance to approach. In these days of the pride of every one of the great courses is its two-shot holes, the holes which can only be reached by an average player with a drive and a brassie. At these holes it is only the man who can drive far enough to be able to take some sort of iron for his second who has the opportunity of judging his approach with the accuracy needed to make a four certain and a three barely possible.

And at the long holes, where it requires two of the very best to get up, even 10 yards farther on each stroke will make all the difference between being on the green and having to try and lay a chip-shot dead with the odd. It is still true that the game is won and lost on the putting-green, but you have first of all to get there, and in a hundred ways the long driver has the advantage, but the least of them is the moral effect upon an opponent of being constantly outdriven.

Young Men Back From Service Will Want All the Style They Can Get

YOUNG men have done the big things. They have been face to face with stern reality. They are surer of themselves than ever before.

Before-the-war Models are Passé

Allofwhich, translated to Clothes, means that old standards will not do. Why, the very physique of Young America has been changed by the war. The old "models" are passé.

The HOUSE OF KUPPENHEIMER through its vast experience in service uniforms had a chance to study the changes at first-hand. New models have been created to meet the new conditions.

And styles, too. For Spring you will find bold, virile lines; expressing a feeling of confidence, of "get there" without being noisy or flashy.

There's just one thing old about the HOUSE OF KUPPENHEIMER and that's the fundamental policy of the business:

To set a price based on the cost of material and labor with a small profit on an enormous turnover; and to see to it that the right kind of fabrics and the right kind of tailoring go into every garment.

Value Through Volume

That Young America appreciates this fair dealing is shown by the fact that the business of this house has doubled in the last four years.

So, both in style and value, your Kuppenheimer dealer is waiting to serve you—to express for you in clothes the feeling of hope and the strength of youth that is in you.
